Swainson Faces Another Long Day Of Waiting

By GEORGE E. CAMPBELL
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Another tense day of waiting faced state Supreme Court Justice John B. Swainson today as the jury deciding his fate in a bribery-conspiracy-perjury trial resumed its deliberations.

The all-white jury of five men and seven women opened deliberations Friday, spending a total of about 10 hours in private talks. They began at 8:30 a.m., 30 minutes earlier than requested by visiting U.S. District Court Judge Carl T. Rubin of Cincinnati.

The jury broke away from routine deliberations once during the day, asking the court to replay three tape recordings made by FBI investigators. The tapes had been played earlier in the trial, which enters its eleventh day today. Jurors spent about 50 minutes sequestered in the locked courtroom listening to the tapes before returning to the jury room.

"You've spent about 12 hours deliberating (including breaks for meals)," Judge Rubin told the jurors before dismissing them for the night. "I think that's an adequate service for today."

The jury met for three hours in the morning, returned for a 5½-hour session in the afternoon and then added 90 minutes in the evening. Some observers speculated the return after the dinner break signaled a decision was near, but those beliefs proved to be unfounded.

Swainson, a former governor and state senator, joined spectators and attorneys during the tiring day of waiting, pacing up and down the 200-foot stone corridor in front of the seventh floor courtroom in Detroit's federal building.

Although Swainson appeared tense when he left the courtroom after the jury re-heard the tapes, he was often jovial as the opening day of deliberations wore on, smoking and jesting with friends, defense attorney Konrad Kohl and reporters.

During the evening's deliberations, Swainson, who lost the lower parts of both legs during a land mine explosion in World War II, often stamped his heels against the floor while walking, as though to release an excess of nervous energy.

There was little speculation as to the significance of the jury's inability to reach a verdict during its first day of talks. Privately, some observers said they felt a second day of talks heralded possible good news for Swainson.

His attorney, Konrad Kohl, was less optimistic.

"The more cases you hear, the less you predict," he said flatly.

Charged along with Swainson is Harvey Wish, a former bail bondsman. The government contends Wish and Swainson conspired to get the high court to order a new trial for John J. Whalen, a convicted burglar with a long criminal record.

The tapes which were reheard Friday were believed to be key conversations recorded by the FBI, which equipped Whalen with a microphone. A source acquainted with the case said Judge Rubin overruled defense motions that the jury not be allowed to once again see FBI transcripts made from the tapes, which reportedly are inaudible in places.

Swainson faces three counts of perjury in connection with a pair of grand jury appearances and one count of conspiracy. Wish faces one count of conspiracy and another of using a telephone to discuss the alleged bribery scheme with a person in another state.

Judge Rubin earlier dismissed three charges against Swainson and two against Wish.

The 50-year-old Swainson, who took the stand in his own defense Thursday, denied he participated in any conspiracy or that he took a bribe. He also denied lying to the grand jury.

The prosecution is headed by special U.S. Atty. Robert Ozer, head of the Organized Crime Strike Force in Detroit. Ozer claimed Swainson lied to a grand jury "with the complete arrogance that comes with an exalted position."

The defense, meanwhile, called Whalen, the government's chief witness, "a liar, thief and criminal" who was trying his best to remain out of jail. Whalen testified he staged a series of heists to raise $30,000 that allegedly was to be used to bribe Swainson, with Wish as the middleman.

School Chiefs Say State Budget Cuts Penalize Education

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

NILES — Why should school districts trying to operate with financial integrity be forced into deficit situations to balance a state budget?

That question was foremost on the minds of six Berrien county school superintendents yesterday afternoon at a press conference held at the Niles Community Schools administration office.

The press conference was called by the superintendents to explain publicly just how Gov. William Milliken's proposed $47,450,000 budget cut for public education will affect their districts.

The school chiefs said the proposed state budget cuts for education would mean a combined loss of $427,120 for the six school districts.

On hand for the press conference were Superintendents William Fairman, Niles; Edward Ossmann, Brandywine; Jon Schuster, Berrien Springs; Richard Dougherty, Buchanan; William Schaeffer, Eau Claire; and Robert Tilmann, Galien.

Gov. Milliken has officially presented an executive order for budget reductions to House and Senate appropriations committees. The total order calls for a reduction of the state budget of $150 million, with public education's cut being $47,450,000.

The appropriations committees have 30 days to either accept or reject the governor's order. If the order is rejected, as expected, Milliken, following negotiations with the Democratic leadership, will submit an amended executive order.

The recommended education reductions for all districts are as follows:

1. An eight-tenths of one per cent reduction computed on the combined state basic membership aid and local property tax revenue, ($18,880,000).
2. Proration of adult education memberships, at 65 per cent of the guaranteed level of regular memberships, ($13,200,000).
3. A $500,000 reduction in special education added cost funding.
4. A 3.5 per cent reduction in municipal overburden.

HOMEMADE GAS PUMP: Two Benton Harbor brothers, ages 15 and 16, have been turned over to county juvenile authorities for allegedly using this homemade gas pump to siphon gas from cars. Benton township Patrolman Kim Fowler (shown with confiscated equipment) was off duty when he spotted two youths between cars at Lake Michigan college campus about 5:50 p.m. yesterday, police said. When youths drove off, Fowler followed them. He summoned help and two youths were stopped on Napier at Union by Fowler and two other township officers. Brothers were petitioned into juvenile court on charges of larceny from a motor vehicle and were remanded to their parents. (Staff photo)

State Businessmen Blast Workmen's Comp Hikes

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Dozens of employers said Friday more industry would leave Michigan and more jobs would be lost if the legislature approves labor-backed bills to increase drastically Workers' Compensation benefits.

About 300 persons, mostly businessmen, jammed an auditorium during a public hearing before a joint legislative labor committee considering several versions of a Workers' Compensation revision. Democratic labor representatives clearly were heavily outnumbered at the day-long hearing.

The businessmen staunchly opposed a bill supported by most Democrats in the legislature. Opponents of the Democratic bill say it would cost some $82 million more in its first year of operation than a separate and less-sweeping plan backed by Gov. William Milliken.

Some of the businessmen at the hearing, however, said they also oppose Milliken's plan, introduced Thursday by Senate Minority Leader Robert Davis, R-Gaylord.

Employers ranging from General Motors Corp. to a small aluminum foundry told the committee that benefits for Michigan's injured and disabled workers already are higher than in most states and make Michigan uncompetitive in attracting industry.

They warned if the legislature approves Democrat-sponsored, labor backed bills to increase benefits and coverage, more industry — and more tax dollars — will leave Michigan.

Labor representatives countered that current laws don't provide broad enough coverage

Troopers Consider Partial Shutdown At New Buffalo

NEW BUFFALO — The Michigan state police department may discontinue manning its office here on a 24-hour basis, department authorities have indicated.

Paul Hill, director of the state police department public relations, East Lansing, said the move is one of many alternatives being proposed in an effort to trim about $4 million from the department's $66.8 million fiscal 1975-76 budget.

The budget cut is part of Gov. Milliken's proposed $150 million cut in the state budget.

Hill said the department is dealing with a whole line of alternatives, including cutting back on 24-hour manning of certain state police offices throughout the state. Capt.

William Chandler, district commander at Paw Paw, said the New Buffalo post "...is rumored to be one of the posts involved."

Hill said such a move would mean that no troopers would be inside the post's office around the clock, but only for a period of 12 to 16 hours per day.

During the time the post is not manned, troopers stationed at New Buffalo would be in constant radio contact with the Benton Harbor post. People calling the New Buffalo post for assistance during this time would be automatically transferred to the Benton Harbor post, which would contact New Buffalo troopers via radio at their homes.

Hill said Col. George Halverson, department director, would be meeting with district commanders in November to review possible ways of cutting the state police budget.

"Right now we're taking an awful hard look at things," Hill said. "Every effort will be made to stay away from layoffs."

Besides a general tightening of the overall administration costs of operating the department, other possible alternatives would include not filling vacancies when troopers retire or leave the department; and doing away with on-the-road vehicle inspections, Hill said.

Capt. Chandler said to the best of his knowledge, the New Buffalo post is the only area post rumored as being one not to remain open 24 hours a day.

Detective Says He'd Go To USSR

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has admitted a Navy plane was on a top secret electronic spy mission when it was shot down during the height of the cold war.

Theodore Grevers of Grand Rapids, a private detective whose interest in the case helped trigger the Pentagon's announcement, said Friday he would be willing to travel to the Soviet Union on a United Nations supervised inspection team. Grevers said he would be willing to make the trip at "my own expense" to look for eight of the plane's crew members who he believes are still alive.

But Grevers said his main hope is that the Pentagon's admission will help bring about the release of the crewmen, who he says were imprisoned in the Soviet Union.

Navy officials said they have found no credible evidence that any of the crew escaped and were imprisoned in the Soviet Union.

Grevers insists there is "more than circumstantial evidence" that eight of the crewmen were captured and that they may still be alive.

"How can they deny it (that the Navy fliers are alive)?" Grevers demanded. "How do they know the crew is not alive? There is more evidence to indicate the men are there than not there."

He said John Noble and William Marchuk, once prisoners in Russian labor camps, talked to other prisoners who told them the Navy fliers were alive and being held nearby.

"A public admittance that these men were on an intelligence mission may be a prerequisite for their release," Grevers said. The detective said other Communist countries had freed American prisoners after the government admitted they had been on spying missions.

The plane with its 10-man crew disappeared on April 8, 1950, while on a flight from West Germany over the Baltic Sea. The Pentagon said an investigating board accepted Russia's official claim that a Soviet fighter shot down the four-engine PB-4Y Privateer aircraft.

Man, Woman Accused Of Beating Of Child

A New Buffalo man and woman were arraigned in Berrien Fifth District court yesterday on charges of child cruelty in connection with an alleged beating of the woman's four-year-old daughter.

Gilbert Rivera, 29, and Judy Winter, 20, both of 214 East Mechanic street, New Buffalo, were jailed under $2,500 bonds following arraignment before District Judge Ronald J. Taylor. Both demanded preliminary examinations.

According to the warrant, the alleged cruelty occurred against Wendy Winter, 4, Oct. 30 in the couple's home. The girl has been placed in a foster home.

In court, Rivera told Judge Taylor that he and the woman were living together.

Dale Siebenmark, New Buffalo police chief, said this morning that a warrant for the arrest of the couple was authorized after a New Buffalo-area physician reported treating the child. Siebenmark said the child was the victim of an apparent beating.

DAVID F. UPTON
Appointed By Governor

SJ Man On State Council

David F. Upton of St. Joseph has been appointed by Gov. William Milliken to a newly-formed Michigan Mental Health Advisory Council.

The 12-member Council is to help the state Mental Health department set policies and is required under the new Mental Health code.

Upton resides at 200 Ridgeway and operates the St. Joseph-based Southwestern Michigan Abstract and Title Co. The appointments were made Friday and announced from Lansing. Others named were:

Dr. Jack Stack of Alma; Thomas A. Tucker and Eloise Whitten, both of Detroit; David L. Neal, Dr. Dean Carron, and Lawrence Bishop, all of Ann Arbor; Dr. Brooker Masters, Fremont; John Jamrich, Marquette; Calhoun County Probate Judge Wendell L. Schoder, Battle Creek; and Dr. Laurence Bollinger, Midland. Gov. Milliken will make another appointment soon to fill the 12th seat, it was reported.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

It's A Modest Beginning In Political Huckstering

Shades of the Great Chicago Buddha! — Mayor Richard J. Daley, that is.

Or even of the biggest political huckster of them all, the late, great "Kingfish" — none other than Louisiana's Governor Huey Long himself.

The Benton Harbor superintendent of schools and the board of education are beginning to use taxpayers' property to advertise what the board and superintendent are "giving" to the public.

Oh, it's a modest start. But don't be surprised if some day soon the mighty Tiger on the front lawn at BHHS sprouts a "courtesy of Dick Helser" sign.

"With Compliments of Benton Harbor Area Schools Board of Education and Richard F. Helser Superintendent of Schools — Photo by James Caudill."

This newspaper previously published photos of pom pon girls from a dozen or more other high schools in Southwestern Michigan. The only difference was that this newspaper furnished the photographer — and it didn't cost the other school districts one red cent.

As it has in the past, this newspaper would have been glad to have furnished the same service to Benton Harbor schools — at no cost, as with the others.

But that's too simple. Because the Benton Harbor schools system now has to justify the $19,500 annual salary of the "public relations expert" it hired amidst boos last September — one James Caudill, the lensman who snapped the Tiger Pom Pon Girls.

At $19,500 a year — a salary this newspaper editorially described as excessive when Caudill, 25, was hired — the young man probably has more talents than pushing the button on a camera.

Who knows? Maybe his arts include painting, too.

He may soon become a familiar sight painting the name of the superintendent, or one board member and then another, on the Benton Harbor system's various school buildings.

Like "This high school courtesy of your board president, Bill Bentley" over the clock on the Colfax facade of BHHS.

Or "Compliments of Superintendent Richard Helser" on the score board of Filstrup Stadium, that beautiful football field donated by the family whose name it bears.

So what if that's a mite on the ironic side?

Plugging Up The Power Gap In Spain

Following ten days of trying to assess the probabilities of Francisco Franco recovering from a massive heart attack, further complicated by other organic disorders, the Spanish government has delegated his authority to Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, the dictator's designated successor in office.

The transfer is conditional. It is revocable should Franco recover.

It is permanent should he die or his medical team certify no hope of recovery.

The arrangement is identical to a temporary transfer of authority in July, 1974 when a phlebitis attack proved nearly fatal to the head of state.

Juan's friends report he accepted the present arrangement with considerable reluctance because of a feeling two years ago in being simply a figurehead. He consented upon representations from the officialdom that the transfer, temporary or permanent, is vital to Spain's interests.

The nature of the Spanish political situation is such as to put the entreaties on a more sincere plane than a political cabal in the U.S. calling upon a popular person to run for high office for "the party's sake."

Francisco has ruled the country through a mixed dictatorship embracing the military, the Catholic church hierarchy and a right wing political unit, the Falange, since he deposed the Spanish Republic by force in 1939.

He modeled the style of operation after Hitler and Mussolini whose military assistance was vital to defeating the Republican army by shifting one or more of his props to the side when anyone of them show signs of becoming dominant.

Presently, for example, the Falange is in something of a limbo as is a church-military council he appointed to move the political arm to the rear ranks.

The result of the chess game is to leave the nation without an effective leadership except as Franco's original alliance chooses to follow behind his nominee.

The decision at Madrid on Prince Juan's second ascension is a concession to the fact and the problems besetting the government.

In common with most western European countries, Spain is racked by an inflation much worse than plagues the U.S. The weapons to combat the affliction are limited because the nation is lacking in natural resources and labor is growing increasingly restive under Franco's vaguely drawn wage-price policy.

The turmoil in neighboring Portugal is unsettling and along the French border the Basques are renewing their demands for independence with increasing vigor.

While the call for a democratic system as Americans know it is not clarion strong at the moment, a ferment is brewing for more personal freedom than El Caudillo felt warranted.

Difficulties of that dimension can not be controlled by a committee which has had no experience in effective leadership, but if they are not met head on and in a timely manner the chaos in Portugal would quickly jump across the border.

Thus, Prince Juan whom Franco has tutored since boyhood becomes the logical person to turn to now that master's hand is slackening at the helm.

READER PRAISES YOUNG BUILDERS

Editor,

Today when so many young people feel in order to "hack it", they must do their own thing, it's been gratifying to watch a group of young men building a home in our neighborhood.

They are from the Coloma and Watervliet high school construction project and we can be proud of them as they daily put forth their best efforts and learn as they work under the guidance and direction of their contractor instructor.

Before school began the basement was dug and each day has found them pounding, sawing, assembling, scraping and observing as they learn the construction of a home, from the basement up. Since it's over tax dollars we have all taken an interest, and I want to say "thanks" for their careful language-use as they've worked. It's nice to know there are many youth who do respect an adult and a lady, and conduct themselves in such a manner. I understand the girls classes will plan the color schemes and the interior. Still another group will plan the landscaping. We are interested and will be happy to visit the "open house" time.

Good luck on your project and thanks for being gentlemen!
Mrs. Roy (Cora) Hearn

SPORTS FAN CLAIMS COVERAGE ONE-SIDED

Editor,

As a 20-year subscriber to your newspaper the sport people of this city are getting pretty well fed up on the coverage you give LMC all the time. Coach Rose tells of the big holes in the Watervliet line. If so, why didn't the great backs that we have had to believe all year, go through them? A poor excuse. LMC was beaten by a superior team, why doesn't your sports department admit it. It isn't only in football, it is in all sports.

Yours for a better coverage in the future.

New Buffalo — The last meeting of the New Buffalo village council was held Saturday night, Oct. 30 — a day before the village switched over to a city form of government. The village became a city today under a new charter approved by voters last month. Village President Albert Mayer closed the last council session by saying: "The village council of New Buffalo is adjourned forever."

Owners of buggies in St. Joseph are praying that Hallowe'en may come only on leap years in the future. Last night All Saints day was celebrated here as it never has been before and the principle sport of the crowds was the removal of buggies from the drivers barns. A brand new vehicle belonging to Barnes & Brown was backed into the St. Joseph river and probably ruined. Other carriages were taken from barns and left on front doorsteps of residences throughout the municipality.

Last evening, Hallowe'en, the Benton Harbor school authorities stole a long march on the bands of prowling students and when the latter appeared in the neighborhood of the various educational buildings with their scaling ladders and other significant apparatus they found the buildings all brilliantly lighted from basement to belfry and more janitors than they ever dreamed of before. The St. Joseph high school building did not escape the crowd.

Three Fired For Protest

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP) — Three women cafeteria employees at Palmer College have been fired for staying off the job in support of the National Organization of Women (NOW) strike Wednesday.

The "Alice Doesn't" strike was a one-day female-awakening effort in which women were encouraged to re-evaluate their roles and the kind of work they perform.

"I don't object to the goals of the day for women," said Harold Bobb, manager of the student union, who fired the women. "But it's the way they did it. They gave me no notice."

"If they had been male employees leaving without giving me notice, I'd have done the same thing."

The three, all members of the cafeteria kitchen staff, were Sue Morris, 21, Cathy Marchik, 20, and Laurie Powers, 24.

Cloak And Dagger Goes Electronic

WASHINGTON — It is said of one former Central Intelligence Agency operative involved in Watergate that if you asked him to find out for you what was printed on the front page of the New York Times on a given date, he would not go down to the newsstand and buy a copy.

Rather he would perch himself on the 12th story of a building — complete with disguise — and with a precision, high-powered camera and attachments, covertly photograph the first page of the paper being read by some man or woman in the park below.

One problem the CIA lives with is that it was founded, in part, from remnants of the World War II Office of Strategic Services. The OSS had a nucleus of professionals. It also attracted an unusually large number of men and women who developed their ideas of intelligence from TV spy stories and paperback thrillers.

Unfortunately, numbers of these dilettantes had high Ivy League connections and some influence with the members of the law firm of Wild Bill Donovan, the head of OSS. Intelligence was an exciting game.

The CIA has, over the years, slowly whittled down the number and influence of these holdovers, and their disciples in the next generation. Even today, the job is not complete.

Most of the illegal activities exposed in recent studies for which the CIA stands accused, are of little value — the esoteric poisons, the dart gun, the cloak and dagger spying. The payoff is not worth the cost.

The opening of mail, the shadowing of suspects, the listing of who attends what meetings and who parties with whom, the interviewing of neighbors — is normally a waste of time. The exception is when you have sufficient evidence to be virtually certain of guilt and know almost precisely what you are looking for.

Modern intelligence, whether by the CIA or the FBI is a highly technical profession, similar to advanced scientific research.

Some 90 per cent of usable information comes from open, unclassified sources.

By and large, spies are a vanishing breed in the American system of intelligence. The Russians, the Chinese, the North Koreans and other secretive societies still depend heavily on spies. The British have a sophisticated system.

But Americans now tend to concentrate their efforts on satellites, on complicated computer analysis of coded wireless messages picked up by sensitive listening devices and analysis by specialists of technical, scientific, commercial and other publications, from which piece-by-piece and item-by-item the capability and organization of the military and political forces of a potential enemy can be calculated.

The discovery and conviction — or eviction — of spies is a more complicated business. But again, this is accomplished in large part by what might be called sophisticated bookkeeping. All spies make mistakes. All leave traces. Irregularities form patterns. Sweeping surveillance boggles the mind in cost and is usually self defeating in that it warns the suspects. The objective of modern intelligence is to spot the irregularities, investigate them in depth.

There has been a tendency to gather so much marginal information it has been impossible to sort the wheat from the chaff. The file drawers of our intelligence agencies are filled with material which no one has time to look at.

Experts Debunk Guernica Myth

It has taken more than 38 years for the final verdict to come in on the bombing of the town of Guernica during the Spanish Civil War. But two of the world's leading authorities on the history of that war have now quietly conceded that Guernica, the symbol that shook the world, was a fraudulent myth.

Philip Knightley recently published a book entitled "The First Casualty," the point of which is that in war the first casualty is truth. In it he traces the genesis of the Guernica story, the evidence pro and con, and concludes with the "state of the question" — i.e., is the story true?

I myself have not exactly been a bystander on the Guernica issue. Several years ago I published an article entitled "The Great Guernica Fraud," in which I examined the evidence then available on the subject. I concluded that the Guernica story was almost certainly a fabrication, and that it had been brilliantly manipulated by the international Left as part of its psywar campaign over Spain.

The Guernica myth, enshrined in song, story, and Picasso mural holds that on April 26-27, 1937, German planes terror-bombed the defenseless Basque town of Guernica, which had no military importance, as a deliberate exercise in psychological warfare. This view gained international acceptance. Indeed, it still conditions feeling as regards the Civil War in Spain.

Almost 40 years and mountains of evidence later, what is the state of the Guernica question? Philip Knightley asked Hugh Thomas, the British historian, and Herbert Southworth, formerly Regents Professor of History at the University of California, and a specialist on Guernica.

Interestingly enough, Thomas has changed his mind since his 1959 book on the war. Then he had written that "it is difficult not to conclude that the Germans deliberately bombed the town in an attempt to destroy it, observe in a clinical way the effects of such a devastating attack," etc. But as the scholarly controversy has gone on, Thomas has altered his view. He replied to Knightley's inquiry that "I continue to believe that the town was bombed by the Germans," though "probably not as a shock attack on a specially prized city, but as one on a town where the Republican - Basque forces could regroup."

Herbert Southworth agrees that the bombing was a military and not a terrorist attack. "It was a highly successful military operation which had the advantage of the right wind and the right time to spread the flames. Why was it done? This is more speculative. There is nothing to show that the Germans wanted to test civilian morale. German documents tend to show that it was a tactical operation."

Here is Philip Knightley's conclusion: "So Steer's original accusations, the birth of the legend of Guernica — that the town was not a military objective and that the purpose of the bombing was the demoralization of the civil population — now stand contradicted. . . On all the evidence available, Guernica was bombed for tactical military reasons. . . If Steer had not been there to write about it, Guernica would have passed unnoticed, just another incident in a brutal civil war." Of course Steer's version achieved enormous resonance through the megaphone of the international Left.

Youths Host Halloween Party

POLICE, FIRE PROTECTION

Benton Will Vote On Six Mills

Benton township voters will ballot Tuesday, Nov. 4, on renewal of property tax levies totaling 6 mills for police and fire protection. Mrs. Cathryn Sirk, township clerk, said the 6 mills raise about $690,000 annually which is divided evenly between police and fire departments.

If approved the total levies of 6 mills will run through 1980. There are no other issues on the ballot. "This is not a tax increase," said Mrs. Sirk. "It is to continue the current tax rate for police and fire protection."

Township voters in 1971 approved 1.5 mills for fire protection and 1.5 mills for police protection, a total of 3. This tax expires at the end of this year. In 1972, voters approved identical taxes totaling 3 mills and running through 1976.

The single issue on Tuesday's ballot consolidates all of the taxes that now total six mills. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. at to 8 p.m. at 10 polling places, all school buildings:

Boynnton, Hull, Fairplain East, Lafayette, Martindale, Pearl, Sorter, Johnson, Fairplain Northeast and North Shore. Taxes levied for township use total 7 mills, included the 6 extra voted and 1 mill received in allocation.

WHAT A "MOTOR HOME": Motorists traveling along Napier avenue yesterday afternoon were confronted by home being moved from St. Joseph city to Watervliet township. Two-bedroom home, 46 by 36 feet, is owned by Tom Wagon of Watervliet township. Formerly located at 2804 Veronica drive, home currently is at Berrien county road commission's parking lot in Benton township, due to flat tires on moving trailer incurred during trip, according to Mrs. Wagon.

Home eventually will continue its journey to Dan Smith road site in Watervliet township. Yesterday's trip to road commission parking lot, slightly over six miles, took 3½ hours, Mrs. Wagon said. Lavon Parrigin of Coloma was hired to move home. Man in foreground directs driver at intersection of Napier and Langley avenues in St. Joseph, while man on roof lifts overhead wires. Compromise Expected Soon In Niles Sewerage Dispute

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Attorneys involved in a Berrien Circuit court case challenging a proposed sewage collection system for Niles township yesterday indicated a compromise agreement may be reached soon.

Legal counsel for the state, county, township, and plaintiffs in the suit told Judge Chester J. Byrns there was a possibility an agreement may be reached in which certain sections of the township where some of the plaintiffs reside would be deleted from a special assessment district. If that compromise is reached, the plaintiffs would dismiss their suit which seeks an injunction to halt sale of bonds, contract letting, and construction of the proposed $12 million sewerage system.

But Assistant Atty. General Stewart Freeman, representing state in the case, noted yesterday that if the present project fails, the state will begin its own action to force construction of a collection system.

The state would not exempt any of the areas now proposed for exemption under the compromise agreement, he said.

The original suit in circuit court was a class-action suit filed by 16 Niles township residents, but the class-action part has now been dropped and some 200 plaintiffs, all residents of the township, are acting on their own behalf.

The plaintiffs in the suit are scheduled to meet Sunday afternoon with their attorney, Lester Turner, of Lansing, to decide what course of action to take.

Yesterday's hearing in court was technically on three motions to dismiss the plaintiffs' suit—one motion each by the county, state, and township. But most of the day was spent in out-of-court negotiations between the attorneys.

Byrns said the plaintiffs are to give their decision on the matter to him by Nov. 5, and if no decision is reached by that date Byrns said he will rule on the dismissal motions Nov. 10.

The proposed collection system, which calls for sale of $4.8 million in bonds, is scheduled to begin in 1976 and be completed in about two years. A federal grant is to provide $7.5 million.

The township system is slated to be built in conjunction with a new sewerage system for the City of Niles, and the township will contract with the city for use of the sewerage disposal plant when both systems are completed.

The township stands to lose the federal grant if action is not taken soon, according to Robert Barnes, director of the county board of public works. He noted the BPW must award contracts before the end of December in order to comply with certain regulations.

While no formal action has yet been taken on the plaintiffs' request for an injunction, Judge Byrns noted that in effect there is now an injunction because the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission will not approve the issuance of bonds while the case is pending, and the bonds are needed for construction of the system.

LMC Police Graduates Honored

Joan Henderson, Decatur police department, and William Kronbitter, Benton Harbor police, received awards for overall excellence at Friday's graduation of 31 police officers from the basic law enforcement training program at Lake Michigan college.

Other top awards went to Richard Headley, Niles township police, scholarship, and Wayne G. Diffendorfer, Ontwa-Edwardsburg township, marksmanship.

MUSICAL TALKS

'Standoff' Delays Napier Widening

The widening of Napier avenue from Fairplain Plaza to I-94 has been delayed indefinitely by a continued standoff with the Penn Central railroad over construction of a new grade crossing.

No work has yet been done on the $1.5 million project and construction will not start until some time next year, according to Tom Webb, engineer-manager of the Berrien County Road commission.

The road commission originally indicated it wanted to begin the Napier widening by July 1 of this year with completion scheduled for next summer.

Webb said he is awaiting an order from the Michigan Public Service commission directing that a new grade crossing and signal system be constructed at the Penn Central tracks just west of Crystal Springs cemetery in Benton township.

Webb said he expects the order to be issued about Nov. 10, but that the road commission and Penn Central then would have to agree on the type of crossing to be constructed before contracts bids could be sought.

These negotiations could take several months, he said, and in any event construction would not be attempted during the winter.

"I just don't know when we'll start," Webb said. "We can't build the road and leave that bottleneck there."

The project calls for widening Napier from its present two lanes to five lanes over a 1½-mile stretch from Reeder street at Fairplain Plaza through the busy Pipestone intersection to the I-94 interchange.

A curve in the road where Napier crosses the railroad tracks will be modified, necessitating a new crossing and signal system.

Webb said the road commission would let the contract for construction of the new crossing and that the only work Penn Central would do would be installation of a new flasher-light system.

Both parts of the crossing project would be financed by federal funds, he said.

No Damage In Hall Park Leaf Fires

Separate leaf fires Friday in Hall park, Benton Harbor, burned over an area totaling 4,400 square feet, but caused no damage to structures, according to city firemen.

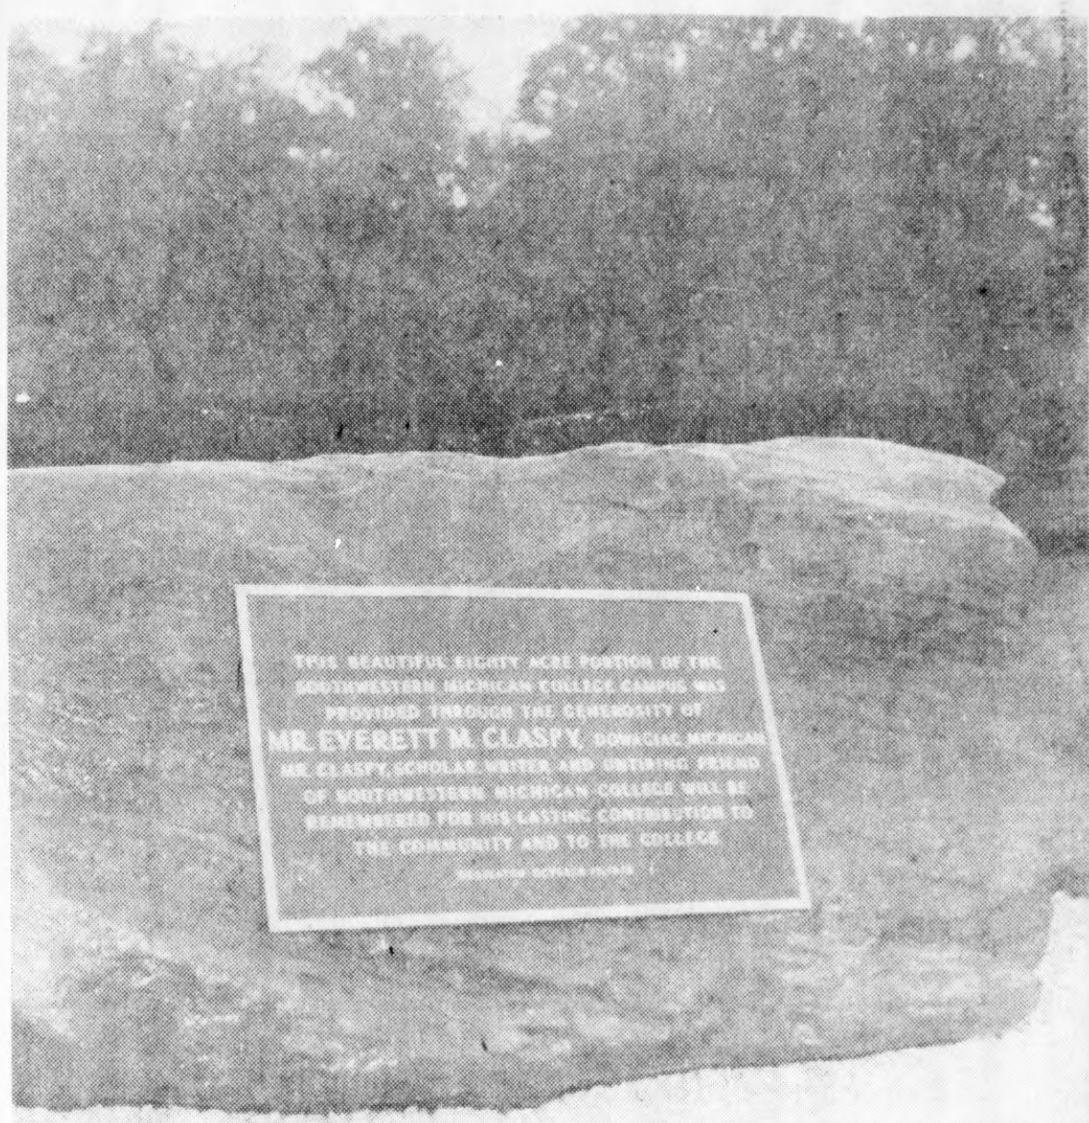

The first blaze about 2 p.m. covered 1,800 square feet in a ravine near East Vineyard, while the second at 11:57 p.m. covered 2,600 square feet in another ravine near East Britain, firemen said. Cause of the blazes is unknown, firemen reported.

Checks Missent

ROSEBURG, Ore. (AP) — The U.S. Postal Service got caught with its zip codes down.

Paychecks for 40 Roseburg mail carriers wound up in Farmington, N.M., this week because the Postal Service used the wrong zip code.

The mistake apparently was caused by a computer foul-up. The checks should arrive in Roseburg today, barring any further difficulties, the Postal Service said Friday.

Lawton Voters Will Rule On 1.5 Mills

LAWTON — Lawton school district voters will go to the polls here Monday to decide the fate of a proposed 1.5-mill property tax levy school officials have said is needed to maintain minimum education programs.

The millage vote will be the third this year. Two previous extra tax proposals have been defeated in prior elections.

The extra 1.5 mills would produce about $58,250 in local and state aid, with the bulk of that - about $34,166 - to be put in a payroll contingency fund; $4,395 for added transportation costs; $8,698 for added utility costs; and $10,000 for capital outlay, school officials said.

The school board in late August trimmed back educational programs and eliminated some staff positions after voters, for the second time, defeated extra tax millage proposals.

But school officials said the extra revenue from the proposed 1.5 mills is needed to finance the reduced program and to pay for a teaching staff reduced from 50 teachers last year to 41 this year.

If the millage fails, authorities said, the programs will be trimmed back even more.

Approval would boost the district's total tax levy to 32.11 mills, compared to 30.70 mills for the 1974-75 year.

The added revenue would raise the school's projected 1975-76 budget to about

$1,402,890, compared to the district's 1974-75 budget of $1,206,977 in actual expenditures.

Settlement of a contract with teachers has been delayed pending the outcome of the vote, school officials have said.

Teachers are currently working under last year's contract.

Niles Hospital Gets Nod For Nuclear Unit

LANSING — Pawating hospital in Niles has been given approval by the Michigan Department of Public Health to purchase equipment with which to establish a nuclear medicine department.

A health department spokesman said the device to be acquired is a rectilinear scanner, used in diagnostic work. The machine will cost $32,000, the spokesman said, and is to be installed by January.

The new service project was approved by the state health department's division of Health Facility Planning and Construction, the spokesman said.

Firemen's Leg Broken At Blaze

NEW BUFFALO — A Lakeside fireman sustained a broken leg while fighting a house fire north of here last night.

Listed in fair condition this morning at St. Anthony's hospital, Michigan City, Ind., was volunteer fireman Vernon Brown, 27, of Union Pier. Jack Gibson, Lakeside fire chief, said Brown sustained a compound fracture of his leg when a metal hose connector crashed into his leg.

Gibson said Lakeside firemen were assisting New Buffalo township firemen, who were fighting a blaze in a summer home. The house is located on Lakeshore road, near Townline road in New Buffalo township.

Reports on the fire were incomplete late this morning, but New Buffalo township firemen said the house was gutted by the 9:15 p.m. blaze. No one was at home when the fire broke out, firemen said.

Two Allegan 4-H'ers Win Trip To Chicago

JULIE DROZD

SCOTT EVANS

Two Allegan county teenagers who were named best in the state in their project areas will get a free trip to this year's National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 30 to Dec. 4.

Competing in the national contest will be Julie Ann Drozd, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Drozd, Allegan, and Scott Evans, 18, son of Martin J. Evans, South Haven.

Miss Drozd is Michigan's best 4-H'er in the clothing program and Evans is the top 4-H member in the leadership program. They are among some 30 Michigan young people who recently won first place honors in state-wide competition.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

It's A Modest Beginning In Political Huckstering

Shades of the Great Chicago Buddha! — Mayor Richard J. Daley, that is.

Or even of the biggest political huckster of them all, the late, great "Kingfish" — none other than Louisiana's Governor Huey Long himself.

The Benton Harbor superintendent of schools and the board of education are beginning to use taxpayers' property to advertise what the board and superintendent are "giving" to the public.

Oh, it's a modest start. But don't be surprised if some day soon the mighty Tiger on the front lawn at BHHS sprouts a "courtesy of Dick Helser" sign.

"With Compliments of Benton Harbor Area Schools Board of Education and Richard F. Helser Superintendent of Schools — Photo by James Caudill."

This newspaper previously published photos of pom pon girls from a dozen or more other high schools in Southwestern Michigan. The only difference was that this newspaper furnished the photographer — and it didn't cost the other school districts one red cent.

As it has in the past, this newspaper would have been glad to have furnished the same service to Benton Harbor schools — at no cost, as with the others.

But that's too simple. Because the Benton Harbor schools system now has to justify the $19,500 annual salary of the "public relations expert" it hired amidst boos last September — one James Caudill, the lensman who snapped the Tiger Pom Pon Girls.

At $19,500 a year — a salary this newspaper editorially described as excessive when Caudill, 25, was hired — the young man probably has more talents than pushing the button on a camera.

Who knows? Maybe his arts include painting, too.

He may soon become a familiar sight painting the name of the superintendent, or one board member and then another, on the Benton Harbor system's various school buildings.

Like "This high school courtesy of your board president, Bill Bentley" over the clock on the Colfax facade of BHHS.

Or "Compliments of Superintendent Richard Helser" on the score board of Filstrup Stadium, that beautiful football field donated by the family whose name it bears.

So what if that's a mite on the ironic side?

Plugging Up The Power Gap In Spain

Following ten days of trying to assess the probabilities of Francisco Franco recovering from a massive heart attack, further complicated by other organic disorders, the Spanish government has delegated his authority to Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, the dictator's designated successor in office.

The transfer is conditional. It is revocable should Franco recover.

It is permanent should he die or his medical team certify no hope of recovery.

The arrangement is identical to a temporary transfer of authority in July, 1974 when a phlebitis attack proved nearly fatal to the head of state.

Juan's friends report he accepted the present arrangement with considerable reluctance because of a feeling two years ago in being simply a figurehead. He consented upon representations from the officialdom that the transfer, temporary or permanent, is vital to Spain's interests.

The nature of the Spanish political situation is such as to put the entreaties on a more sincere plane than a political cabal in the U.S. calling upon a popular person to run for high office for "the party's sake."

Francisco has ruled the country through a mixed dictatorship embracing the military, the Catholic church hierarchy and a right wing political unit, the Falange, since he deposed the Spanish Republic by force in 1939.

He modeled the style of operation after Hitler and Mussolini whose military assistance was vital to defeating the Republican army by shifting one or more of his props to the side when anyone of them show signs of becoming dominant.

Presently, for example, the Falange is in something of a limbo as is a church-military council he appointed to move the political arm to the rear ranks.

The result of the chess game is to leave the nation without an effective leadership except as Franco's original alliance chooses to follow behind his nominee.

The decision at Madrid on Prince Juan's second ascension is a concession to the fact and the problems besetting the government.

In common with most western European countries, Spain is racked by an inflation much worse than plagues the U.S. The weapons to combat the affliction are limited because the nation is lacking in natural resources and labor is growing increasingly restive under Franco's vaguely drawn wage-price policy.

The turmoil in neighboring Portugal is unsettling and along the French border the Basques are renewing their demands for independence with increasing vigor.

While the call for a democratic system as Americans know it is not clamorous strong at the moment, a ferment is brewing for more personal freedom than El Caudillo felt warranted.

Difficulties of that dimension can not be controlled by a committee which has had no experience in effective leadership, but if they are not met head on and in a timely manner the chaos in Portugal would quickly jump across the border.

Thus, Prince Juan whom Franco has tutored since boyhood becomes the logical person to turn to now that master's land is slackening at the helm.

"Today when so many young people (and in order to "hack it", they must do their own thing, it's been gratifying to watch a group of young men building a home in our neighborhood.

They are from the Coloma and Watervliet high school construction project and we can be proud of them as they daily put forth their best efforts and learn as they work under the guidance and direction of their contractor instructor.

Before school began the basement was dug and each day has found them pounding, saving, assembling, scraping and observing as they learn the construction of a home, from the basement up. Since it's over tax dollars we have all taken an interest, and I want to say "thanks" for their careful language-use as they've worked. It's nice to know there are many youth who do respect an adult and a lady, and conduct themselves in such a manner.

I understand the girls classes will plan the color schemes and the interior. Still another group will plan the landscaping. We are interested and will be happy to visit the "open house" time.

Good luck on your project and thanks for being gentlemen!

SPORTS FAN CLAIMS COVERAGE ONE-SIDED

Editor,

As a 20-year subscriber to your newspaper the sport people of this city are getting pretty well fed up on the coverage you give LMC all the time. Coach Rose tells of the big holes in the Watervliet line. If so, why didn't the great backs that we have had to believe all year, go through them? A poor excuse. LMC was beaten by a superior team, why doesn't your sports department admit it. It isn't only in football, it is in all sports.

Yours for a better coverage in the future.

Do You REMEMBER?

— 10 Years Ago —

New Buffalo — The last meeting of the New Buffalo village council was held Saturday night, Oct. 30 — a day before the village switched over to a city form of government. The village became a city today under a new charter approved by voters last month. Village President Albert Mayer closed the last council session by saying: "The village council of New Buffalo is adjourned forever."

— 25 Years Ago —

Chamber of Commerce members today were on record as having voted down the merger proposal. The vote found 200 against and 187 for the proposal that aimed to replace the two separate Chambers in Benton Harbor and St. Joseph with one twin city agency.

— 50 Years Ago —

Herman Bodtke, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bodtke, is exhibiting a cow beet weighing eighteen and a half pounds, which he raised on his father's farm in Royalton. The beet is on display at the Ankli grocery store in St. Joseph.

Nineteenth Century club members were entertained Friday at the home of Mrs. Samuel Ritchie of Wisconsin avenue with a delightful program. Mrs. Florence Rossman was the assistant hostess.

In fancy costume and mask, forty-five young people of the First Methodist Sunday school of St. Joseph held a merry frolic Friday evening in celebration of Halloween. Chaperones were the teachers of the young people, Mrs. J.H. Freitag, Mrs. WILLIAM Rahn, Mrs. Charles Love, Mrs. Arthur Sweet, Miss Elva Wheeler and Attorney W.R. Stevens.

— 75 Years Ago —

Owners of buggies in St. Joseph are praying that Halloween may come only on leap years in the future. Last night All Saints day was celebrated here as it never has been before and the principle sport of the crowds was the removal of buggies from the drivers barns. A brand new vehicle belonging to Barnes & Brown was backed into the St. Joseph river and probably ruined. Other carriages were taken from barns and left on front doorsteps of residences throughout the municipality.

Last evening, Halloween, the Benton Harbor school authorities stole a long march on the hands of prowling students and when the latter appeared in the neighborhood of the various educational buildings with their scaling ladders and other significant apparatus they found the buildings all brilliantly lighted from basement to belfry and more janitors than they ever dreamed of before. The St. Joseph high school building did not escape the crowd.

Three Fired For Protest

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP) — Three women cafeteria employees at Palmer College have been fired for staying off the job in support of the National Organization of Women (NOW) strike Wednesday.

The "Alice Doesn't" strike was a one-day female-awareness effort in which women were encouraged to re-evaluate their roles and the kind of work they perform.

"I don't object to the goals of the day for women," said Harold Bobb, manager of the student union, who fired the women. "But it's the way they did it. They gave me no notice."

"If they had been male employees leaving without giving me notice, I'd have done the same thing."

The three, all members of the cafeteria kitchen staff, were Sue Morris, 21, Cathy Marchick, 20, and Laurie Powers, 24.

Cloak And Dagger Goes Electronic

WASHINGTON — It is said of one former Central Intelligence Agency operative involved in Watergate that if you asked him to find out for you what was printed on the front page of the New York Times on a given date, he would not go down to the newsstand and buy a copy.

Rather he would perch himself on the 12th story of a building — complete with disguise — and with a precision, high-powered camera and attachments, covertly photograph the first page of the paper being read by some man or woman in the park below.

One problem the CIA lives with is that it was founded, in part, from remnants of the World War II Office of Strategic Services. The OSS had a nucleus of professionals. It also attracted an unusually large number of men and women who developed their ideas of intelligence from TV spy stories and paperback thrillers.

Unfortunately, numbers of these dilettantes had high Ivy League connections and some influence with the members of the law firm of Wild Bill Donovan, the head of OSS. Intelligence was an exciting game.

The CIA has, over the years, slowly whittled down the number and influence of these holdovers, and their disciples in the next generation. Even today, the job is not simple.

Most of the illegal activities exposed in recent studies for which the CIA stands accused, are of little value — the esoteric poisons, the dart gun, the cloak and dagger spying. The payoff is not worth the cost.

The opening of mail, the shadowing of suspects, the listing of who attends what meetings and who parties with whom, the interviewing of neighbors — is normally a waste of time. The exception is when you have sufficient evidence to be virtually certain of guilt and know almost precisely what you are looking for.

Modern intelligence, whether by the CIA or the FBI is a highly technical profession, similar to advanced scientific research.

Some 90 per cent of usable information comes from open, unclassified sources.

By and large, spies are a vanishing breed in the American system of intelligence. The Russians, the Chinese, the North Koreans and other secretive societies still depend heavily on spies. The British have a sophisticated system.

But Americans now tend to concentrate their efforts on satellites, on complicated computer analysis of coded wireless messages picked up by sensitive listening devices and analysis by specialists of technical, scientific, commercial and other publications, from which piece-by-piece and item-by-item the capability and organization of the military and political forces of a potential enemy can be calculated.

The discovery and conviction — or evasion — of spies is a more complicated business. But again, this is accomplished in large part by what might be called sophisticated bookkeeping. All spies make mistakes. All leave traces. Irregularities form patterns. Sweeping surveillance boggles the mind in cost and is usually self defeating in that it warns the suspects. The objective of modern intelligence is to spot the irregularities, investigate them in depth.

There has been a tendency to gather so much marginal information it has been impossible to sort the wheat from the chaff. The file drawers of our intelligence agencies are filled with material which no one has time to look at.

Experts Debunk Guernica Myth

It has taken more than 38 years for the final verdict to come in on the bombing of the town of Guernica during the Spanish Civil War. But two of the world's leading authorities on the history of that war have now quietly conceded that Guernica, the symbol that shook the world, was a fraudulent myth.

Philip Knightley recently published a book entitled "The First Casualty," the point of which is that in war the first casualty is truth. In it he traces the genesis of the Guernica story, the evidence pro and con, and concludes with the "state of the question" — i.e., is the story true?

I myself have not exactly been a bystander on the Guernica issue. Several years ago I published an article entitled "The Great Guernica Fraud," in which I examined the evidence then available on the subject. I concluded that the Guernica story was almost certainly a fabrication, and that it had been brilliantly manipulated by the international Left as part of its psywar campaign over Spain.

The Guernica myth, enshrined in song, story, and Picasso mural holds that on April 26-27, 1937, German planes terror-bombed the defenseless Basque town of Guernica, which had no military importance, as a deliberate exercise in psychological warfare. This view gained international acceptance. Indeed, it still conditions feeling as regards the Civil War in Spain.

Almost 40 years and mountains of evidence later, what is the state of the Guernica question? Philip Knightley asked Hugh Thomas, the British historian, and Herbert Southworth, formerly Regents Professor of History at the University of California, and a specialist on Guernica.

Interestingly enough, Thomas has changed his mind since his 1969 book on the war. Then he had written that "it is difficult not to conclude that the Germans deliberately bombed the town in an attempt to destroy it, observe in a clinical way the effects of such a devastating attack," etc. But as the scholarly controversy has gone on, Thomas has altered his view. He replied in Knightley's inquiry that "I continue to believe that the town was bombed by the Germans," though "probably not as a shock attack on a specially prized city, but as one on a town where the Republican Basque forces could regroup."

Herbert Southworth agrees that the bombing was a military and not a terrorist attack. "It was a highly successful military operation which had the advantage of the right wind and the right time to spread the flames. Why was it done? This is more speculative. There is nothing to show that the Germans wanted to test civilian morale. German documents tend to show that it was a tactical operation."

Here is Philip Knightley's conclusion: "So Steer's original accusations, the birth of the legend of Guernica — that the town was not a military objective and that the purpose of the bombing was the demoralization of the civil population — now stand contradicted. . . On all the evidence available, Guernica was bombed for tactical military reasons. . . If Steer had not been there to write about it, Guernica would have passed unnoticed, just another incident in a brutal civil war." Of course, Steer's version achieved enormous resonance through the megaphone of the international Left.

Youths Host Halloween Party

NILES — Students at the Fairlane school for the mentally impaired were treated to a Halloween party here Friday by 17 youths from the Berrien county juvenile center.

The party included wearing of costumes and distribution of trick-or-treat bags of candy and popcorn prepared by the juvenile center youths with their own money.

CHARTER MEMBERS: Mrs. Milred Reese, left, and Mrs. Anna Melvin, are charter members of the Evergreen club which celebrated its 50th anniversary Oct. 29. The club was formed in 1925 to help with school and neighborhood needs. Mrs. Sadie Trim is also a charter member. (Mildred Alfred photo)

BLOOMINGDALE — Monthly membership dues of the Evergreen club have increased 250 per cent in its 50-year existence — from 10 cents to 25 cents.

The Evergreen club, which was formed to help with school and neighborhood needs, celebrated its golden anniversary Oct. 29 at the Twin Oak Inn, Breedsville.

A group of mothers of students at Evergreen school, located southwest of Bloomingdale, formed the club Oct. 4, 1925. Membership now consists of persons living in Paw Paw, Kalamazoo, South Haven and Bloomingdale.

Since the school was closed, students now attend school in Bloomingdale. The building was purchased by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and is now used for meetings, reunions, receptions and anniversaries.

The club's next meeting will be Wednesday, Nov. 5, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ellen Irelan, Jephtha Lake.

Officers are Mrs. Anna Melvin, president; Mrs. Betty Clark, acting president, and Mrs. Ireta Dean, secretary and treasurer.

Included in the club's service projects have been donations to the Van Buren County School for the Retarded and cancer research.

To Honor Stahls

BRIDGMAN — Mr. and Mrs. Orlie Stahl, Jericho road, Bridgman, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house Sunday, Nov. 2, from 2 to 8 p.m. at the home of their son, Preston Stahl, Jericho and Lemon Creek roads, Bridgman.

All friends and relatives are invited. Hosting the event will be the couple's children, Preston Stahl, Mrs. Jewell Griffin of Concord, Calif., and Mrs. Gene (Audrey) Roberts of New Troy. They will be assisted by the couple's son-in-law, Lester Varner of Bridgman. A daughter, Imogene Varner, is deceased.

Orlie Stahl and the former Myrtle Pomroy were married Nov. 2, 1925, in Nettleton, Ark. They have resided in the Bridgman and Baroda area for the past 26 years.

Prior to retiring Mrs. Stahl was employed by Dean's Laundromat, Bridgman, and Stahl was employed by Martin Marietta, Bridgman. The couple has 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Movies Available At SJ Library

Three films will be presented Tuesday, Nov. 4, at 7:30 p.m. for Family Film Night at Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph.

"Mysteries of the Deep," with Disney photography, explores the depths of the ocean, and "World in a Marsh" reveals the life beneath the surface and near a marsh. Also to be shown is "Vicious Cycles," a spoof on the Hell's Angels type of motorcycle clubs.

A story hour for preschool through second grade children will be held Saturday, Nov. 8, at 11 a.m. Featured will be "Rackety Raccoon and His Animal Friends," and games about Indians, pilgrims and harvest time will be played.

A display of brass and copper items collected in England will be in the library display case for the month of November, through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Uno Honka.

In addition to the three films being shown Nov. 4, the following films are available through Nov. 27 at the library: "Booker T. Washington," "Busy Bodies," "Happiness Is," "Lewis Mumford — The City" and part II, "The City — Cars or People?," "Magic Tree," "Mike Mulligan and his Steamshovel," "Monster of Highgate Pond," "Nature's Camouflage," "Roots of Happiness," "Snowballs," "Story in the Rocks," and "Tivoli."

Film To Be Shown In South Haven

SOUTH HAVEN — The film, "The Hiding Place," a true story of a Dutch family who hid Jews from the Nazis during World War II, will be shown at the Michigan theatre in South Haven Nov. 21-23.

John Bright is the coordinator in South Haven for the special showing of the film by World Wide Pictures, a subsidiary of Billy Graham association.

According to Time magazine, the film, "plunges into perplexing religious issues, such as whether Christians should disobey the state and whether they should lie or steal to further a good cause."

The story is about Corrie and Betzie Teh Boom and their "hiding place."

Musical background for the movie was furnished by Tedd Smith.

Advance tickets may be obtained from World Wide Pictures, 1201 Hennepin avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., 55403, or John Bright, South Haven.

Catholic Youth To Meet Sunday

"Faith Makes a Difference" will be the theme of a "working reunion" of more than 100 youth delegates from all segments of the Diocese of Kalamazoo Sunday, Nov. 2, at St. Catherine parish, Portage.

The delegates were chosen by their parishes and schools for a two-day Youth Congress held last May at Nazareth college, Kalamazoo, when delegates made recommendations to the Diocese for planning youth ministry.

The reunion will begin at 2 p.m. with a general meeting when Tim Fallon, director of youth ministry for the diocese, will report on the follow-up of the Congress' recommendations.

Following the meeting, delegates will celebrate the Eucharist with the Most Rev. Paul V. Donovan, Bishop of the Diocese of Kalamazoo.

Breakfast Foods Vary

A variety of foods can be served for breakfast.

People in different parts of the world have developed breakfast and eating patterns of striking diversity. For example, soup is sometimes served for breakfast in Japan.

Some children might enjoy a peanut butter sandwich at breakfast. As long as the foods provide the needed nutrients, the breakfast is adequate for good health.

Make Party Figlets

Bring the youngest children into kitchen preparations by making "figlets" for a family party.

Split dried figs before starting. Have ready three small bowls: one containing chopped nuts, one whipped cream cheese, one drained maraschino cherries. Let helpers spread cream cheese on fig halves and garnish with cherries and nuts.

Serve these nutritious snacks when watching the family's favorite TV shows.

POLICE, FIRE PROTECTION

Benton Will Vote On Six Mills

Benton township voters will ballot Tuesday, Nov. 4, on renewal of property tax levies totaling 6 mills for police and fire protection. Mrs. Cathryn Sirk, township clerk, said the 6 mills raise about $690,000 annually which is divided evenly between police and fire departments.

If approved the total levies of 6 mills will run through 1980. There are no other issues on the ballot.

"This is not a tax increase," said Mrs. Sirk. "It is to continue the current tax rate for police and fire protection."

Township voters in 1971 approved 1.5 mills for fire protection and 1.5 mills for police protection, a total of 3. This tax expires at the end of this year. In 1972, voters approved identical taxes totaling 3 mills and running through 1976.

The single issue on Tuesday's ballot consolidates all of the taxes that now total six mills. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. at 8 p.m. at 10 polling places, all school buildings.

Bozton, Hull, Fairplain East, Lafayette, Martindale, Pearl, Sorter, Johnson, Fairplain Northeast and North Shore. Taxes levied for township use total 7 mills, included the 6 extra voted and 1 mill received in allocation.

WHAT A "MOTOR HOME": Motorists traveling along Napier avenue yesterday afternoon were confronted by home being moved from St. Joseph city to Watervliet township. Two-bedroom home, 46 by 36 feet, is owned by Tom Wagon of Watervliet township. Formerly located at 2804 Veronica drive, home currently is at Berrien county road commission's parking lot in Benton township, due to flat tires on moving trailer incurred during trip, according to Mrs. Wagon.

Home eventually will continue its journey to Dan Smith road site in Watervliet township. Yesterday's trip to road commission parking lot, slightly over six miles, took 3½ hours, Mrs. Wagon said. Lavin Parrig of Coloma was hired to move home. Man in foreground directs driver at intersection of Napier and Langley avenues in St. Joseph, while man on roof lifts overhead wires. Compromise Expected Soon
In Niles Sewerage Dispute

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Attorneys involved in a Berrien Circuit court case challenging a proposed sewerage collection system for Niles township yesterday indicated a compromise agreement may be reached soon.

Legal counsel for the state, county, township, and plaintiffs in the suit told Judge Chester J. Byrns there was a possibility an agreement may be reached in which certain sections of the township where some of the plaintiffs reside would be deleted from a special assessment district.

If that compromise is reached, the plaintiffs would dismiss their suit which seeks an injunction to halt sale of bonds, contract letting, and construction of the proposed $12 million sewerage system.

But Assistant Atty. General Stewart Freeman, representing state in the case, noted yesterday that if the present project fails, the state will begin its own action to force construction of a collection system.

The state would not exempt any of the areas now proposed for exemption under the compromise agreement, he said.

The original suit in circuit court was a class-action suit filed by 16 Niles township residents, but the class-action part has now been dropped and some 200 plaintiffs, all residents of the township, are acting on their own behalf.

The plaintiffs in the suit are scheduled to meet Sunday afternoon with their attorney, Lester Turner, of Lansing, to decide what course of action to take.

Yesterday's hearing in court was technically on three motions to dismiss the plaintiffs' suit—one motion each by the county, state, and township. But most of the day was spent in out-of-court negotiations between the attorneys.

Byrns said the plaintiffs are to give their decision on the matter to him by Nov. 5, and if no decision is reached by that date Byrns said he will rule on the dismissal motions Nov. 10.

The proposed collection system, which calls for sale of $4.8 million in bonds, is scheduled to begin in 1976 and be completed in about two years. A federal grant is to provide $7.5 million.

The township system is slated to be built in conjunction with a new sewerage system for the City of Niles, and the township will contract with the city for use of the sewerage disposal plant when both systems are completed.

The township stands to lose the federal grant if action is not taken soon, according to Robert Barnes, director of the county board of public works. He noted the BPW must award contracts before the end of December in order to comply with certain regulations.

While no formal action has yet been taken on the plaintiffs' request for an injunction, Judge Byrns noted that in effect there is now an injunction because the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission will not approve the issuance of bonds while the case is pending, and the bonds are needed for construction of the system.

Firemen's Leg
Broken At Blaze

NEW BUFFALO — A Lakeside fireman sustained a broken leg while fighting a house fire north of here last night.

Listed in fair condition this morning at St. Anthony's hospital, Michigan City, Ind., was volunteer fireman Vernon Brown, 27, of Union Pier. Jack Gibson, Lakeside fire chief, said Brown sustained a compound fracture of his leg when a metal hose connector crashed into his leg.

Gibson said Lakeside firemen were assisting New Buffalo township firemen, who were fighting a blaze in a summer home. The house is located on Lakeshore road, near Townline road in New Buffalo township.

Reports on the fire were incomplete late this morning, but New Buffalo township firemen said the house was gutted by the 9:15 p.m. blaze. No one was at home when the fire broke out, firemen said.

Two Allegan 4-H'ers
Win Trip To Chicago

JULIE DROZD

SCOTT EVANS

Two Allegan county teenagers who were named best in the state in their project areas will get a free trip to this year's National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 30 to Dec. 4.

Competing in the national contest will be Julie Ann Drozd, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Drozd, Allegan, and Scott Evans, 18, son of Martin J. Evans, South Haven.

Miss Drozd is Michigan's best 4-H'er in the clothing program and Evans is the top 4-H member in the leadership program. They are among some 30 Michigan young people who recently won first place honors in state-wide competition.

MUSICAL TALKS

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Symphony Orchestra musicians and management resumed contract talks Friday after four weeks.

'Standoff' Delays
Napier
Widening

The widening of Napier avenue from Fairplain Plaza to I-94 has been delayed indefinitely by a continued standoff with the Penn Central railroad over construction of a new grade crossing.

No work has yet been done on the $1.5 million project and construction will not start until some time next year, according to Tom Webb, engineer-manager of the Berrien County Road commission.

The road commission originally indicated it wanted to begin the Napier widening by July 1 of this year with completion scheduled for next summer.

Webb said he is awaiting an order from the Michigan Public Service commission directing that a new grade crossing and signal system be constructed at the Penn Central tracks just west of Crystal Springs cemetery in Benton township.

Webb said he expects the order to be issued about Nov. 10, but that the road commission and Penn Central then would have to agree on the type of crossing to be constructed before contracts bids could be sought.

These negotiations could take several months, he said, and in any event construction would not be attempted during the winter.

"I just don't know when we'll start," Webb said. "We can't build the road and leave that bottleneck there."

The project calls for widening Napier from its present two lanes to five lanes over a 1½-mile stretch from Reeder street at Fairplain Plaza through the busy Pipestone intersection to the I-94 interchange.

A curve in the road where Napier crosses the railroad tracks will be modified, necessitating a new crossing and signal system.

Webb said the road commission would let the contract for construction of the new crossing and that the only work Penn Central would do would be installation of a new flasher-light system.

Both parts of the crossing project would be financed by federal funds, he said.

No Damage
Leaf Fires

Separate leaf fires Friday in Hall park, Benton Harbor, burned over an area totaling 4,400 square feet, but caused no damage to structures, according to city firemen.

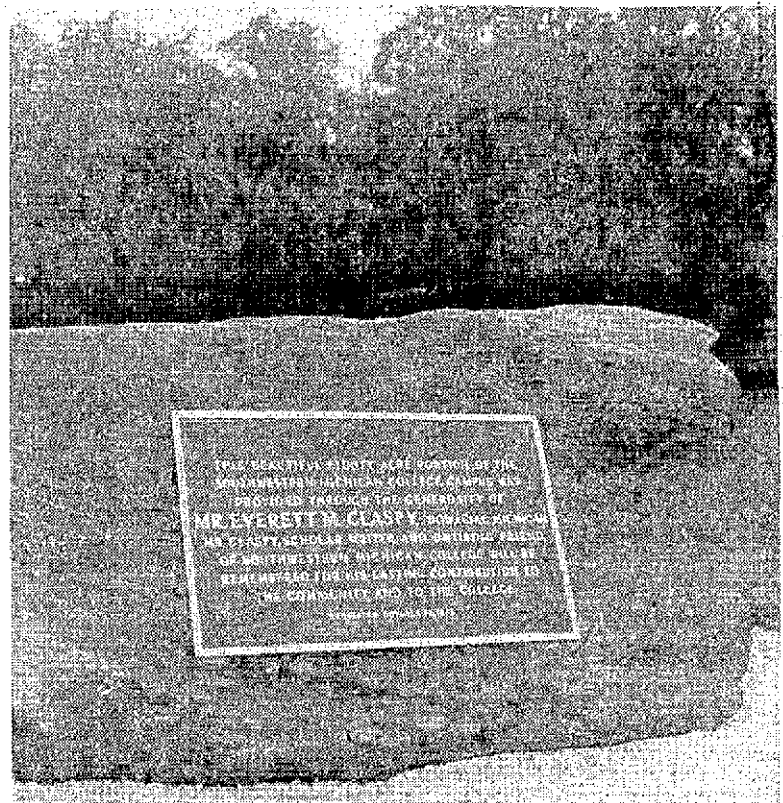

The first blaze about 2 p.m. covered 1,800 square feet in a ravine near East Vineyard, while the second at 11:57 p.m. covered 2,600 square feet in another ravine near East Britain, firemen said. Cause of the blazes is unknown, firemen reported.

Checks Missent

ROSEBURG, Ore. (AP) — The U.S. Postal Service got caught with its zip codes down.

Paychecks for 40 Roseburg mail carriers wound up in Farmington, N.M., this week because the Postal Service used the wrong zip code.

The mistake apparently was caused by a computer foul-up. The checks should arrive in Roseburg today, barring any further difficulties, the Postal Service said Friday.

DEDICATION PLAQUE: Southwestern Michigan college officials at Dowagiac used this five-ton boulder as for a plaque commemorating gift of 80 acres of land to college. Land was from late Everett M. Claspy, former Dowagiac resident, and was formally dedicated Oct. 19. Boulder and plaque are located at corner of Dailey and Mathews roads, in open area of Claspy woods.

Lawton Voters Will Rule On 1.5 Mills

LAWTON — Lawton school district voters will go to the polls here Monday to decide the fate of a proposed 1.5-mill property tax levy school officials have said is needed to maintain minimum education programs.

The millage vote will be the third this year. Two previous extra tax proposals have been defeated in prior elections.

The extra 1.5 mills would produce about $58,250 in local and state aid, with the bulk of that - about $34,166 - to be put in a payroll contingency fund; $4,395 for added transportation costs; $8,698 for added utility costs; and $10,000 for capital outlay, school officials said.

The school board in late August trimmed back educational programs and eliminated some staff positions after voters, for the second time, defeated extra tax millage proposals.

But school officials said the extra revenue from the proposed 1.5 mills is needed to finance the reduced program and to pay for a teaching staff reduced from 50 teachers last year to 41 this year.

If the millage fails, authorities said, the programs will be trimmed back even more.

Approval would boost the district's total tax levy to 32.1 mills, compared to 30.70 mills for the 1974-75 year.

The added revenue would raise the school's projected 1975-76 budget to about

$1,402,890, compared to the district's 1974-75 budget of $1,206,977 in actual expenditures.

Settlement of a contract with teachers has been delayed pending the outcome of the vote, school officials have said.

Teachers are currently working under last year's contract.

Niles Hospital Gets Nod For Nuclear Unit

LANSING — Pawling hospital in Niles has been given approval by the Michigan Department of Public Health to purchase equipment with which to establish a nuclear medicine department.

A health department spokesman said the device to be acquired is a rectilinear scanner, used in diagnostic work. The machine will cost $32,000, the spokesman said, and is to be installed by January.

The new service project was approved by the state health department's division of Health Facility Planning and Construction, the spokesman said.

MARGARET UPTON MEMORIAL: Dr. Ralph E. Jones (right), president of Grambling State university, Grambling, La., accepts commemorative plaque in memory of Margaret B. Upton from Vance Shaw, Whirlpool personnel manager, during ceremony to recognize gifts of Whirlpool appliances to Grambling home economics department. The appliances were donated to Grambling by Whirlpool Corporation in memory of Mrs. Upton who was killed in a traffic accident in September. She was the wife of Frederick S. Upton, retired senior vice president of Whirlpool. Grambling's need for appliances was noted by Shaw on an earlier visit to campus. Whirlpool contributed 18 new appliances to Grambling.

Plan Double Dedication

Gobles Church

GOBLES — Two dedications services are planned Sunday, Nov. 9, by members of Covey Hill Baptist church, Gobles.

The new addition to the church, which is located three miles south of Gobles on M-40, will be dedicated at 10 a.m. and the church's new Teen Center, located on M-43, two miles east of M-40, will be dedicated at 12:30 p.m.

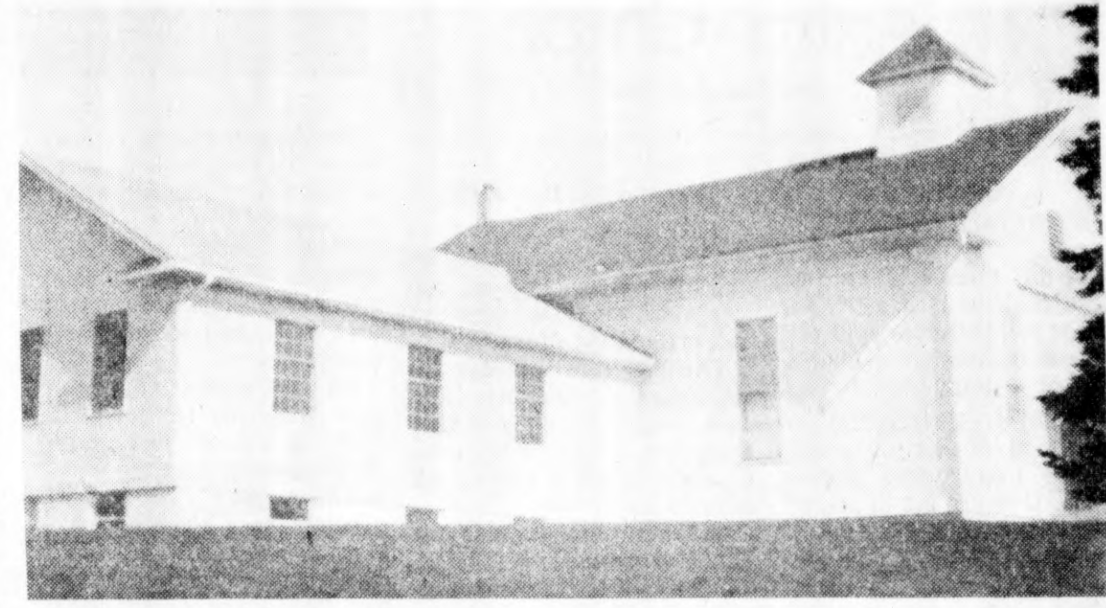

The new 30 by 40 foot addition to the church was built at an estimated cost of $42,000. The addition contains 11 classrooms and an addition to the auditorium, according to Dennis Karrow, pastor.

Speaker for the services will be the Rev. Harry Love, formerly of Gobles, who is director of Conservative Baptist association and who resides in Farmington.

The church's teen center is located in the former Church of the Open Bible, which was donated to Covey Hill Baptist church for use as a teen center. Youth director is Wally Davis.

THE BIBLE

No. 211. Eliphaz Replies to Job

Eliphaz rebuked Job for his curse, reminding him that in times past he had always told weak and troubled people to trust in God, but now that trouble had come upon him, he was suddenly faint, broken and despairing. He continued, "Even as I have seen, they that plow iniquity, and sow wickedness, reap the same. By the blast of God they perish, and by the breath of his nostrils are they consumed." (Job 4:8-9)

Then Eliphaz continued to warn Job of the seriousness of his curse, pointing out that Job must have erred in some manner to be punished as he was.

Eliphaz advised Job: "I would seek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cause; Which doeth great things and unsearchable; marvelous things without number... Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth; therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty; For he maketh sore, and bindeth up; he woundeth, and his hands make whole." (Job 5:8-9: 17-18)

CHARTER MEMBERS: Mrs. Milred Reese, left, and Mrs. Anna Melvin, are charter members of the Evergreen club which celebrated its 50th anniversary Oct. 29. The club was formed in 1925 to help with school and neighborhood needs. Mrs. Sadie Trim is also a charter member. (Mildred Alfred photo)

BLOOMINGDALE — Monthly membership dues of the Evergreen club have increased 250 per cent in its 50-year existence — from 10 cents to 25 cents.

The Evergreen club, which was formed to help with school and neighborhood needs, celebrated its golden anniversary Oct. 29 at the Twin Oak Inn, Breedsville.

A group of mothers of students at Evergreen school, located southwest of Bloomingdale, formed the club Oct. 4, 1925. Membership now consists of persons living in Paw Paw, Kalamazoo, South Haven and Bloomingdale.

Since the school was closed, students now attend school in Bloomingdale. The building was purchased by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and is now used for meetings, reunions, receptions and anniversaries.

The club's next meeting will be Wednesday, Nov. 5, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ellen Jelan, Jephtha Lake.

Officers are Mrs. Anna Melvin, president; Mrs. Betty Clark, acting president, and Mrs. Irene Dean, secretary and treasurer.

Included in the club's service projects have been donations to the Van Buren County School for the Retarded and cancer research.

Mrs. Ruth Durbin, associate matron; Joseph Richman, associate patron; Mrs. Stanley Driscoll, conductress; Mrs. Bernice Heath, associate conductress; Leland Barnes, chaplain; Mrs. Clarence Mott, marshal; Mrs. Frances Tyler, treasurer; Mrs. Leland Barnes, secretary; Mrs. Henry Buchling, Adah; Mrs. Joseph Richman, Ruth; Mrs. Adrian Sisson, Esther.

Also, Mrs. Earl Alderman, Martha; Mrs. Mae Goss, Electa; Mrs. Leone Norris, warden; Earl Alderman, sentinel.

Auxiliary officers to be installed are Clarence Mott, American flag escort, and Nels Haaseth, Christian flag escort.

Installing officers were Mrs. Joy Smith, Multawan chapter; Mrs. Roger Thomas, organist, Golden Rule chapter, Bangor. Music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, Loyalty chapter, Kalamazoo.

The Lawrence chapter will meet at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 3, at the Masonic hall.

Thibout Sprenger of Grand Rapids will be guest soloist.

SOUTH HAVEN — Revival services will be held at FIRST FREE WILL BAPTIST CHURCH, South Haven, Monday, Nov. 3, through Saturday, Nov. 8.

Curtis Sheets of Columbus, Ohio, will conduct the services each night at 7:30 p.m.

SOUTH HAVEN — The choir of the DOWAGIAC UNITED METHODIST CHURCH will present the cantata "Alleluia" Sunday, Nov. 2, at FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, South Haven.

The public is invited to the cantata which will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Singles Conference Set

America's first Midwestern Christian Singles Conference will be held in Grand Rapids Nov. 14-15.

Co-sponsors for the convention are the National Christian Fellowship for Singles Adults and Calvary Underdominational church.

Arthur E. Ericson, national president of CFSA, said the program which starts Friday, Nov. 14, will have many workshops featuring well-known speakers, including Carl Smith, dynamic business executive and financial counselor, and member of the national board of Christian Fellowship for Single Adults.

Also speaking will be Virginia Watts, college professor, and dean of women at Moody Bible Institute, Paul A. Stewart, midwestern regional director for the Christian Freedom Foundation, the Rev. William Cummins, Youth and Singles pastor at Calvary church, Atty. William Azkoul, investment counselor Walter Olsson, Carl Ringley of David Cook publishers, and other ministers and professional advisors.

There will be workshops of special interest to career singles, divorced people, widows and widowers and college age singles. Also work books on financial planning and ideas for church-coordinated singles' programs will be given to all who attend the conference.

Youth workers, pastors and all singles are invited to attend the sessions. Group discounts are available for groups of five or more attending from one church. The individual advance registration is $10. The opening night of the conference registration will be $13.

Those who wish to register may contact — Christian Fellowship for Single Adults, P.O. Box 200, Belmont, Mich. 49306.

Film To Be Shown In South Haven

SOUTH HAVEN — The film, "The Hiding Place," a true story of a Dutch family who hid Jews from the Nazis during World War II, will be shown at the Michigan theatre in South Haven Nov. 21-23.

John Bright is the coordinator in South Haven for the special showing of the film by World Wide Pictures, a subsidiary of Billy Graham association.

According to Time magazine, the film, "plunges into perplexing religious issues, such as whether Christians should disobey the state and whether they should lie or steal to further a good cause."

The story is about Corrie and Betzie Teh Boom and their "hiding place."

Musical background for the movie was furnished by Tedd Smith.

Advance tickets may be obtained from World Wide Pictures, 1201 Hennepin avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., 55403, or John Bright, South Haven.

Catholic Youth To Meet Sunday

"Faith Makes a Difference" will be the theme of a "working reunion" of more than 100 youth delegates from all segments of the Diocese of Kalamazoo Sunday, Nov. 2, at St. Catherine parish, Portage.

The delegates were chosen by their parishes and schools for a two-day Youth Congress held last May at Nazareth college, Kalamazoo, when delegates made recommendations to the Diocese for planning youth ministry.

The reunion will begin at 2 p.m. with a general meeting when Tim Fallon, director of youth ministry for the diocese, will report on the follow-up of the Congress' recommendations.

Following the meeting, delegates will celebrate the Eucharist with the Most Rev. Paul V. Donovan, Bishop of the Diocese of Kalamazoo.

Breakfast Foods Vary

A variety of foods can be served for breakfast.

People in different parts of the world have developed breakfast and eating patterns of striking diversity. For example, soup is sometimes served for breakfast in Japan.

Some children might enjoy a peanut butter sandwich at breakfast. As long as the foods provide the needed nutrients, the breakfast is adequate for good health.

Lawton Events

LAWTON — Western Area Baptist Women will hold a "Spiritual Retreat" at First Baptist church, Lawton, Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Registration will be held from 9 to 10 a.m. The retreat will be held from 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Hugh Allen will be the resource person.

LAWTON — Isabella club of Lawton will meet Wednesday, Nov. 5, at First Baptist church, Lawton, at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Marie Schultz and Mrs. Margaret Stofor will be in charge of the program, which will focus on flags of the United States.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Keep Dead Brother's Secret

Dear Ann Landers: I must talk to someone about this and you seem like a very close friend, even though we are strangers.

Last year my brother died in Omaha. Dad and I went to Tom's apartment and arranged for the funeral. While going through his personal belongings I came across a book of poetry, "Sonnets From The Portuguese." It was inscribed to Tom in a very romantic, tender fashion. I also found a love letter in the book, written from the same man to my brother. Their relationship was unmistakable.

I hid the letter and book from my parents because I wasn't sure they would understand. For months I have been torn between telling them and not telling them. I feel Tom wouldn't have wanted them to know of his homosexuality because it could cause them sorrow. Yet, this is the way he was and perhaps they should be told. Sometimes I feel dishonest when we are discussing Tom and I keep this part of him from them. Perhaps if they knew the truth it might make them more sympathetic toward other

Mate's Dictator

Dear Ann Landers: We have had so many family fights that I'm ready to settle for your judgment. The problem is mainly between my husband and me.

Edgar runs the house with a heavy hand. I realize I have given in to him in matters where I should have hung on to some authority. I turned over the finances completely to avoid trouble. For example, I have always let him do the grocery shopping even though his choices were not what I would have selected.

Now things are getting out of hand. Periodically Edgar goes on "cleaning binges." He throws out things I wanted to keep. His standard excuse is, "Who needs all this junk?" Some of it belonged to my mother and I wanted to keep it for sentimental reasons.

Now he has encouraged our 16-year-old daughter to "show her independence" as he calls it. Suddenly she doesn't like anything I cook so she is cooking her own suppers.

The kitchen is a mess because someone is always fixing something special. (Edgar has been doing this for years.)

I hate fighting all the time so I keep my mouth shut and put up with it. But I know I'm being treated like a doormat and I hate it. There are times when I feel I am neither wanted nor needed around here and I'd be better off if I cleared out and went to live with my mother. What do you think? — Excess Baggage

Dear Ex B.: It sounds as if your problems are so deep-

seated and of such long standing that you can do little to alter things. One thing is certain. You aren't going to change your husband, nor are you going to wrest from him any of the wifely jobs he has usurped.

I suggest counseling so you can learn how to live with the situation. I doubt that you'd have a better life if you moved in with your mother. What's more important, your 16-year-old needs you, whether you realize it or not! Going to a wedding? Giving one? Or standing up in one? Even if you're already married Ann Landers's completely new "The Bride's Guide" will answer questions about today's weddings. For a copy, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (10 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Display Sunday

SOUTH HAVEN — Helping Hands organization will hold an arts and crafts display from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 2, at the Harbor View Apartments, South Haven.

The public is invited. Senior citizens will display their works of art in hand-painted pictures, knitting, jewelry making, sewing and ceramics. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Augusta Rice is president of the organization and the Rev. Josephine Morgan is secretary.

Enchilada Dinner

BERRIEN SPRINGS — An enchilada dinner, sponsored by the Dorcas Society of the Spanish Seventh-day Adventist church, Berrien Springs, will be held Sunday, Nov. 2 from 1 to 6 p.m.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for children 3 through 12. Single enchiladas will be 35 cents.

The menu will also include refried beans, rice, salad and punch.

Proceeds will benefit the church repair and remodeling fund.

FOR SUNDAY NOV. 2, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This should be a fun, active day, but if the festivities spill over into the evening you're likely to run out of steam early.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be sure to consider your mate's wishes today when making plans. If you're not in accord, friction will result.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You'll have buyer's remorse about anything you buy impulsively today. Think before plunking your cash down.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Concentrate on having a good time today. Dismiss financial and business thoughts for the time being. They can be attended to later.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Toward evening you'll lack patience with those who do not jump immediately to your commands. Be careful or you'll stir something up at home.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you're going to do any traveling today, check connections and accommodations well in advance. Something could get fouled up.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't make any deals with a friend at this time who wants a piece of the action for helping. Wait till he produces, then talk terms.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Others will resent it today if you place your self-interests too far above theirs. Be cooperative, not demanding.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 1) Normally you're a rather optimistic and self-assured person, but today you'll harbor doubts about something you're involved in.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be careful today you don't make a commitment for a friend without first talking it over with her and getting her consent.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You tend to do things today without fully appreciating all the ramifications. What appears easy may in reality be very complicated.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Avoid getting into philosophical or political discussions today with friends. The conversation could turn into a very serious debate.

Your Birthday

Nov. 2, 1975

This coming year you will be able to bring off situations you had difficulty getting off the ground in the past. The lessons you've learned have prepared you for success.

INDOOR TENNIS
PH. 429-5285

For Monday, Nov. 3, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be careful in your business affairs today. Matters could suddenly take an unusual turn. You might be caught off-guard.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Agreements you enter into today should be screened very thoroughly. Be sure even the smallest clause is spelled out clearly.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You're very inventive today. You'll come up with a better method for doing a repetitious task that tied you down previously.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You'll be fortunate only with carefully calculated risks. Should you press your luck too far it won't stand the strain.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) An unusual day for you, one of endings and beginnings. Something from the past will be terminated as your interests shift to something new.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Weigh your words very wisely today or you might blurt out something that shouldn't be divulged now. Think before speaking.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 23) Conditions are unique for you materially. Gains could come from two least expected sources.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll be both bold and clever in handling situations affecting you today. The results will be gratifying, yet your tactics will surprise others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your best ideas will come to you today if you're off somewhere alone where there's peace and quiet. Jot them down for later use.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) An interesting new acquaintance will suddenly enter your life. This person will be introduced to you by an old friend.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You'll not be deprived at this time of rewards rightfully due you. Just be patient. Let events run their course.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Success is yours today if you add a new twist to something you've recently learned from an unusual experience.

Your Birthday
Nov. 3, 1975

The coming year has some pleasant surprises in store. Your routines will be disrupted occasionally. Though you may complain at the time, you'll like the end result.

The transplantation of body tissue is a never-ending source of amazement to the laity and to physicians.

Despite the many problems of rejection of transplants, research surgeons are working toward the goal of successful transplants.

For the first time, a Fallopian tube has been transplanted. This tube is the one that carries the female egg from the ovary into the womb.

Many women who are unable to conceive because their Fallopian tubes are obstructed may, by this type of surgery, be

Pack Healthy Figs

Join the health-conscious lunch-packers and tuck a "sugar fig" into brown bags for dessert that needs no preparation.

"Sugar figs" are what some health fans call natural dried figs, ready to eat right from the package. Nothing to add.

Over 55 percent of the weight of dried figs is made of natural fruit sugars, dextrose and fructose, the easiest sugars to digest. It's because figs are allowed to fully ripen and semi-dry right on the tree that they pick up added sun-drenched nutritional goodness.

given an additional chance of becoming pregnant.

Dr. B.M. Cohen, of the University of Capetown in South Africa, supported by a team of 14 surgeons and physicians, tried this innovative operation. They have indicated that there is good reason to believe that this surgery may yet become highly successful.

Now they await the results of their surgical skill while using every means to prevent the rejection of this new type of transplant.

The National Cancer Institute has reported some interesting statistics on the survival rate of a variety of cancers.

Director Dr. Marvin A. Schneiderman, after compiling the statistics, said, "What we are seeing, essentially, is a decrease in the failure rate."

In practical terms, these findings mean that "every year 16,000 people are living with cancer who would not be alive if they had had the disease 10 years previously."

Dr. Schneiderman pointed out that they have been important evidence of higher survival rates in cancer of the lung, breast, prostate, brain, skin and larynx.

These enormously interesting statistics represent great hope in the accomplishment of modern medicine.

The idea that knucklecrackers are laying the groundwork for arthritis and other joint problems is occupying the attention of Dr. Robert L. Swezey of the University of California.

His attitude is that although the habit is a noisy one for listeners, it does no injustice to the knuckles themselves.

I hope that leaking such information will not be the beginning of a new national pastime!

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Lester Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Plan Double Dedication

Gobles Church

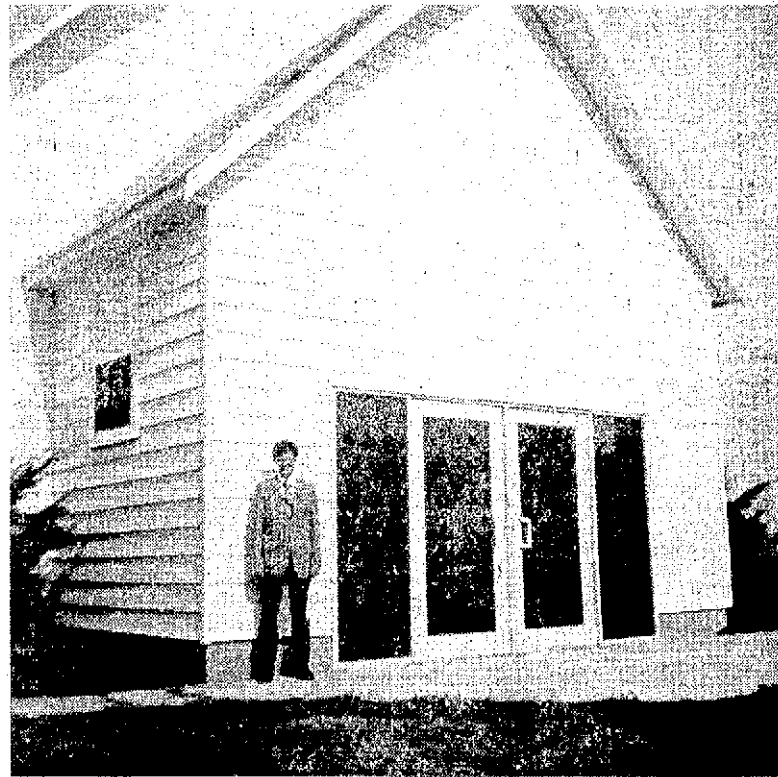

GOBLES — Two dedications services are planned Sunday, Nov. 9, by members of Covey Hill Baptist church, Gobles.

The new addition to the church, which is located three miles south of Gobles on M-40, will be dedicated at 10 a.m. and the church's new Teen Center, located on M-43, two miles east of M-40, will be dedicated at 12:30 p.m.

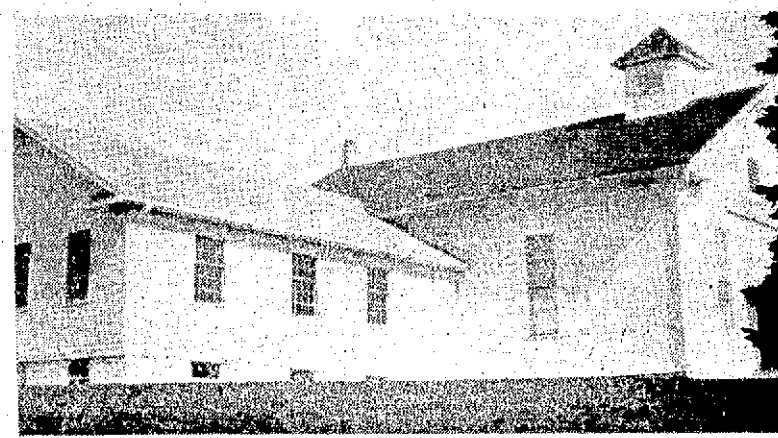

The new 30 by 40 foot addition to the church was built at an estimated cost of $42,000. The addition contains 11 classrooms and an addition to the auditorium, according to Dennis Karrow, pastor.

Speaker for the services will be the Rev. Harry Love, formerly of Gobles, who is director of Conservative Baptist association and who resides in Farmington.

The church's teen center is located in the former Church of the Open Bible, which was donated to Covey Hill Baptist church for use as a teen center. Youth director is Wally Davis.

Announce Diaconate Program

The Most Rev. Paul V. Donovan, Bishop of the Diocese of Kalamazoo, will announce Sunday, Nov. 2, the intention to launch a Permanent Diaconate Program for English-speaking men within the diocese.

The Kalamazoo Diocese already has a program which is preparing 14 Spanish-speaking men for the Diaconate and will launch the program for English-speaking men in September of 1976.

A basic format for the program has been prepared by a committee members, the Rev. David Adams, Immaculate Conception parish, Three Rivers; the Rev. James Barrett, St. Basil parish, South Haven; the Rev. John Grathwohl, St. Catherine's parish, Portage; the Rev. Michael Huzard, St.

Joseph's, Kalamazoo; the Rev. Dunn Taylor, St. Charles church, Coldwater, and the Rev. Eugene A. Sears, St. Augustine's, Kalamazoo.

To prepare members of the diaconate for the program, the Rev. Sears, director of the diocese's diaconate program, has written a series of articles on the program. The Rev. Fr. Sears is also Chancellor of the diocese and a former pastor of St. Bernard's parish, Benton Harbor.

Prayer Workshop
Nov. 20

MRS. PRESTON BRANDSEN

SOUTH HAVEN — A Prayer Workshop will be held Thursday, Nov. 20, at Pidelman's Mai Kai Resort, South Haven, with Mrs. Preston (Vivian) Brandesen as the guest speaker.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. and programs will last until 2:30 p.m.

Pre-registration is $2 and registration at the door will be $2.50. Advance tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Jay Wood, route 3, South Haven.

Those attending may bring a sack lunch for themselves and their children. A nursery will be provided at First United Methodist church, South Haven. Beverages will be provided.

Mrs. Brandesen is coordinator for the Michigan Great Commission. Her husband is director of Greater Grand Rapids area Campus Crusade for Christ.

Mrs. Brandesen is a graduate of Holland Business college and has been active as a conference, retreat and Christian Family speaker. She has worked full time in Christian work in Michigan for the past five years and formerly served as a missionary in Africa for three years.

The workshop will include how to pray, who can pray, conversational prayer, praying through Scriptures and teaching others to pray.

Elect Board Officers

BUCHANAN — F. William Kelley has been elected chairman of the administrative board of the congregation of First United Methodist church, Buchanan.

Other board officers are Mrs. John Hagley, recording secretary; John Boyers, lay leader; Mrs. D. Kent Hassan, lay delegate, and Mrs. Frank Hamilton, alternate lay delegate.

Other church officers elected are Mrs. Robert Neal, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Hess, financial secretary; Dr. D. Kent Hassan, chairman of the board of trustees; Mrs. Hassan, chairman for the pastor-parish committee; Mrs. Arthur Funk, secretary of the nominations committee; Dean Sweet, secretary of enlistment; and Bert Metzger, district steward.

Those elected chairmen were Mrs. Robert Hamilton, education and communal affairs; Jerry Ritter, missions and social concerns; Mrs. Thomas Fitzpatrick, evangelism and worship; and Larry Peters, stewardship and finance.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOOD IISHMAEL

THE BIBLE

No. 211. Eliphaz Replies to Job

Eliphaz rebuked Job for his curse, reminding him that in times past he had always told weak and troubled people to trust in God, but now that trouble had come upon him, he was suddenly faint, broken and despairing. He continued, "Even as I have seen, they that plow iniquity, and sow wickedness, reap the same. By the blast of God they perish, and by the breath of his nostrils are they consumed." (Job 4:8-9)

Then Eliphaz continued to warn Job of the seriousness of his curse, pointing out that Job must have erred in some manner to be punished as he was.

Eliphaz advised Job: "I would seek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cause; Which doeth great things and unsearchable; marvelous things without number... Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth; therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty; For he maketh sore, and bindeth up; he woundeth, and his hands make whole." (Job 5:8-9:17-18)

The annual joint Reformation services for the congregations of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod will be held Sunday, Nov. 2, at 3 p.m. at Michigan Lutheran high school, 615 East Marquette Woods road, St. Joseph.

Guest speaker for the service will be the Rev. Daniel Gieschen of Adrian. He is chairman of the general board for home missions of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod. His topic will be "Is Luther's Attitude Toward God's Word Your Attitude?"

Liturgist will be the Rev. Herbert C. Kuske, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Stevensville.

Special music will be provided by the Titan Band and Chorus of Michigan Lutheran high school under the direction of Ronald Pope.

The Michigan Lutheran Chorus, a mixed chorus of members from area Wisconsin Synod churches, under the direction of Ronald Kallies of Grace Lutheran church, Eau Claire, will also participate.

The Children's Chorus, consisting of children in grades five through eight of the participating Christian Day schools, will sing under the direction of Mrs. John Eggert of St. Paul's church, Stevensville.

Four Newcomers Seek Seats On Bridgman City Council

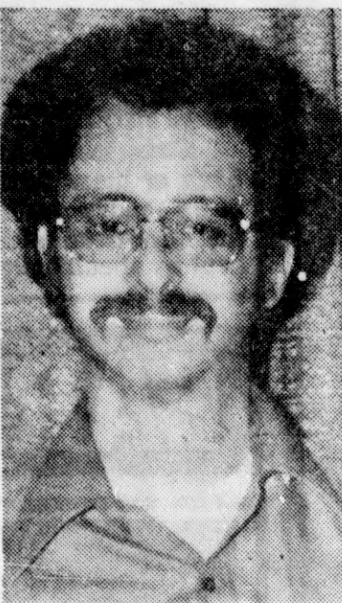

MARILYNN STANARD

JAMES A. BEMBENEK

DOMINIC D'AGOSTINO JR.

JAMES CATANIA

BRIDGMAN — Four newcomers seek election to three Bridgman city commission seats at stake in the city's Nov. 4 election.

The candidates are Marilyn Stanard, James A. Bembenek, Dominic D'Agostino Jr., and James Catania. The three top vote getters will all win four-year seats.

The four are vying for the posts currently held by commissioners Otha McIntosh and Bruno Szygielski, and a third post formerly held by William Kidd. McIntosh and Szygielski are not seeking re-election and Kidd has moved from the city.

Mrs. Stanard, 32, of Karen court, is a homemaker and piano teacher. A former high school teacher, she and her husband, Terry, have two children.

Bembenek, 31, of 3957 Pearl avenue, is employed as a teacher by the Lakeshore schools. He was formerly president of the Bridgman Education association. He and his wife, Margaret, have one child.

D'Agostino, 29, of Monogram hotel, Lake street, is employed at the Navajo restaurant, Bridgman, which is owned by his parents. He is single.

Catania, 28, a Benton Heights barber, resides with his wife, Janice, and one child at 9540 Mathieu street.

This is the first venture into politics for all four candidates.

Two women, one an incumbent, are seeking election to two, six-year library board posts. Unopposed are incumbent Mrs. Josephine "Polly" Gilmore, 32, of 96-C Baldwin road, and Mrs. Douglas (Nancy) Geisler, 31, of Power street.

Polls at city hall will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., according to Mrs. Phyllis Weber, city clerk.

$23.3 Million On Way

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Over $23.3 million in federal grants will fund 81 state projects and provide at least 3,758 jobs for Michigan's unemployed, the governor's office announced Friday. The grants, released by the U.S. Department of Commerce, will fund projects in areas such as environmental protection, energy conservation and services for the poor and aging. A total $375 million was released for various states under the federal Job Opportunity Program. Michigan projects include wastewater treatment and services to help the poor and elderly repair and winterize their homes, the governor's office said.

Busing Ban Out Of Energy Bill

By JIM LUTHER

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears to have nearly completed work on its comprehensive national energy bill, but the measure won't be used to stop court-ordered school busing.

Congress and President Ford have been at odds over the direction a national energy policy should take, and the measure that appears headed for congressional approval would not resolve the dispute. The bill takes an opposite direction to proposals by Ford, who wants a quick end to price controls.

Senate-House conferees who are writing a compromise energy program removed one obstacle Friday that could have delayed the measure's approval. The conferees killed a House amendment that would have prohibited the busing of school pupils for desegregation purposes in the interest of fuel conservation.

The amendment would have banned busing as wasteful of fuel and would have provided for penalties to service station owners who sold gasoline or diesel fuel with knowledge that it would be used for busing.

Since there was no antibusing provision in the Senate-passed bill, the House conferees' vote ended the discussion.

After killing the amendment, the conferees indicated they remain as opposed to Ford's proposed program of higher energy prices as they were when he first spelled out his plan last

Jan. 15.

The Senate conferees, on a 16 to 8 party-line vote, rejected a Republican proposal to phase out oil price controls over 25 months.

Before the conferees complete work on the oil price section of the bill next week, there are expected to be other votes on other plans that would keep price controls in effect for a longer period before eventually ending them.

Such proposals probably will gain some Democratic support. But congressional aides say there is little chance the conferees will approve any plan that would not continue price controls indefinitely.

The House conferees, who are even more opposed to Ford's plan than are the senators, have yet to vote on oil prices.

If the conference committee completes work on the bill next week, the House and Senate would be expected to send the measure to Ford the week of Nov. 10 — perhaps only hours before the temporarily extended controls on oil prices expire on Nov. 15.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Keep Dead Brother's Secret

Dear Ann Landers: I must talk to someone about this and you seem like a very close friend, even though we are strangers.

Last year my brother died in Omaha. Dad and I went to Tom's apartment and arranged for the funeral. While going through his personal belongings I came across a book of poetry, "Sonnets From The Portuguese." It was inscribed to Tom in a very romantic, tender fashion. I also found a love letter in the book, written from the same man to my brother. Their relationship was unmistakable.

I hid the letter and book from my parents because I wasn't sure they would understand. For months I have been torn between telling them and not telling them. I feel Tom wouldn't have wanted them to know of his homosexuality because it could cause them sorrow. Yet, this is the way he was and perhaps they should be told. Sometimes I feel dishonest when we are discussing Tom and I keep this part of him from them. Perhaps if they knew the truth it might make them more sympathetic toward other homosexuals. Please, Ann, advise me. — He Ain't Heavy, He's My Brother

Dear Sister: Keep your lips sealed. The information would do nothing but create unhappiness. Moreover, you would be betraying your brother in his grave. Had he wanted his parents to know, he would have told them himself.

Mate's Dictator

Dear Ann Landers: We have had so many family fights that I'm ready to settle for your judgment. The problem is mainly between my husband and me.

Edgar runs the house with a heavy hand. I realize I have given in to him in matters where I should have hung on to some authority. I turned over the finances completely to avoid trouble. For example, I have always let him do the grocery shopping even though his choices were not what I would have selected.

Now things are getting out of hand. Periodically Edgar goes on "cleaning binges." He throws out things I wanted to keep. His standard excuse is, "Who needs all this junk?" Some of it belonged to my mother and I wanted to keep it for sentimental reasons.

Now he has encouraged our 16-year-old daughter to "show her independence" as he calls it. Suddenly she doesn't like anything I cook so she is cooking her own suppers.

The kitchen is a mess because someone is always fixing something special. (Edgar has been doing this for years.)

I hate fighting all the time so I keep my mouth shut and put up with it. But I know I'm being treated like a doormat and I hate it. There are times when I feel I am neither wanted nor needed around here and I'd be better off if I cleared out and went to live with my mother.

What do you think? — Excess Baggage

Dear Ex B.: It sounds as if your problems are so deep-

ANN LANDERS

seated and of such long standing that you can do little to alter things. One thing is certain. You aren't going to change your husband, nor are you going to wrest from him any of the wifely jobs he has usurped.

I suggest counseling so you can learn how to live with the situation. I doubt that you'd have a better life if you moved in with your mother. What's more important, your 16-year-old needs you, whether you realize it or not. Going to a wedding? Giving one? Or standing up in one? Even if you're already married Ann Landers's completely new "The Bride's Guide" will answer questions about today's weddings. For a copy, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (10 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

FOR SUNDAY NOV. 2, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This should be a fun, active day, but if the festivities spill over into the evening you're likely to run out of steam early.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be sure to consider your mate's wishes today when making plans. If you're not in accord, friction will result.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) You'll have buyer's remorse about anything you buy impulsively today. Think before plunging your cash down.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Concentrate on having a good time today. Dismiss financial and business thoughts for the time being. They can be attended to later.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Toward evening you'll lack patience with those who do not jump immediately to your commands. Be careful or you'll stir something up at home.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you're going to do any traveling today, check connections and accommodations well in advance. Something could get fouled up.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't make any deals with a friend at this time who wants a piece of the action for helping. Wait till the produces, then talk terms.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Others will resent it today if you place your self-interests too far above theirs. Be cooperative, not demanding.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Normally you're a rather optimistic and self-assured person, but today you'll harbor doubts about something you're involved in.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be careful today you don't make a commitment for a friend without first talking it over with her and getting her consent.

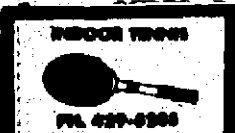

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You tend to do things today without fully appreciating all the ramifications. What appears easy may in reality be very complicated.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Avoid getting into philosophical or political discussions today with friends. The conversation could turn into a very serious debate.

Your Birthday

Nov. 2, 1975

This coming year you will be able to bring off situations you had difficulty getting off the ground in the past. The lessons you've learned have prepared you for success.

For Monday, Nov. 3, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be careful in your business affairs today. Matters could suddenly take an unusual turn. You might be caught off-guard.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Agreements you enter into today should be screened very thoroughly. Be sure even the smallest clause is spelled out clearly.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) You're very inventive today. You'll come up with a better method for doing a repetitious task that tied you down previously.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You'll be fortunate only with carefully calculated risks. Should you press your luck too far it won't stand the strain.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) An unusual day for you, one of endings and beginnings. Something from the past will be terminated as your interests shift to something new.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Weigh your words very wisely today or you might blurt out something that shouldn't be divulged now. Think before speaking.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Conditions are unique for you materially. Gains could come from two least expected sources.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll be both bold and clever in handling situations affecting you today. The results will be gratifying, yet your tactics will surprise others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your best ideas will come to you today if you're off somewhere alone where there's peace and quiet. Jot them down for later use.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) An interesting new acquaintance will suddenly enter your life. This person will be introduced to you by an old friend.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You'll not be deprived at this time of rewards rightfully due you. Just be patient. Let events run their course.

Your Birthday

Nov. 3, 1975

The coming year has some pleasant surprises in store. Your routines will be disrupted occasionally. Though you may complain at the time, you'll like the end result.

Dr. Lester Coleman

The transplantation of body tissue is a never-ending source of amazement to the laity and to physicians.

Despite the many problems of rejection of transplants, research surgeons are working toward the goal of successful transplants.

For the first time, a Fallopian tube has been transplanted. This tube is the one that carries the female egg from the ovary into the womb.

Many women who are unable to conceive because their Fallopian tubes are obstructed may, by this type of surgery, be given an additional chance of becoming pregnant.

Dr. B.M. Cohen, of the University of Capetown in South Africa, supported by a team of 14 surgeons and physicians, tried this innovative operation. They have indicated that there is good reason to believe that this surgery may yet become highly successful.

Now they await the results of their surgical skill while using every means to prevent the rejection of this new type of transplant.

The National Cancer Institute has reported some interesting statistics on the survival rate of a variety of cancers.

Director Dr. Marvin A. Schneiderman, after compiling the statistics, said, "What we are seeing, essentially, is a decrease in the failure rate."

In practical terms, these findings mean that "every year 16,000 people are living with cancer who would not be alive if they had had the disease 10 years previously."

Dr. Schneiderman pointed out that they have been important evidence of higher survival rates in cancer of the lung, breast, prostate, brain, skin and larynx.

These enormously interesting statistics represent great hope in the accomplishment of modern medicine.

The idea that knucklecrackers are laying the groundwork for arthritis and other joint problems is occupying the attention of Dr. Robert L. Swezey of the University of California.

His attitude is that although the habit is a noisy one for listeners, it does no injustice to the knuckles themselves.

I hope that leaking such information will not be the beginning of a new national pastime!

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Lester Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Pack Healthy Figs

Join the health-conscious lunch-packers and luck a "sugar fig" into brown bags for dessert that needs no preparation.

"Sugar figs" are what some health fans call natural dried figs, ready to eat right from the package. Nothing to add.

Over 55 percent of the weight of dried figs is made of natural fruit sugars, dextrose and fructose, the easiest sugars to digest. It's because figs are allowed to fully ripen and semi-dry right on the tree that they pick up added sun-drenched nutritional goodness.

Cut Down On Freckles

Make the most of your ophelides. These are freckles and they basically are hereditary.

Enjoy your freckles but cut down on their intensity by using sun screening lotions or creams when you are outdoors, winter or summer.

Here's The Final Five BH Commission Candidates

Sketches of five people today wrap up the series on candidates seeking Benton Harbor city commission seats in the Tuesday, Nov. 4, election.

Candidates presented today are four seeking two commissioner at-large seats for four-year terms, and one running unopposed for a two-year term.

BARBARA HUCKABY
Four-year term

Barbara Huckaby, 37, of 151 Seales; candidate for commissioner at-large four-year term; manager, H & H Construction; husband, William; two children; member, Benton Harbor Citizens Advisory board; attended San Francisco State college and San Francisco Conservatory of Music.

Mrs. Huckaby said her goals as a candidate are business and industrial development, greater citizen participation and more women in government. "I am particularly devoted to business and industrial growth in Benton Harbor," she said. "A lot of our problems, such as unemployment and crime, will be reduced if we can bring new business and industry to the city." Mrs. Huckaby said she was a candidate who would be held "accountable to the people and is interested in hearing suggestions and complaints from citizens."

Critical Of New Law

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The chairman of the Michigan Human Rights Party said Friday the new political reform law violates freedom of the press and speech, and could crimp the ability of reporters to get important political news.

Zolton Ferency said he expects numerous portions of the 71-page law to be declared unconstitutional before the law takes effect next spring or through legal action in years to come.

Ferency told a meeting of the Michigan Associated Press City Editors Association that many lawmakers did not know what was contained in the bill, which was introduced last March and passed two months later.

He criticized creation of a special ethics commission that he said will have sweeping powers over what will be published or suppressed.

The commission can suppress all records of its investigation into allegations of political wrongdoing if it determines there was, in fact, no wrongdoing, Ferency said.

He told the editors that reporters who know about a secret complaint to the commission cannot publicize it without being threatened with three years in prison and a $10,000 fine. He called that provision "plainly unconstitutional."

maintenance man for Peoples State bank, St. Joseph; wife, Callie Mae; one child; served on political committee of Local 435 of AFL-CIO in Chicago; attended American School of Photography, Chicago, and National Radio Institute, Washington, D.C.

McGrew said his main goal as a commissioner would be to develop better communication with the citizens of Benton Harbor. "I'd like to get in a position where I could help citizens and listen to their problems and try to straighten them out," he stated. "I know what it is like to be pushed around by city hall."

ANNIE ROBINSON
Four-year term

Annie Lee Robinson, 55, of 1035 Monroe; candidate for commissioner at-large four-year term; resident of Benton Harbor 50 years; husband, John; four children; licensed practical nurse at Claremont nursing home; city charter commissioner; outreach worker for Berrien County Council on Aging; worked as assistant coordinator, Benton Harbor senior citizens center; attended Benton Harbor Junior college.

Mrs. Robinson stated: "I am a candidate for all the people and not accountable to any special interest group. As a responsible housewife and mother, the things that concern the community also concern me and must have first priority."

She listed her priorities as crime, unemployment, safety on the streets, safe parks for our children, 100 per cent family participation in all city recreation activities, accountability for all tax disbursements, no rubber stamp commission and a 24-hour a day public representative.

CHARLES YARBROUGH
Four-year term

Charles (Mickey) Yarbrough, 36, of 127 South Hull; seeks reelection as commissioner at-large; Berrien County juvenile officer; divorced; one child; currently is city commissioner - at - large; is president of Bachelor 14 club, member, Deferred Prosecution screening board; member, Operation PUSH, and chairman of board of Al's Karate academy.

Yarbrough stated: "I think that a city commission that is more representative of the people's interest is needed. And I'm encouraged that so many good, honest people are seeking commission seats. We must continue to unite against crime and do so by Neighborhood Watch programs, education, employment programs and training."

Yarbrough said his top priority as a commissioner was young people. "We are going to need properly trained and educated young people to take over as leaders in the future. They have to be qualified to do the job it's going to take to rebuild the city."

Rev. Arnold R. Bolin, 46, incumbent, unopposed for two-year term commissioner at-large; lives at 576 Colfax; executive director, Berrien County Council of Churches; wife, Marilyn; four children; member, Benton Harbor housing commission; received bachelor's degree from Northern Michigan university; graduate, North Park Theological Seminary, Chicago.

Rev. Bolin stated: "My sole concern is to fully represent the citizens of the city. I want to see Benton Harbor restored through citizen involvement, with all resources brought to bear on our situation. We must learn to function without reliance on federal funds and non-interested parties. I want to see us move forward, without concern over who gets the credit. My dream is that we develop a real sense of community, transcending economic, racial, social, religious and political differences. I pledge to deal honestly and openly on all issues."

Going To Prison

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A promoter of the three-wheeled car called the "Dale" — which had a model production of one — has been sentenced to one to 10 years in prison for grand theft and violating state corporate securities laws in promoting the vehicle.

Leonard Katz, 42, of suburban Canoga Park, had served as executive vice president and secretary of the Los Angeles-based "Twentieth Century Motor Car Corp."

He was sentenced Friday after pleading guilty in Superior Court to two counts of grand theft and one count of violating state corporate securities laws in promoting the Dale, which was supposed to get 70 miles a gallon and cost under $2,000.

Four Newcomers Seek Seats On Bridgman City Council

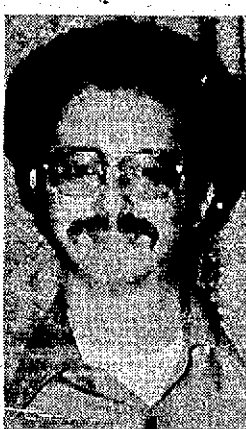

MARILYNN STANARD

JAMES A. BEMBENEK

DOMINIC D'AGOSTINO JR.

JAMES CATANIA

BRIDGMAN — Four newcomers seek election to three Bridgman city commission seats at stake in the city's Nov. 4 election.

The candidates are Marilyn Stanard, James A. Bembenek, Dominic D'Agostino Jr., and James Catania. The three top vote getters will all win four-year seats.

The four are vying for the posts currently held by commissioners Otha McIntosh and Bruno Szygielski, and a third post formerly held by William Kidd. McIntosh and Szygielski are not seeking re-election and Kidd has moved from the city.

Mrs. Stanard, 32, of Karen court, is a homemaker and piano teacher. A former high school teacher, she and her husband, Terry, have two children.

Bembenek, 31, of 3957 Pearl avenue, is employed as a teacher by the Lakeshore schools. He was formerly president of the Bridgman Education association. He and his wife, Margaret, have one child.

D'Agostino, 29, of Monogram hotel, Lake street, is employed at the Navajo restaurant, Bridgman, which is owned by his parents. He is single.

Catania, 28, a Benton Heights barber, resides with his wife, Janice, and one child at 9540 Mathieu street.

This is the first venture into politics for all four candidates.

Two women, one an incumbent, are seeking election to two, six-year library board posts. Unopposed are incumbent Mrs. Josephine "Polly" Gilmore, 32, of 96-C Baldwin road, and Mrs. Douglas (Nancy) Geisler, 31, of Power street.

Polls at city hall will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., according to Mrs. Phyllis Weber, city clerk.

$23.3 Million On Way

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Over $23.3 million in federal grants will fund 81 state projects and provide at least 3,758 jobs for Michigan's unemployed, the governor's office announced Friday.

The grants, released by the U.S. Department of Commerce, will fund projects in areas such as environmental protection, energy conservation and services for the poor and aging. A total $375 million was released for various states under the federal Job Opportunity Program. Michigan projects include wastewater treatment and services to help the poor and elderly repair and winterize their homes, the governor's office said.

Busing Ban Out Of Energy Bill

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears to have nearly completed work on its comprehensive national energy bill, but the measure won't be used to stop court-ordered school busing.

Congress and President Ford have been at odds over the direction a national energy policy should take, and the measure that appears headed for congressional approval would not resolve the dispute. The bill takes an opposite direction to proposals by Ford, who wants a quick end to price controls.

Senate-House conferees who are writing a compromise energy program removed one obstacle Friday that could have delayed the measure's approval. The conferees killed a House amendment that would have prohibited the busing of school pupils for desegregation purposes in the interest of fuel conservation.

The amendment would have banned busing as wasteful of fuel and would have provided for penalties to service station owners who sold gasoline or diesel fuel with knowledge that it would be used for busing.

Since there was no antibusing provision in the Senate-passed bill, the House conferees' vote ended the discussion.

After killing the amendment, the conferees indicated they remain as opposed to Ford's proposed program of higher energy prices as they were when he first spelled out his plan last

Jan. 15.

The Senate conferees, on a 16 to 8 party-line vote, rejected a Republican proposal to phase out oil price controls over 25 months.

Before the conferees complete work on the oil price section of the bill next week, there are expected to be other votes on other plans that would keep price controls in effect for a longer period before eventually ending them.

Such proposals probably will gain some Democratic support. But congressional aides say there is little chance the conferees will approve any plan that would not continue price controls indefinitely.

The House conferees, who are even more opposed to Ford's plan than are the senators, have yet to vote on oil prices.

If the conference committee completes work on the bill next week, the House and Senate would be expected to send the measure to Ford the week of Nov. 10 — perhaps only hours before the temporarily extended controls on oil prices expire on Nov. 15.

STUDY $1 FEE
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A special House committee has been named to study removing a $1 entrance fee imposed on the Detroit Institute of Arts by the legislature.

Police Can Tell Which Is Witch

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A 33-year-old Windsor woman has been arrested because police say she isn't a witch.

Police are withholding the name of the woman, who is charged with "fraudulently pretending to exercise witchcraft." Officials said she will appear Nov. 12 in Provincial Court.

She was arrested Thursday, the day before Halloween, at her home, reportedly while practicing her alleged trade.

Inspector John Hughes said the woman was seated on the floor across from a second woman, described by police as "the victim." The two women were spitting on a mixture of items placed between them.

Hughes said the mixture was later found to include two eggs, two bottles of vinegar and oil, water from the victim's bath, two urine samples, one grapefruit and a combination of bills adding up to $50.

Hughes said the alleged witch had been consulting with the victim concerning the victim's emotional problems since April Fool's Day.

The police official said in exchange for the "treatment," the victim had paid nearly $2,000 in cash and jewelry.

Ex-Coach Charges Bias At Ferris

BIG RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — The former track coach at Ferris State College has filed a suit charging the school with racial discrimination.

George McGinnis, now an instructor at the school, is seeking $50,000 in damages from the Ferris State board of control, claiming he was replaced as track coach because he is black.

Ray Helsing, who is white, replaced McGinnis, who was notified by the board of control in September 1974 that he would not be rehired as an instructor of health and physical education.

The suit, filed Thursday in a Grand Rapids federal court, will be heard by Judge Wendall Miles.

Mrs. Huckaby said she was a candidate who would be held "accountable to the people and is interested in hearing suggestions and complaints from citizens."

ELIAS MCGREW
Four-year term

Elias McGrew, 67, of 801 Pasadena, candidate for commissioner at-large four-year term; retired, former maintenance man for Peoples State Bank, St. Joseph; wife, Calie Mae; one child; served on political committee of Local 435 of AFL-CIO in Chicago; attended American School of Photography, Chicago, and National Radio Institute, Washington, D.C.

McGrew said his main goal as a commissioner would be to develop better communication with the citizens of Benton Harbor. "I'd like to get in a position where I could help citizens and listen to their problems and try to straighten them out," he stated. "I know what it is like to be pushed around by city hall."

ANNIE ROBINSON
Four-year term

Annie Lee Robinson, 55, of 1035 Monroe, candidate for commissioner at-large four-year term; resident of Benton Harbor 50 years; husband, John; four children; licensed practical nurse at Claremont nursing home; city charter commissioner; outreach worker for Berrien County Council on Aging; worked as assistant coordinator, Benton Harbor senior citizens center; attended Benton Harbor Junior College.

Mrs. Robinson stated: "I am a candidate for all the people and not accountable to any special interest group. As a responsible housewife and mother, the things that concern the community also concern me and must have first priority."

She listed her priorities as crime, unemployment, safety on the streets, safe parks for our children, 100 per cent family participation in all city recreation activities, accountability for all tax disbursements, no rubber stamp commission and a 24-hour a day public representative.

Rev. Bolin stated: "My sole concern is to fully represent the citizens of the city. I want to see Benton Harbor restored through citizen involvement with all resources brought to bear on our situation. We must learn to function without reliance on federal funds and non-interested parties. I want to see us move forward, without concern over who gets the credit. My dream is that we develop a real sense of community, transcending economic, racial, social, religious and political differences. I pledge to deal honestly and openly on all issues."

Going To Prison

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A proponent of the three-wheeled car called the "Dale" — which had a model production of one — has been sentenced to one to 10 years in prison for grand theft and violating state corporate securities laws in promoting the vehicle.

Leonard Katz, 42, of suburban Canoga Park, had served as executive vice president and secretary of the Los Angeles-based "Twentieth Century Motor Car Corp."

He was sentenced Friday after pleading guilty in Superior Court to two counts of grand theft and one count of violating state corporate securities laws in promoting the Dale, which was supposed to get 70 miles a gallon and cost under $2,000.

Critical Of New Law

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The chairman of the Michigan Human Rights Party said Friday the new political reform law violates freedom of the press and speech, and could curtail the ability of reporters to get important political news.

Zellon Ferency said he expects numerous portions of the 71-page law to be declared unconstitutional before the law takes effect next spring or through legal action in years to come.

Ferency told a meeting of the Michigan Associated Press City Editors Association that many lawmakers did not know what was contained in the bill, which was introduced last March and passed two months later.

He criticized creation of a special ethics commission that he said will have sweeping powers over what will be publicized or suppressed.

The commission can suppress all records of its investigation into allegations of political wrongdoing if it determines there was, in fact, no wrongdoing, Ferency said.

He told the editors that reporters who know about a secret complaint to the commission cannot publicize it without being threatened with three years in prison and a $10,000 fine. He called that provision "plainly unconstitutional."

Use Paint, Hooked Rugs Colonial Look For Floors

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

In trying to do something early American to their homes in time for Bicentennial celebrations, some women have become interested in the treatment of floors in the colonial manner.

It's something to think about before you do anything different to floors. One woman would like to paint the floor in a color and put a rug over it that reflects the American colonial life. She also plans to use quilts (folded and put over a sofa) and candles and one or two early accessories.

Wood floors can be painted and even spattered. In fact old floorboards are vastly improved if they are painted in one of the colors that were popular in the early days.

Dark red, even deeper than barn red, and a deep orange-yellow, near to a pumpkin color, can be delightful pick-ups for a room. The floor can be painted in solid color or in geometrics.

Some colonists favored diamond patterns. And there are old records that reveal stenciling was used on floors as well as walls.

Years ago it was difficult to get off-beat colors but now there is a greater selection in paint shops.

Some decorators use multicolors in spattering floors. This is a pretty effect and it makes it easier to tie other colors into the room as time goes on. For those who would do it themselves — it is tedious work — patience must be employed. One decorator was observed spattering a table and he advises a floor is done pretty much the same way.

Hold a very stiff brush in one hand and using a wood stick or other object, run it gently over the brush of paint. This should be practiced until you get spatters of the right size. Distance makes a difference — start by holding the brush about four inches from the floor.

It's a good idea to wear a smock as the paint can go awry. Spattering is another way to cover old floors that are beyond smoothing, but decorators have remarked that there should be some pattern in addition, such as squares, as an eye-arresting solution to bad floors.

But one must practice, one woman emphasizes. She had made such a botch of spattering — some of the paint came out in big blobs — that she used geometrics to cover her mistakes.

Tag, hooked and canvas rugs were used over early American floors. Hooking is popular right now, and this might be the choice that would be pleasing and currently fashionable.

Then, too, a lot of the motif in kits runs to the early American designs. The choice is usually flowers and these are often set within a geometrical pattern of one large or six little squares alternating with a floral square.

A 4 by 6 latch hook rug might take about four months.

Painted canvas is another kind of early American rug, but some people do not consider these very satisfactory as they do show wear. Other people like the effect of the worn design just as they might appreciate a worn, faded Oriental rug.

A canvas rug may not be a happy solution in a child-oriented home.

Unless the rug is lined it is very light weight and might take on the appearance of an old potato sack in a short time. But lining such rugs helps tremendously.

There weren't too many accessories around in the early days, but some articles made later can charmingly carry out the early look.

Decorative boxes that were used to hold salt, candles, spices and cutlery on walls and tables can be used for the purpose.

Scones and lanterns of tin and pewter can add a touch and of course, if one has a spinning wheel in the barn, it can be put in a corner to collect some dust while you are making early American points.

Blanket chests add a homey touch, too. In a family room, a blanket chest could be a neat solution to the problem of records, magazines and odds and ends, if clutter is a problem.

Mildewed Closets? The Answer's Here

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Troubled by mildew in closets?

First, the presence of mildew usually is caused by a lack of air circulation. If you have any kind of air conditioning in your house, allow free circulation between the closet and air-conditioned areas.

Keep the closet door open. If this is not possible, install a louvered door.

At the very least, place a number of small ventilators in the door. There are several chemical agents on the market which will dry out the air by absorbing moisture. These agents must be dried out or replaced periodically.

Quite often, keeping an electric light burning in the closet will help dry it out, especially if the latter isn't too large.

Other aids are certain commercial fungicides, but these have the disadvantage of emitting fumes.

Since mildew is a growth that may continue to thrive, be sure everything in the closet is thoroughly cleaned before you do anything.

It might not be a bad idea, also, to paint the inside of the closet with a mildew-resistant paint.

Projects Relieve His Boredom

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Instead of twiddling thumbs or watching soap operas in his hotel room, a traveling do-it-yourselfer might continue a workshop project.

Singer-composer Bill Crofut

has managed to do one or another project while giving folk music concerts in some 50 states and 34 countries.

He has made brasses for a harpsichord he built and hinges for cabinets of his 18th century pre-Revolutionary home where he lives with his wife, Susie, and three daughters 11, 10 and 6.

On one trip his luggage included a propane torch, files, a jeweler's saw (with lots of blades), sheets of brass which he had sawed into strips at a local school workshop. Schools are good sources for odd tools.

The harpsichord, built from a kit, took about 1,000 hours. Another achievement is a copy of a 16th century portative church organ with 228 pipes. It works on a steam-whistle principle — push a key which pulls a strong toot a pipe.

the kitchen and wood stoves in the bedrooms, they are provided with nearly all their heat.

"We practically live here in winter," he says of their cozy kitchen. The room has an old look with the old stoves, the cabinet doors of barn wood he built, the floors and the like.

"A real project can ease boredom during the endless waits between performances — and it can keep you out of trouble," he adds laughing, "although it may not endear you to hotel maids."

When he and his partner Stephen Addis were performing concerts under the cultural exchange program in Africa and Asia during the '60s, Addis taught himself two languages as Crofut made little objects. He has made silver jewelry for his wife on many trips.

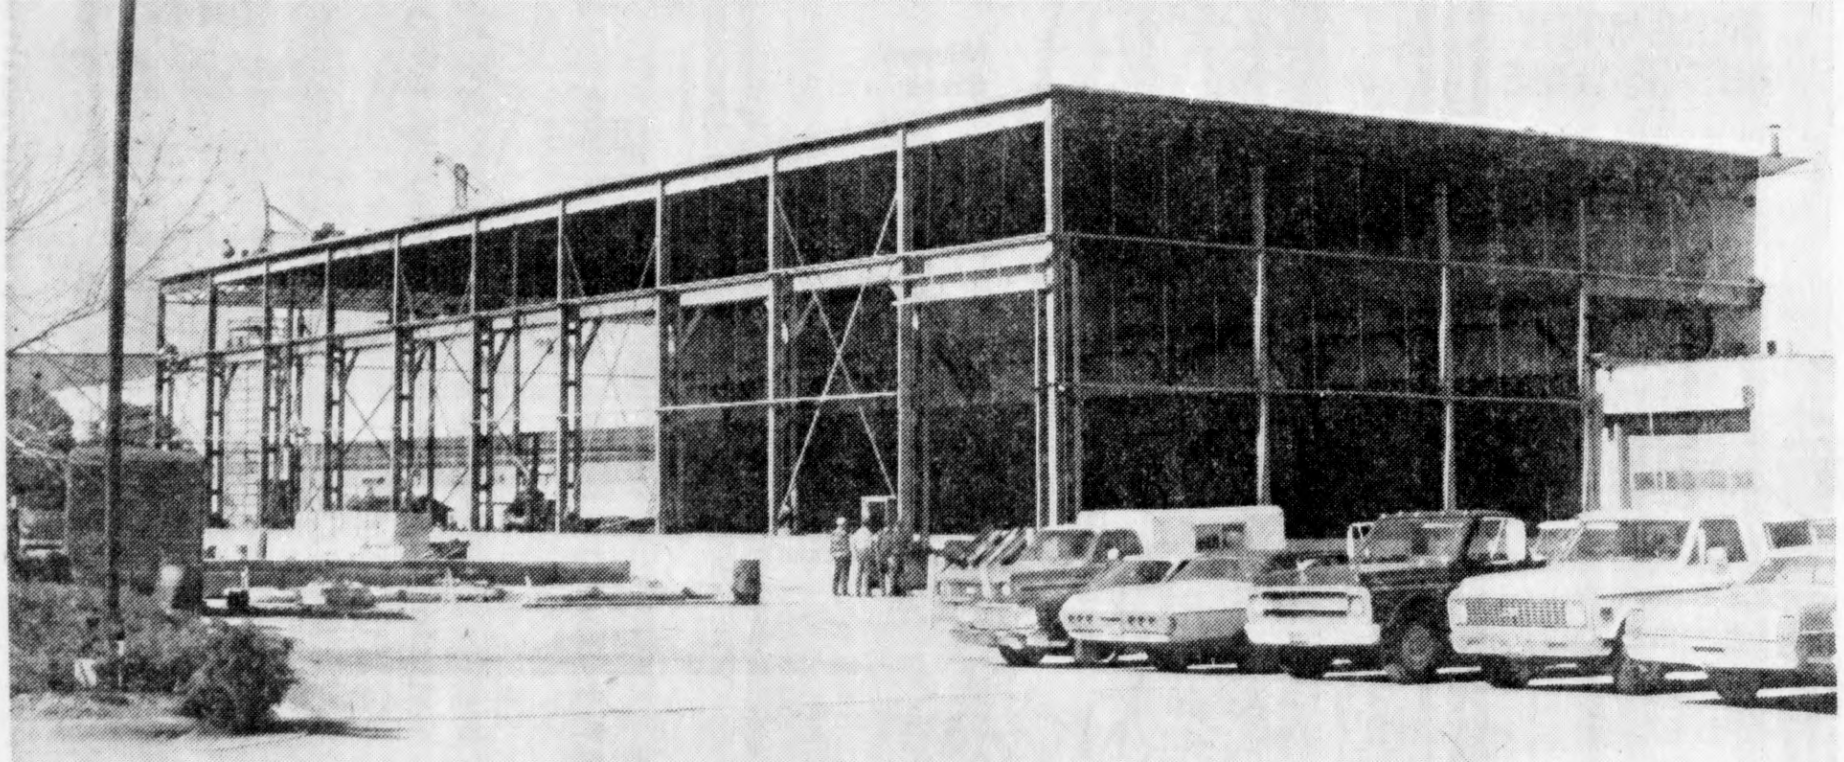

Sometimes Crofut and Addis used spare time for fund-raising — in Hue they raised $1,400 for flood victims, receiving unexpected praise from President Lyndon Johnson in 1963 for volunteerism in helping to organize the Foundation in Preventive Medicine in Africa and raising money in benefit concerts to send two doctors abroad.

A handsome, sandy-haired six-footer, Crofut has rebuilt the old house in Wilton, Conn., as well as built an office ($1,600) and a handsome barn ($7,000) during respites from tours.

"You can't really do big things on the road. Repetitives like brasses and other small things are easiest," he advises.

In remodeling the house, he built a new old-looking early American fireplace, an addition to many tiny ones in the house. With that fireplace, a big black Portland queen wood stove in

Water Hammer--A Threat To Pipes

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The entire water supply system in your house is placed under heavy strain when there is a pounding or hammering sound as a faucet is shut off.

If this condition is permitted to persist over a period of time, severe damage can result, not the least of which is bursting a pipe.

Sometimes it is difficult to take immediate action to solve the problem, in which case every member of the family should be instructed to shut off the offending faucet very slowly each time it is used. This will eliminate or minimize the noise, but it should not be used as an excuse to avoid a solution indefinitely.

The condition is known as water hammer. It occurs when there are insufficient air chambers or when one or more of them has become filled with water instead of air.

An air chamber is basically a piece of pipe or coil which absorbs the shock when rushing water is quickly halted by the closing of a valve.

Occasionally hammering can be stopped by shutting off the main water valve to the house, draining the entire system and allowing all the faucets to remain open for a short time.

The faucets are then closed and the main valve turned on again.

This method sometimes works by releasing the water from the air chambers and permitting air to re-enter them.

In some cases of water hammer, a pipe that is not secured well to a beam or other support will vibrate violently. So, when water hammer is present, you should immediately track as much of the water line as possible and see whether any portion of it is loose. Even a half-inch of play between a pipe and a beam is sufficient to cause noise as the vibrating pipe slams into the wood. See whether a supporting strap or bracket has worked loose and requires readjustment or replacement.

If you can't stop the hammer yourself, you'll need a plumber, who will decide whether to install a new air chamber, shock absorbers, pressure reducing valve or one of the various noise-eliminating devices on the market.

If you have the know-how, you can handle the job yourself but you'd first better be sure your local regulations permit such an installation.

Police Can Tell Which Is Witch

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A 33-year-old Windsor woman has been arrested because police say she isn't a witch.

Police are withholding the name of the woman, who is charged with "fraudulently pretending to exercise witchcraft." Officials said she will appear Nov. 12 in Provincial Court.

She was arrested Thursday, the day before Halloween, at her home, reportedly while practicing her alleged trade.

Inspector John Hughes said the woman was seated on the floor across from a second woman, described by police as "the victim." The two women were spitting on a mixture of items placed between them.

Hughes said the mixture was later found to include two eggs, two bottles of vinegar and oil, water from the victim's bath, two urine samples, one grapefruit and a combination of bills adding up to $50.

Hughes said the alleged witch had been consulting with the victim concerning the victim's emotional problems since April Fool's Day.

The police official said in exchange for the "treatment," the victim had paid nearly $2,000 in cash and jewelry.

Ex-Coach Charges Bias At Ferris

BIG RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — The former track coach at Ferris State College has filed a suit charging the school with racial discrimination.

George McGinnis, now an instructor at the school, is seeking $50,000 in damages from the Ferris State board of control, claiming he was replaced as track coach because he is black.

Ray Helsing, who is white, replaced McGinnis, who was notified by the board of control in September 1974 that he would not be rehired as an instructor of health and physical education.

The suit, filed Thursday in a Grand Rapids federal court, will be heard by Judge Wendall Miles.

NEW PROGRAM FOR HAIR LOSS

Frank Moran Shows He Regrew Hair. He Did Not Have Male Pattern Baldness.

MIDWEST/ERICKSON HAIR CONSULTANT WILL EXPLAIN HAIR PROBLEMS AT THE HOLIDAY INN I-94 EXIT 28 & US 31, BENTON HARBOR, MICHIGAN MONDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1975 HOURS 1 P.M. to 8:30 P.M.

Chicago, Ill., Monday, November 3, 1975, Mr. A. C. Erickson will be back in Benton Harbor, Michigan again Monday, November 3, 1975. Now is the time to act on this great opportunity. Every man and woman now losing hair should take advantage of the FREE CONSULTATION.

GUARANTEED You will be given a written guarantee on a pro-rated basis from the beginning to the end.

Naturally we could not give you such a guarantee if it didn't work.

CAN'T HELP Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of balding and excessive hair loss, for which no method is effective.

Midwest/Erickson Hair Specialists cannot help those who are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss?

Member of Chicago Chamber of Commerce

Even if baldness seems to "run in the family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of your hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead you are beyond help. So, if you still have hair on top of your head, and would like to stop hair loss and grow more hair...now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

FREE CONSULTATION Just take a few minutes of your time on Monday, November 3, 1975, and go to the Holiday Inn I-94 Exit 28 & US 31 in Benton Harbor, Michigan between 1 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. and ask the Desk Clerk for A. C. Erickson's room number.

There is no charge, or obligation...all consultations are private; you will not be embarrassed in any way.

Hartford Voters To Choose Mayor, 3 Councilmen, Clerk

HARTFORD — Voters in the Nov. 4 city elections here will choose a mayor from two candidates and will choose three of seven candidates for the Hartford city council.

They will also decide a race for the clerk's office, triggered by a write-in campaign.

Seeking the two-year mayor's post are incumbent Gene Story and Wayne D. Nelson, son of former Hartford mayor Norb Nelson.

Among the seven candidates for three, two-year seats on the city council are three incumbents, Donald Ellsworth Smith, Von Dean Huddleston and Lois Budreau and four challengers, Charles A. Engle, Elmer Eugene Hadley, Gene L. Larsson and James Markel.

The unofficial race for the clerk's office pits incumbent clerk Jewell Story, 43, wife of the mayor, against write-in challenger Vivian DeMorrow, 46.

Mrs. DeMorrow announced she would seek the office as a write-in candidate after the deadline for getting on the ballot.

Appearing on the ballot without formal opposition with Mrs. Story are Lucille Mann, 46, incumbent treasurer, and Robert Beatty, 69, incumbent assessor.

Terms of the three offices are for one year.

Story and the three incumbent councilmen whose posts are up for election will battle against a team consisting of Nelson and three former councilmen. Markel, a newcomer to city politics, is running for a council seat as an independent.

Story, 47, was appointed mayor in March by the other five members of the city council after Mayor Wesley Knapp resigned. He was a councilman for three years prior to being appointed mayor. He is a government teacher at Hartford high school and he and his wife, Jewell, live at 104 Maple street. They have 11 children.

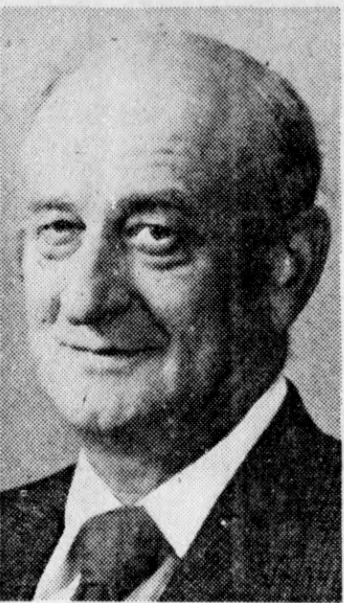

Nelson, 28, is the office manager for Lloyd R. Fayling, U.S. Magistrate and attorney in Kalamazoo. He and his wife, Louise, have two children and live at 107 North Maple street.

Smith, 59, is seeking his third, two-year term on the council. He is an inspector in the quality control section of Auto Specialties Manufacturing company, St. Joseph. He and his wife, Mildred, live at 124 West Hillsborough and they have seven children.

Huddleston, 37, is seeking his second term. He is manager in the meat department at Harding's in Bangor. He and his wife, Betty, live at 326 North Center street, and they have four children.

Mrs. Budreau, 44, was appointed to the council last June. She is a homemaker and she and her husband, William, live at 114 Shepard street. They have eight children.

Hadley, 54, served as a councilman for five years. He is a terminal manager for Yerington Transport, Hartford, and he and his wife, Betty, have two sons and live at 502 East Main street.

Use Paint, Hooked Rugs

Colonial Look For Floors

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

In trying to do something early American to their homes in time for Bicentennial celebrations, some women have become interested in the treatment of floors in the colonial manner.

It's something to think about before you do anything different to floors. One woman would like to paint the floor in a color and put a rug over it that reflects the American colonial life. She also plans to use quilts (folded and put over a sofa) and candles and one or two early accessories.

Wood floors can be painted and even spattered. In fact old floorboards are vastly improved if they are painted in one of the colors that were popular in the early days.

Dark red, even deeper than burnt red, and a deep orange-yellow, near to a pumpkin color, can be delightful pick-ups for a room. The floor can be painted in solid color or in geometrics.

Some colonists favored diamond patterns. And there are old records that reveal stonceling was used on floors as well as walls.

Years ago it was difficult to get off-heat colors but now there is a greater selection in paint shops.

Some decorators use multicolors in spattering floors. This is a pretty effect and it makes it easier to tie other colors into the room as time goes on. For those who would do it themselves — it is tedious work — patience must be employed. One decorator was observed spattering a table and he advises a floor is done pretty much the same way.

Hold a very stiff brush in one hand and using a wood stick or other object, run it gently over the brush of paint. This should be practiced until you get spatters of the right size. Distance makes a difference — start by holding the brush about four inches from the floor.

It's a good idea to wear a smock as the paint can go awry.

Spattering is another way to cover old floors that are beyond smoothing, but decorators have remarked that there should be some pattern in addition, such as squares, as an eye-arresting solution to bad floors.

But one must practice, one woman emphasizes. She had made such a botch of spattering — some of the paint came out in big blobs — that she used geometrics to cover her mistakes.

Rag, hooked and canvas rugs were used over early American floors. Hooking is popular right now, and this might be the choice that would be pleasing and currently fashionable.

Then, too, a lot of the motif in kits runs to the early American designs. The choice is usually flowers and these are often set within a geometrical pattern of one large or six little squares alternating with a floral square.

A 4 by 6 latch hook rug might take about four months.

Painted canvas is another kind of early American rug, but some people do not consider these very satisfactory as they do show wear. Other people like the effect of the worn design just as they might appreciate a worn, faded Oriental rug.

A canvas rug may not be a happy solution in a child-oriented home.

Unless the rug is lined it is very light weight and might take on the appearance of an old potato sack in a short time. But lining such rugs helps tremendously.

There weren't too many accessories around in the early days, but some articles made later can charmingly carry out the early look.

Decorative boxes that were used to hold salt, candles, spices and cutlery on walls and tables can be used for the purpose.

Seconces and lanterns of tin and pewter can add a touch and of course, if one has a spinning Mildewed Closets?

The Answer's Here

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Troubled by mildew in closets?

First, the presence of mildew usually is caused by a lack of air circulation. If you have any kind of air conditioning in your house, allow free circulation between the closet and air-conditioned areas.

Keep the closet door open. If this is not possible, install a lowered door.

At the very least, place a number of small ventilators in the door. There are several chemical agents on the market which will dry out the air by absorbing moisture. These agents must be dried out or replaced periodically.

Quite often, keeping an electric light burning in the closet will help dry it out, especially if the latter isn't too large.

Other aids are certain commercial fungicides, but these have the disadvantage of emitting fumes.

Since mildew is a growth that may continue to thrive, be sure everything in the closet is thoroughly cleaned before you do anything.

It might not be a bad idea, also, to paint the inside of the closet with a mildew-resistant paint.

Projects Relieve His Boredom

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Instead of twiddling thumbs or watching soap operas in his hotel room, a traveling do-it-yourselfer might continue a workshop project.

Singer-composer Bill Crofut

has managed to do one or another project while giving folk music concerts in some 50 states and 34 countries.

He has made brasses for a harpsichord he built and hinges for cabinets of his 18th century pre-Revolutionary home where he lives with his wife, Susie, and three daughters 11, 10 and 6.

"A real project can ease boredom during the endless waits between performances — and it can keep you out of trouble," he adds laughing, "although it may not endear you to hotel maids."

When he and his partner Stephen Addis were performing concerts under the cultural exchange program in Africa and Asia during the '60s, Addis taught himself two languages as Crofut made little objects. He has made silver jewelry for his wife on many trips.

Sometimes Crofut and Addis used spare time for fund-raising — in Hue they raised $1,400 for flood victims, receiving unexpected praise from President Lyndon Johnson in 1963 for volunteerism in helping to organize the Foundation in Preventive Medicine in Africa and raising money in benefit concerts to send two doctors abroad.

A handsome, sandy-haired six-footer, Crofut has rebuilt the old house in Wilton, Conn., as well as built an office ($1,600) and a handsome barn ($7,000) during respites from tours.

"You can't really do big things on the road. Repetitives like brasses and other small things are easiest," he advises.

On one trip, his luggage included a propane torch, files, a jeweler's saw (with lots of blades), sheets of brass which he had sawed into strips at a local school workshop. Schools are good sources for odd tools.

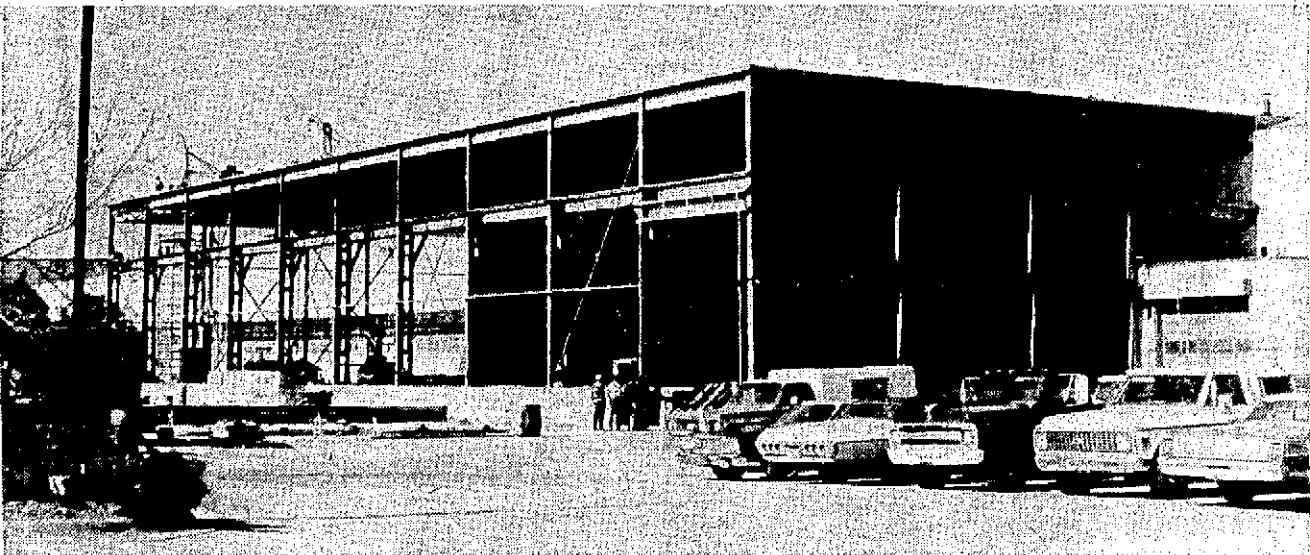

The harpsichord, built from a kit, took about 1,000 hours. Another achievement is a copy of a 18th century portable church organ with 228 pipes. It works on a steam-whistle principle — push a key which pulls a string to heat a pipe.

In remodeling the house, he built a new old-looking early American fireplace, an addition to many tiny ones in the house. With that fireplace, a big black Portland queen wood stove in the kitchen and wood stoves in the bedrooms, they are provided with nearly all their heat.

"We practically live here in winter," he says of their cozy kitchen. The room has an old look with the old stoves, the cabinet doors of hewn wood he built, the floors and the like.

WHIRLPOOL ADDITION: Construction of new $1.4 million addition to Whirlpool's St. Joseph division plant 5 is expected to be completed in mid-December. The 16,000 square foot building, which is 70 per cent completed, is being built at southeast corner of Plant 5, just east of US-33, facing turning basin in St. Joseph river. Building will house new steel slitting equipment, steel receiving dock and steel coil storage area. The $1.4 million is for construction and equipment costs. Steel coils, 72 inches in diameter, will be slit into narrow widths at plant for use in production of washers and dryers. Steel coils are now slit for Whirlpool by another company. (Staff photo)

Water Hammer--A Threat To Pipes

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The entire water supply system in your house is placed under heavy strain when there is a pounding or hammering sound as a faucet is shut off.

If this condition is permitted to persist over a period of time, severe damage can result, not the least of which is bursting a pipe.

Sometimes it is difficult to take immediate action to solve the problem, in which case every member of the family should be instructed to shut off the offending faucet very slowly each time it is used. This will eliminate or minimize the noise, but it should not be used as an excuse to avoid a solution indefinitely.

The condition is known as water hammer. It occurs when there are insufficient air chambers or when one or more of them has become filled with water instead of air.

An air chamber is basically a piece of pipe or coil which absorbs the shock when rushing water is quickly halted by the closing of a valve.

Occasionally hammering can be stopped by shutting off the main water valve to the house, draining the entire system and allowing all the faucets to remain open for a short time.

The faucets are then closed and the main valve turned on again.

This method sometimes works by releasing the water from the air chambers and permitting air to re-enter them.

In some cases of water hammer, a pipe that is not secured well to a beam or other support will vibrate violently. So, when water hammer is present, you should immediately tely track as much of the water line as possible and see whether any portion of it is loose. Even a half-inch of play between a pipe and a beam is sufficient to cause noise as the vibrating pipe slams into the wood. See whether a supporting strap or bracket has worked loose and requires readjustment or replacement.

If you can't stop the hammer yourself, you'll need a plumber, who will decide whether to install a new air chamber, shock absorbers, pressure reducing valve or one of the various noise-eliminating devices on the market.

If you have the know-how, you can handle the job yourself but you'd first better be sure your local regulations permit such an installation.

Pickup Truck Lands In River; Driver Missing

By STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

WATERVLIT — Police said today they are trying to determine the fate of the driver of a pickup truck that slammed into a bridge on County Line road near here early this morning and toppled into the Paw Paw river. Watervliet Police Lt. John Latsch said the driver is believed to have been Rick Nelski, 25, route 1, Covert.

The collision left the bridge unusable, Latsch said.

According to Latsch, police have searched the area and contacted area hospitals, but have not been able to locate the driver of the truck which rolled into the Paw Paw river after striking a corner of the bridge.

As of this morning authorities had not determined whether the river would be dragged. The bridge is located on the Van Buren - Berrien county line about a quarter-mile south of Dwight Boyer road. It is owned by Van Buren county.

Latsch said the bridge will be out of service until repairs are made. The bridge is made of wood and iron.

Latsch said the crash was believed to have occurred between 2:30 a.m. and 4 a.m. when he found the wreckage. Police reported it appeared the truck approached the bridge from the south at a high rate of speed, struck two sections of guard rail, and caromed into the bridge, undermining the north-west corner. The pavement was wet from rain at the time.

The truck then rolled over into the river. Latsch said upon inspecting the wreckage the engine was found in the front seat. He said it as believed the driver was the only one in the vehicle.

Police ran a check on the license plates and the owner of the truck was determined to be Edward Nelski. Nelski reportedly told police his son, Rick, had taken the truck about 2 a.m.

Members of the Van Buren county road commission checked the scene but were unavailable for comment this morning. Latsch said the bridge was old and was used moderately by motorists.

The bridge did not land in the water, but the northwest corner fell, making it unusable to traffic.

Watervliet police are investigating the accident because it occurred on the Berrien county side of the line.

Ford To Record A 'First'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, becoming the first president to give videotaped testimony in a criminal trial, is to tell what he saw and heard the day Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme allegedly attempted to assassinate him. The President was scheduled to meet today with U.S. District Court Judge Thomas MacBride and defense and prosecution lawyers for the taping of his recollection of the events of Sept. 5 at Sacramento, Calif. On that day, as Ford was walking to the California capitol, Miss Fromme pointed a loaded .45-caliber pistol at him. No president has ever testified in person at a criminal trial while in office and the videotape procedure never has been used to obtain presidential testimony.

No Promotion Lists

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Court of Appeals has forbidden city officials to publish police department promotion lists until it bargains with the Detroit Police Officers Association (DPOA). The case decided Friday goes back to a DPOA grievance filed with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission over a year ago, after then-Police Commissioner John Nichols suggested college degrees be a requirement for promotion.

New Buffalo Man Credited In U.S. Mail Truck Recovery

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NEW BUFFALO — Police here credited an auxiliary New Buffalo policeman with the recovery of a U.S. mail truck reported stolen from Lansing, Ill., and the arrest of a Bridgeview, Ill., man late yesterday morning.

Dale Siebenmark, New Buffalo police chief, said Don Wehner, director of the Travel Information Center on I-94 south of New Buffalo and an auxiliary New Buffalo policeman, was instrumental in the capture of the man.

Lodged in the Kalamazoo county jail, Kalamazoo, on federal charges of obstruction of mail and theft of a postal vehicle was Thomas Finwall, 33, of Bridgeview, Ill.

Wehner, 43, of 311 South Whittaker street, New Buffalo, told police he was at work at the information center yesterday about 11:30 a.m. when he saw a small mail delivery truck pull into the center's parking lot.

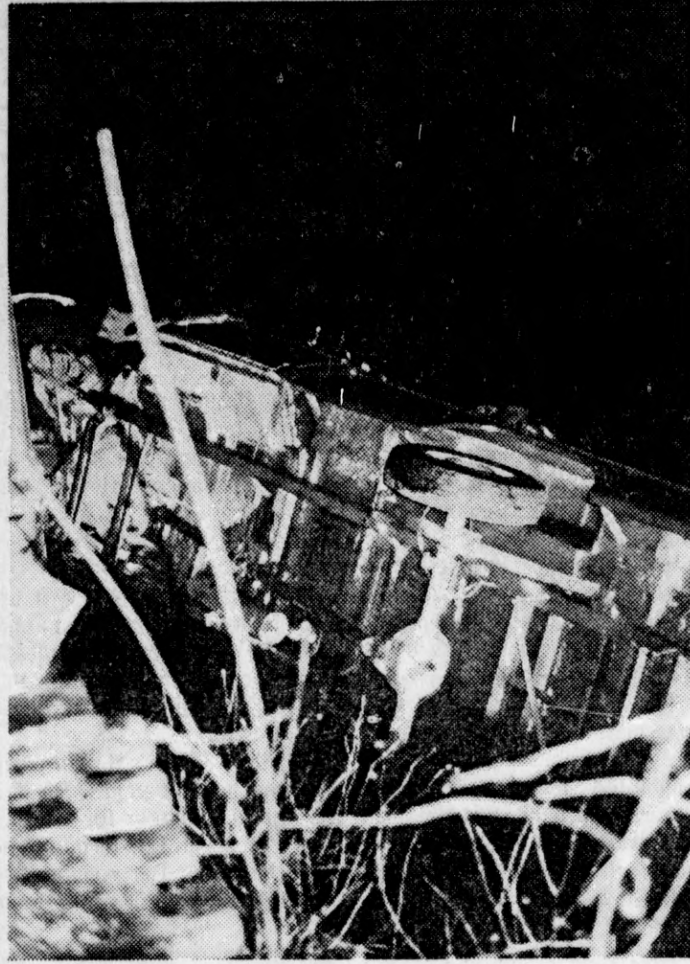

The center is located south of New Buffalo in New Buffalo township, about one mile north of the Michigan-Indiana state line.

Wehner, who is also a freelance photographer who takes pictures for The Herald-Palladium, said he became suspicious when he saw the driver wipe the mail truck steering wheel with a cloth and then step from the truck — dressed in street clothes.

The man walked into the center, asked to use a telephone, was directed to the outside of

and don't give workers the benefits they deserve for losing their health on the job.

Nearly 14,000 jobs were lost between 1970 and 1972 after plants closed or moved away primarily due to high workmen's compensation costs, said Ed Wolf, a representative of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce and Michigan Manufacturing Association.

Ken Klausung of Metalloy Foundry Inc., a Hudson factory which employs 170 workers, said if the labor-backed bill is approved, "We estimate we could move our foundry 15 miles south into Ohio, maintain our present work force, pay them more money and the company still would be many dollars ahead based on the difference in Workmen's Compensation rates."

Klausung said Ohio's rates are 50.7 per cent lower than Michigan's, and Indiana's are 76.9 per cent lower.

The Democrat-sponsored bills would base benefits on up to 200 per cent of the state average weekly wage, which is now $210 a week. A bill supported by Milliken would base benefits on 100 per cent of the average wage, as would the industry bill. Current maximum benefits are $136 a week.

Labor also would like to grant benefits based on the degree of injury and not just wages lost, as the current system does and other bills propose

Air Force Major Fired

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (AP) — Air Force Maj. Harold Hering is being discharged today because the military says he violated its concept of an officer's duty. He says he only asked for assurances that should be ordered to launch a nuclear missile it would be by a sane president of the United States. A decorated major with 20 years' service that includes six tours in Vietnam as a helicopter pilot, Hering says he is leaving the Air Force because he requested "basic information about checks and balances or safeguards at the national command authority level." The Air Force said the request showed "failure to demonstrate acceptable qualities of leadership required of an officer of his grade, failure to properly discharge assignments commensurate with his grade and experience" and "his defective attitude toward his assigned duties." Hering, 39 and the father of five, says he might sue the government to recover the loss of $11,500 in pay and pension he says the discharge already has cost him.

Admits Odometer Setback

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The head of Mount Clemens' largest Buick dealership admitted his company set back odometers but said it was done without his knowledge, an official in the Department of State has said. In addition, the employee who set them back "terminated his employment" with the company last April 15, the official quoted Warren Mitchell, president of Mitchell Buick Sales, Inc., as saying. Mitchell testified Friday before a Department of State hearing examiner on five charges against his company of setting back odometers on used cars to make it appear they were driven fewer miles.

Federally-Funded Jobs

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Five Michigan counties with high unemployment rates have been ruled eligible for federally funded soil conservation jobs. Soil Conservation Districts in Alpena, Hillsdale, Luce, Manistee and Montcalm counties may share $630,000 to create one-year jobs, said a U.S. Soil Conservation Service official. The counties all have unemployment rates from 16 per cent to 22 per cent, well above state and national averages, the official said Friday. The conservation work planned, similar to Works Project Administration jobs in the 1930s, will be for erosion control, recreation development and some forestry improvements, he said.

Astronomer Finds New Galaxy

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — A University of Maryland astronomer has discovered by accident what appears to be the nearest galaxy to our own Milky Way — a cluster of about 200 million stars some 55,000 light years from the sun.

Dr. S. Christian Simonson III announced his discovery today in the Astrophysical Journal Letters. He said the galaxy, dubbed Snickers, had previously gone unnoticed because it is hidden from view by dense star fields and cosmic dust clouds.

The galaxy is about one-tenth of 1 per cent the size of the Milky Way, which contains 200 billion stars. It is about 55,000 light years from the sun, a light year being the distance light travels in a year at a speed of 186,000 miles per second.

Airport License Protest

GRAYLING, Mich. (AP) — The operating license for a company which manages the Grayling Airport has been renewed, despite protests by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners. The commissioners said Friday they may go to court seeking an injunction against the Aeronautics Bureau to prevent the license for Grayling Air Inc. from going into effect. The commissioners allege the Livonia-based company has not maintained the airport in a safe manner. James Ramsey, deputy director of the Michigan Aeronautics Bureau, announced the license was renewed earlier this week on the recommendation of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

Prince Takes Helm In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon began settling into his new position as provisional chief of state today while Generalissimo Francisco Franco, removed by illness as dictator after 36 years, remained in grave condition. Franco, in his 15th day of lingering heart illness, showed signs Friday of peritonitis — inflammation of the abdominal membrane — that doctors said could hasten his death.

An early morning medical bulletin said Franco rested through the night. But the 82-year-old general was also suffering from lung congestion, a failing heart and a buildup of fluid in his abdominal cavity.

5. A 5 per cent reduction in the following categories: Compensatory education, $1,125,000; neighborhood centers, $25,000; alternative juvenile programs, $55,000; transportation, $3,140,000; media centers, $45,000; and programs for pregnant persons, $35,000.

6. Elimination of the following categories: Reading support, $3 million; academically talented, $200,000; experimental projects, $200,000; special education millage reimbursement, $3 million; vocational education millage reimbursement, $1,200,000; cooperative programs, $600,000; and community schools, $1,300,000.

According to the superintendents, the proposed educational cuts would cause the following deficits to their respective districts: Niles, $158,433; Brandywine, $90,800; Buchanan, $65,361; Berrien Springs, $62,552; Eau Claire, $27,400; and Galien, $22,574.

Edward Ossmann, Brandywine superintendent, said "We were floored when we read the details of the Governor's proposed cuts...and even more when we figured how it affects us locally."

Supt. Fairman of Niles said "These cuts are going to be doubly hard to put into effect, since we're already well into the current fiscal year. Contracts are signed and we're committed to them."

Supt. Schuster of Berrien Springs said "It's obvious this political football is being kicked around at the expense of education. The Governor and legislators don't want to raise taxes in an election year, so they're throwing it back into the hands of the school boards."

He said certain programs are underway which the state promised funding for, teachers have been hired, and now "they're saying we can't have certain programs already started."

"It makes us the fall guy for a problem we didn't create," Schuster said. "Come next June we're (school boards) going to have to ask for additional millage to make up for state-incurred deficits this year."

Supt. Dougherty of Buchanan said "This year we adopted a budget with a zero balance. We have made numerous cuts already. We now have no place to go except additional layoffs."

Ossmann and the other superintendents felt that if a state aid cut is necessary, it should not be made in various categorical programs which affect only some school districts, but in combined membership aid and local tax.

Supt. Schaeffer of Eau Claire and Supt. Tilmann of Galien said contracts are already locked in this year and if it comes to layoffs, school boards are still liable for unemployment compensation.

Also all six districts have already borrowed money in anticipation of state aid. Supt. Dougherty said Buchanan has already borrowed up to its full amount, $700,000, "and now they are telling us we are not going to get the full amount."

The superintendents urged every local citizen to write legislators informing them the proposed cut in state education funds will affect their school districts. They said local residents should request that other means be sought to give the state its balanced budget.

Sees Okay Of NYC Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Banking Committee predicts that the panel will ignore a promised presidential veto and approve a bill that would grant $7 billion in federal loan guarantees to New York City.

"I think we can do it," said Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis. "It will be close, but we will have the votes to do it."

He said the only thing that might stand in the way is that "a lot of people would sooner see New York perish in bankruptcy."

Under the bill, the city's fiscal operations would be overseen by a federal panel made up of presidential appointees.

The Banking Committee is expected to begin work on the bill Monday. But even with Banking Committee approval, the plan faces stiff House Republican opposition and a threat by President Ford to veto any measure designed to bail out the troubled city.

DRUG HUNT

Raiders Grab Five In Berrien Springs

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Five Berrien Springs residents were arrested during a drug raid on an apartment here early this morning, according to Berrien Springs village - Oronoko township police.

Officers said they confiscated suspected marijuana believed to have a street value of about $50.

Arrested in the 3:45 a.m. raid on Apartment C4, Regency apartments, 205 South George street, were three apartment residents police identified as Kenneth Kincaid, 20; Mark Brekla, 22; and Cheryl Deitel, 17.

Police said Kincaid was arrested on a charge of possession of marijuana with intent to deliver (sell), and Brekla and Miss Deitel were arrested on charges of possession of marijuana.

Also arrested at the apartment, police said, were Dennis Herr, 18, 618 Main street, Berrien Springs, and Hershel Hosford, 17, box 58, Range Line road, Berrien Springs.

Herr was arrested on charges of possession of marijuana and possession of marijuana with intent to deliver (sell), and Hosford was arrested on a charge of possession of marijuana.

Police said two other people in the apartment at the time of the raid, a 16-year-old boy and an 18-year-old man, both from Berrien Springs, were released.

About one-quarter pound of suspected marijuana, with an estimated street value of $50, was confiscated, along with assorted drug-related paraphernalia, police said.

Police said they raided the second-story apartment after obtaining a search warrant authorized by Berrien Fifth District Court Judge Ronald Taylor.

All five arrested were lodged in the Berrien county jail, St. Joseph. Assisting Berrien Springs-Oronoko police were state police from the Niles post and Berrien county sheriff's deputies.

Hartford Voters To Choose Mayor, 3 Councilmen, Clerk

HARTFORD — Voters in the Nov. 4 city elections here will choose a mayor from two candidates and will choose three of seven candidates for the Hartford city council.

They will also decide a race for the clerk's office, triggered by a write-in campaign.

Seeking the two-year mayor's post are incumbent Gene Story and Wayne D. Nelson, son of former Hartford mayor Norb Nelson.

Among the seven candidates for three, two-year seats on the city council are three incumbents, Donald Ellsworth Smith, Von Dean Huddleston and Lois Budreau and four challengers, Charles A. Engle, Elmer Eugene Hadley, Gene L. Larsson and James Markel.

The unofficial race for the clerk's office pits incumbent Jewell Story, 43, wife of the mayor, against write-in challenger Vivian DeMorrow, 46.

Mrs. DeMorrow announced she would seek the office as a write-in candidate after the deadline for getting on the ballot.

Appearing on the ballot without formal opposition with Mrs. Story are Lucille Mann, 46, incumbent treasurer, and Robert Beatty, 69, incumbent assessor.

Terms of the three offices are for one year.

Story and the three incumbent councilmen whose posts are up for election will battle against a team consisting of Nelson and three former councilmen. Markel, a newcomer to city politics, is running for a council seat as an independent.

Story, 47, was appointed mayor in March by the other five members of the city council after Mayor Wesley Knapp resigned. He was a councilman for three years prior to being appointed mayor. He is a government teacher at Hartford high school and he and his wife, Jewell, live at 104 Maple street. They have 11 children.

Nelson, 28, is the office manager for Lloyd R. Fayling, U.S. Magistrate and attorney in Kalamazoo. He and his wife, Louise, have two children and live at 107 North Maple street.

Smith, 59, is seeking his third, two-year term on the council. He is an inspector in the quality control section of Auto Specialties Manufacturing company, St. Joseph. He and his wife, Mildred, live at 124 West Hillsborough and they have seven children.

Huddleston, 37, is seeking his second term. He is manager in the meat department at Harding's in Bangor. He and his wife, Betty, live at 328 North Center street, and they have four children.

Mrs. Budreau, 44, was appointed to the council last June. She is a homemaker and she and her husband, William, live at 114 Shepard street. They have eight children.

Hadley, 54, served as a councilman for five years. He is a terminal manager for Yerington Transport, Hartford, and he and his wife, Betty, have two sons and live at 502 East Main street.

Bears Beat Holland, Earn Third Consecutive Crown

By JOHN VANDEN HEED

Sports Editor

HOLLAND — St. Joseph gridders brought home a sack of treats from their Halloween trip to Holland Friday night.

Among the goodies in the crucial 14-3 Big Seven victory over the Holland Dutch at Riverview Park were:

— A third straight conference championship.

— The 50th victory at St. Joe for head coach Ike Muhlenkamp and assistant Jim Harmon.

— Another standout defensive effort which held Holland all-state candidate Rick Elzinga to under 100 yards for the first time this season.

— Touchdown runs by quarterback Dave Ziebart and fullback Scott Wolff, plus a pair of PAT kicks by Frank Bock.

— A surprise showing by second string tailback Dave Tibbitts, who led St. Joe rushers while gaining 73 yards.

— And a fourth straight St. Joe victory, which secures the seventh winning season in the eight years Muhlenkamp and Harmon have guided the Bears. "That was a nice 50 I'll tell you that," commented Muhlenkamp on the coaching milestone after getting the traditional shower from his players.

St. Joe spotted Holland a 3-0 lead on a 26-yard first quarter field goal by Todd DeYoung. But the Bears then took control and won the game on Ziebart's two-yard touchdown run in the second period and Wolff's 20-yard TD scamper in the third stanza.

It was fitting that St. Joe battled from behind for victory, for that's exactly what it did to earn a share of the championship. The Bears had been counted out of the title picture after losing their first two league games.

"The big thing was that the kids never quit," added Muhlenkamp. "They united into a real fine 44-member ball club.

When they were down they never quit."

St. Joe actually ended up in a four-way tie for the Big Seven crown at 4-2 with Portage Northern, Battle Creek Lakeview and Kalamazoo Loy Norrix.

Northern led by one game going into Friday night's final round of conference action, but lost to Norrix 12-6. Lakeview came in for a piece of the title by knocking off Portage Central 47-7.

St. Joe, now 5-3 overall with one game remaining, got itself into an early hole Friday night, as an exchange of punts left Holland with the ball at the Bear 38. And that series produced the Dutch field goal.

After another exchange of punts, St. Joe marched to the Holland three and had a fourth and two situation. The Bears passed up a field goal try, but missed on the attempt for the touchdown. "I thought we could make it," noted Muhlenkamp, who admitted to second-guessing himself when the TD try failed.

St. Joe did get the ball right back on its own 39 after a S Holland punt and quickly marched 61 yards in six plays for Ziebart's TD. Big plays in the march were a 30-yard run on a quarterback sneak by Ziebart (he saw a Holland blitz coming and changed the play at the line of scrimmage) and a 13-yard scamper on a pitch around right end by Tibbitts.

The Bears then added their other TD on the final play of the third quarter. Wolff's 20-yard

TD dash around right end after taking a pitch from Ziebart capped a 66-yard drive of nine plays. The other big gainer in the march was Wolff's 12-yard run on the first play.

Muhlenkamp thought the key to the game was the way his Bears held Holland to a field goal "when they were just picking us to death."

Holland never got inside the St. Joe 40 after that. "That was the first time this year we didn't have to use our goal line defense," declared the Bear coach in praising the Bear defensive showing. St. Joe has now yielded two TDs or less in six straight games.

Holland's Elzinga, who went over 1,000 yards for the season in the game, finished Friday night with 80 yards in 19 carries. Besides Tibbitts' 73 yards, St. Joe also got 59 rushing from Wolff.

Muhlenkamp also praised St. Joe's offensive line for doing a "hell of a job the second half." Tibbitts got 63 yards in the second half, much of it on what Muhlenkamp calls his "stutter" play, with the key blocks coming from tackle Doug Mikkelsen, guard Dick Goodman and center Glenn Averill.

The well-dressed Bears finished with no turnovers and just 30 yards in penalties, while Holland, which slipped to 3-3 in the league and 4-4 overall, had two passes intercepted. Picking off the aeriels were St. Joe's Goodman and Kurt Felgner.

LMAC Rushing Record Set

TC Tramples Tigers

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

If Traverse City is not the best team in the state of Michigan, then the sun doesn't set in the West.

At least that's the opinion of Benton Harbor football coach Eugene Jones, whose Tigers got a first-hand look at Traverse City Friday night.

All the Trojans did was roll up a Lake Michigan Athletic Conference record 467 yards rushing in recording Benton Harbor 53-6 before a sitting-room-only crowd of little more than 300 at Filstrup Field.

The 47-point spread is also thought to be a LMAC record. "To sum it all up, they've got a hell of a football team," Jones sighed. "Their coach (Jim Ooley) said that he had been grooming that team for a couple of years. The payoff is coming now. I personally feel that they will go all the way to win the state championship."

In the winning locker room, only the champagne was missing. After a quiet prayer of thanksgiving, bedlam overtook the Trojans when it was learned that Flint Southwestern had upset Saginaw Arthur Hill 12-7. Traverse City and Arthur Hill had been tied for first place in their region for a berth in the Class A grid playoff.

The win also clinched the LMAC championship for the unbeaten Trojans. Traverse City finished 5-0 in the league and is 8-0 overall, heading into its season finale against Grand Ledge.

"Our goal was to win and do it convincingly," Ooley said. "We were glad that everyone got a chance to play. The kids have been able to rise to every challenge this year. This game was a challenge. By playing an 0-7 team with a good passer, we could've had a letdown."

Traverse City's defense never let the Tigers get started until the game was hopelessly out of reach. In the first three quarters, the Trojans held Benton Harbor (which finished 0-5 in the LMAC) to just three first downs and 101 yards in total offense.

The Trojans shut off the Benton Harbor passing game until it was too late. Schulz passed for just 32 yards in the first three quarters before finally warming up in the final period. The 6-4, 222-pound senior finished with 18 of 29 for 115 yards, pushing his career yardage total to 2,024. Schulz needs 106 yards passing in the final Tiger game against Lakeshore to tie his season record.

In that last game against Lakeshore next Saturday, Benton Harbor will be out to avoid only its second winless season in history.

Dave Beagle was the biggest thorn in Schulz' side. Beagle intercepted three passes, including a key one in the first down on a five-yard dash. Schmalfeldt closed out the scoring with a 12-yard run in the fourth quarter.

"It wasn't real artistic but it got us the league championship," mused Coady afterwards.

Jeff Queen and Matt Miles anchored the defense of the Tigers that gave up just 64 yards on the ground and 44 yards in the air. Both standouts notched 13 tackles in the game.

Lawrence, now 6-1 overall, showed it could run and pass with equal efficiency as it gained 213 yards rushing and 114 more through the air. Aranda was the leading ground gainer with 85 yards on 11 carries while Ron Schmalfeldt rushed for 67 yards on 12 carries.

A Congdon pass to Schmalfeldt covering 45 yards set up a three-yard touchdown run by Aranda in the first quarter. Another 45-yard pass in the second quarter to Mark Mills set up a four-yard run by Congdon for paydirt.

In the third quarter, Congdon scored on a three-yard run and Aranda got his second touch-

REGION 12 WINNERS: Southwestern Michigan College won the NJCAA Region 12 Cross Country meet for the fifth-straight year Friday afternoon at Hampshire Country Club. The Roadrunners will next run in the national junior college meet next Saturday,

SMC Wins Regional Run Roadrunners' Gunn Coach Of Year

BY PAUL MORGAN
Staff Sports Writer

DOWAGIAC — What do you do when you lose John Roscoe, one of the top distance runners in the nation?

If you're Ron Gunn, cross country coach and athletic director of Southwestern Michigan College, it's just a matter of changing a few tactics and recruiting a few more good runners to keep on winning.

And that's about what the Roadrunners did Friday here at Hampshire Country Club as they won their fifth-straight NJCAA Region 12 cross country title by beating 18 other schools.

Just to put some icing on the cake, Gunn was named the region's "Coach Of The Year" by his peers for the fourth time in the last five years.

"Like I told the team in the pre-race huddle, this season has been nothing but pleasant surprises," said Gunn.

The win automatically qualifies SMC for the nationals to be held in Rochester, Minn., on Saturday, Nov. 8. The Roadrunners are the defending national champions.

SMC's point total of 27 blitzed the number two team, Jackson Community College, which had 90 points and number three Macomb which had 98 points.

High School SCHEDULE

TONIGHT
Lawton vs. Michigan
Lakeshore Field

Lake Michigan College finished in 15th spot with a 422 point total.

The top three schools and the top 15 runners including the qualifying schools' runners are eligible to go to the national meet.

Joe Ofsansky of SMC finished second in 24:50 to Pete Hallop of Macomb (24:43). Other Roadrunner placemen included Steve Serna fourth, John Reedy fifth, Steve Bunn of Hartford seventh, Arnie Jackson ninth and Dennis Cordell 12th. One of the mainstays of this season's team, Tom Ellspermann of St. Joseph, was forced out of the race when he was spiked at about the two-mile mark.

Ofsansky felt he ran a good race considering the strong wind out of the south that hampered some of the runners. "I feel I ran a steady race," said Ofsansky. "I started out slow like I always do but I ran real relaxed."

Ofsansky used his other competitors wisely during the first part of the race. "I was surprised I was out in front at the beginning so I dropped back a little to let someone else block the wind."

"As a team, I think we ran pretty well," he added. "It was a better pack race than we have had recently."

"We started running out front right at the beginning and that could have hurt us," said Gunn. "Sometimes you tend to get over fired-up for a big meet like this and you pay the price for a fast start at about the three or four-mile mark."

Ofsansky, Serna, Reedy, Bunn and Jackson all placed in the top ten in the meet and were given trophies for achieving all-Region status.

Gunn sees SMC's biggest competition next week coming from Hutchinson, Kansas; Lane, Oregon; Golden Valley, Minn., who was the runner-up last year, and Central Arizona.

Niles Drops Heart-Breaker

NILES — Powerful Kalamazoo Central, rated fifth in this week's Class A poll, had to go into three overtimes to defeat pesky Niles 6-0 in non-conference action here Friday night.

A 10-yard pass from quarterback Albert Little to Tim Clydale finally ended the marathon and kept the Maroon Giants, a leader in their region for a playoff berth, unbeaten at 8-0.

It was a heart-breaking loss for Niles, which has now lost six straight in a 2-6 campaign. The Vikings are now scoreless in their last four games.

In the first overtime Friday night, Kalamazoo had the first chance and ended up inside the Niles one in four chances. The Vikings fumbled the ball away on their possession.

The second overtime saw Niles' Ron Lewis intercept a Niles' pass.

Niles then fumbled the ball away again on its possession. Kalamazoo's winning TD followed, and on Niles' last try, Little intercepted a Viking pass to secure the victory.

There were several scoring threats during regulation time.

In the first half, Central fumbled the ball away at the Viking 10 and fumbled the snap on a 33-yard field goal try. Niles had a second half field goal try of 25 yards go wide left.

Niles' Kevin Thomas ended up as the game's leading rusher with 133 yards in 23 attempts. Kalamazoo's Steve Smith came through with 110 in 30 totes.

Pickup Truck Lands In River; Driver Missing

By STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

WATERVLIET — Police said today they are trying to determine the fate of the driver of a pickup truck that slammed into a bridge on County Line road near here early this morning and toppled into the Paw Paw river. Watervliet Police Lt. John Latsch said the driver is believed to have been Rick Nelski, 25, route 1, Covert.

The collision left the bridge unusable, Latsch said.

According to Latsch, police have searched the area and contacted area hospitals, but have not been able to locate the driver of the truck which rolled into the Paw Paw river after striking a corner of the bridge.

As of this morning authorities had not determined whether the river would be damaged. The bridge is located on the Van Buren - Berrien county line about a quarter-mile south of Dwight Boyer road. It is owned by Van Buren county.

Latsch said the bridge will be out of service until repairs are made. The bridge is made of wood and iron.

Latsch said the crash was believed to have occurred between 2:30 a.m. and 4 a.m. when he found the wreckage. Police reported it appeared the truck approached the bridge from the south at a high rate of speed, struck two sections of guard rail, and careened into the bridge, undermining the north-west corner. The pavement was wet from rain at the time.

The truck then rolled over into the river. Latsch said upon inspecting the wreckage the engine was found in the front seat. He said it as believed the driver was the only one in the vehicle.

Police ran a check on the license plates and the owner of the truck was determined to be Edward Nelski. Nelski reportedly told police his son, Rick, had taken the truck about 2 a.m. Members of the Van Buren county road commission checked the scene but were unavailable for comment this morning. Latsch said the bridge was old and was used moderately by motorists.

The bridge did not land in the water, but the northwest corner fell, making it unusable to traffic.

Ford To Record A 'First'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, becoming the first president to give videotaped testimony in a criminal trial, is to tell what he saw and heard the day Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme allegedly attempted to assassinate him. The President was scheduled to meet today with U.S. District Court Judge Thomas MacBride and defense and prosecution lawyers for the taping of his recollection of the events of Sept. 5 at Sacramento, Calif. On that day, as Ford was walking to the California Capitol, Miss Fromme pointed a loaded .45-caliber pistol at him. No president has ever testified in person at a criminal trial while in office and the videotape procedure never has been used to obtain presidential testimony.

No Promotion Lists

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Court of Appeals has forbidden city officials to publish police department promotion lists until it bargains with the Detroit Police Officers Association (DPOA). The case decided Friday goes back to a DPOA grievance filed with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission over a year ago, after then-Police Commissioner John Nichols suggested college degrees be a requirement for promotion.

New Buffalo Man Credited In U.S. Mail Truck Recovery

South Berrien Bureau

NEW BUFFALO — Police here credited an auxiliary New Buffalo policeman with the recovery of a U.S. mail truck reported stolen from Lansing, Ill., and the arrest of a Bridgeview, Ill., man late yesterday morning.

Dale Siebenmark, New Buffalo police chief, said Don Wehner, director of the Travel Information Center on I-94 south of New Buffalo and an auxiliary New Buffalo policeman, was instrumental in the capture of the man.

Lodged in the Kalamazoo county jail, Kalamazoo, on federal charges of obstruction of mail and theft of a postal vehicle was Thomas Finwall, 33, of Bridgeview, Ill.

Wehner, 43, of 311 South Whitaker street, New Buffalo, told police he was at work at the information center yesterday about 11:30 a.m. when he saw a small mail delivery truck pull into the center's parking lot.

The center is located south of New Buffalo in New Buffalo township, about one mile north of the Michigan-Indiana state line.

Wehner, who is also a freelance photographer who takes pictures for The Herald-Palladium, said he became suspicious when he saw the driver wip the mail truck steering wheel with a cloth and then step from the truck — dressed in street clothes.

The man walked into the center, asked to use a telephone, was directed to the outside of

and don't give workers the benefits they deserve for losing their health on the job.

Nearly 14,000 jobs were lost between 1970 and 1972 after plants closed or moved away primarily due to high workers' compensation costs, said Ed Wolf, a representative of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce and Michigan Manufacturing Association.

Ken Klausung of Metalloy Foundry Inc., a Hudson factory which employs 170 workers, said if the labor-backed bill is approved, "We estimate we could move our foundry 15 miles south into Ohio, maintain our present work force, pay them more money and the company still would be many dollars ahead based on the difference in Workmen's Compensation rates."

Klausung said Ohio's rates are 50.7 per cent lower than Michigan's, and Indiana's are 76.9 per cent lower.

The Democrat-sponsored bills would base benefits on up to 200 per cent of the state average weekly wage, which is now $210 a week. A bill supported by Milliken would base benefits on 100 per cent of the average wage, as would the industry bill. Current maximum benefits are $136 a week.

Labor also would like to grant benefits based on the degree of injury and not just wages lost, as the current system does and other bills propose

Air Force Major Fired

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (AP) — Air Force Maj. Harold Hering is being discharged today because the military says he violated its concept of an officer's duty. He says he only asked for assurances that should be ordered to launch a nuclear missile it would be by a sane president of the United States. A decorated major, with 20 years' service that includes six tours in Vietnam as a helicopter pilot, Hering says he is leaving the Air Force because he requested "basic information about checks and balances or safeguards at the national command authority level." (The Air Force said the request showed "failure to demonstrate acceptable qualities of leadership required of an officer of his grade, failure to properly discharge assignments commensurate with his grade and experience" and "his defective attitude toward his assigned duties.") Hering, 39 and the father of five, says he might sue the government to recover the loss of $11,900 in pay and pension he says the discharge already has cost him.

Admits Odometer Setback

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The head of Mount Clemens' largest Buick dealership admitted his company set back odometers but said it was done without his knowledge, an official in the Department of State has said. In addition, the employee who set them back "terminated his employment" with the company last April 15, the official quoted Warren Mitchell, president of Mitchell Buick Sales, Inc., as saying. Mitchell testified Friday before a Department of State hearing examiner on five charges against his company of setting back odometers on used cars to make it appear they were driven fewer miles.

Federally-Funded Jobs

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Five Michigan counties with high unemployment rates have been ruled eligible for federally funded soil conservation jobs. Soil Conservation Districts in Alpena, Hillsdale, Lapeer, Manistee and Montcalm counties may share $630,000 to create one-year jobs, said a U.S. Soil Conservation Service official. The counties all have unemployment rates from 16 per cent to 22 per cent, well above state and national averages, the official said Friday. The conservation work planned, similar to Works Project Administration jobs in the 1930s, will be for erosion control, recreation development and some forestry improvements, he said.

Astronomer Finds New Galaxy

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — A University of Maryland astronomer has discovered by accident what appears to be the nearest galaxy to our own Milky Way — a cluster of about 200 million stars some 55,000 light years from the sun.

Dr. S. Christian Simonson III announced his discovery today in the Astrophysical Journal Letters. He said the galaxy, dubbed Snickers, had previously gone unnoticed because it is hidden from view by dense star fields and cosmic dust clouds.

The galaxy is about one-tenth of 1 per cent the size of the Milky Way, which contains 200 billion stars. It is about 55,000 light years from the sun, a light year being the distance light travels in a year at a speed of 186,000 miles per second.

Airport License Protest

GRAYLING, Mich. (AP) — The operating license for a company which manages the Grayling Airport has been renewed, despite protests by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners. The commissioners said Friday they may go to court seeking an injunction against the Aeronautics Bureau to prevent the license for Grayling Air Inc. from going into effect. The commissioners allege the Livonia-based company has not maintained the airport in a safe manner. James Ramsey, deputy director of the Michigan Aeronautics Bureau, announced the license was renewed earlier this week on the recommendation of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

Prince Takes Helm In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon began settling into his new position as provisional chief of state today while Generalissimo Francisco Franco, removed by illness as dictator after 36 years, remained in grave condition. Franco, in his 15th day of lingering heart illness, showed signs Friday of peritonitis — inflammation of the abdominal membrane — that doctors said could hasten his death.

An early morning medical bulletin said Franco rested through the night. But the 82-year-old general was also suffering from lung congestion, a failing heart and a buildup of fluid in his abdominal cavity.

Women Give Up Power

EXLINE, Iowa (AP) — Mayor Jesmaria Steele and members of her all-women city council are stepping down and leaving the government of this town of 225 to the men. "The menfolk thought, the womenfolk had run the town long enough," Mrs. Steele said. "And I'm 79. I'm ready to stick to my rocking chair and let the men take over."

She first took office in 1969, and women won three of the five council seats after they charged the all-male government had failed to keep weeds cut in Exline, a south-central Iowa town five miles from the Missouri line.

Superintendents Rap Budget Cuts

5. A 5 per cent reduction in the following categories: Compensatory education, $1,125,000; neighborhood centers, $25,000; alternative juvenile programs, $55,000; transportation, $3,140,000; media centers, $45,000; and programs for pregnant persons, $35,000.

6. Elimination of the following categories: Reading support, $3 million; academically talented, $200,000; experimental projects, $200,000; special education millage reimbursement, $3 million; vocational education millage reimbursement, $1,200,000; cooperative programs, $600,000; and community schools, $1,300,000.

According to the superintendents, the proposed educational cuts would cause the following deficits to their respective districts: Niles, $158,433; Brandywine, $90,800; Buchanan, $65,361; Berrien Springs, $62,552; Eau Claire, $27,400; and Galien, $22,574.

Edward Ossmann, Brandywine superintendent, said "We were floored when we read the details of the Governor's proposed cuts...and even more when we figured how it affects us locally."

Supt. Fairman of Niles said "These cuts are going to be doubly hard to put into effect, since we're already well into the current fiscal year. Contracts are signed and we're committed to them."

Supt. Schuster of Berrien Springs said "It's obvious this political football is being kicked around at the expense of education. The Governor and legislators don't want to raise taxes in an election year...so they're throwing it back into the hands of the school boards."

He said certain programs are underway which the state promised funding for, teachers have been hired, and now "they're saying we can't have certain programs already started."

"It makes us the fall guy for a problem we didn't create," Schuster said. "Come next June we're (school boards) going to have to ask for additional millage to make up for state-incurred deficits this year."

Supt. Dougherty of Buchanan said "This year we adopted a budget with a zero balance. We have made numerous cuts already. We now have no place to go except additional layoffs."

Ossmann and the other superintendents felt that if a state aid cut is necessary, it should not be made in various categorical programs which affect only some school districts, but in combined membership aid and local tax.

Supt. Schaeffer of Eau Claire and Supt. Tilmann of Galien said contracts are already locked in this year and if it comes to layoffs, school boards are still liable for unemployment compensation.

Also all six districts have already borrowed money in anticipation of state aid. Supt. Dougherty said Buchanan has already borrowed up to its full amount, $700,000, "and now they are telling us we are not going to get the full amount."

The superintendents urged every local citizen to write legislators informing them the proposed cut in state education funds will affect their school districts. They said local residents should request that other means be sought to give the state its balanced budget.

Lawmaker Sees Okay Of NYC Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Banking Committee predicts that the panel will ignore a promised presidential veto and approve a bill that would grant $7 billion in federal loan guarantees to New York City.

"I think we can do it," said Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis. "It will be close, but we will have the votes to do it."

He said the only thing that might stand in the way is that "a lot of people would sooner see New York perish in bankruptcy."

Under the bill, the city's fiscal operations would be overseen by a federal panel made up of presidential appointees.

The Banking Committee is expected to begin work on the bill Monday. But even with Banking Committee approval, the plan faces stiff House Republican opposition and a threat by President Ford to veto any measure designed to bail out the troubled city.

DRUG HUNT

Raiders Grab Five In Berrien Springs

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Five Berrien Springs residents were arrested during a drug raid on an apartment here early this morning, according to Berrien Springs village - Oronoko township police.

Officers said they confiscated suspected marijuana believed to have a street value of about $50.

Arrested in the 3:45 a.m. raid on Apartment C4, Regency apartments, 205 South George street, were three apartment residents police identified as Kenneth Kincaid, 20; Mark Brokla, 22; and Cheryl Deitel, 17.

Police said Kincaid was arrested on a charge of possession of marijuana with intent to deliver (sell), and Drakia and Miss Deitel were arrested on charges of possession of marijuana.

Also arrested at the apartment, police said, were Dennis Herr, 18, 618 Main street, Berrien Springs, and Hershel Hosford, 17, box 58, Range Line road, Berrien Springs.

Herr was arrested on charges of possession of marijuana and possession of marijuana with intent to deliver (sell), and Hosford was arrested on a charge of possession of marijuana.

Police said two other people in the apartment at the time of the raid, a 16-year-old boy and an 18-year-old man, both from Berrien Springs, were released.

About one-quarter pound of suspected marijuana, with an estimated street value of $50, was confiscated, along with assorted drug-related paraphernalia, police said.

Police said they raided the second-story apartment after obtaining a search warrant authorized by Berrien Fifth District Court Judge Ronald Taylor.

All five arrested were lodged in the Berrien county jail, St. Joseph. Assisting Berrien Springs-Oronoko police were state police from the Niles post and Berrien county sheriff's deputies.

Comeback Panthers Rout Eau Claire, 36-6

Lakers, Ashbrook Beat Berrien

EAU CLAIRE — "We just played a real nice football game."

Those words by Watervliet coach Jerry Barchett aptly sums up the Panthers 36-6 rout of Eau Claire here Friday night.

With the win the Panthers sew up a share of the Red Arrow crown. Watervliet and Lake Michigan Catholic both end the season with 6-1 league marks.

"I'm really proud of the kids," voiced Barchett, who also guided Watervliet to the loop title last season. "It's really nice to come back after losing two out of our first three games. This was a real team effort out there tonight. Our whole defensive unit was tremendous...Eau Claire didn't get a first down until the last quarter."

Losing coach Paul Bergan also had plenty of praise for the Red Arrow co-champs.

"They were awesome tonight. They're so much bigger and they execute so well. The big

Indians Best In 5 Seasons

BRIDGMAN — Hartford wrapped up its best season in five years by downing Bridgman 28-6 in Red Arrow action here Friday night.

The Indians ended up at 6-2 overall — which also matches the school's best record in 10 campaigns — as fullback Phil place.

"We played real well," commented Hartford coach Bob Teske. The Indians mentor also noted that Scaletta got more ball carry duty because "the type of defense they were running meant we had to go to our second back more often."

Getting much of the credit for Hartford's running success was 6-1, 190-pound junior tackle Duane Toney. "Whenever we needed yardage we went over him," explained Teske.

Hartford jumped off to a 14-0 first quarter lead Friday night on a three-yard pass play from quarterback Dennis Huffman to Dave Gailhouse. Bruce Flowers added a two-point PAT.

The Indians upped their lead in the second quarter to 22-0 on a two-yard TD run by Huffman and Scaletta's PAT run, before Mireles capped the winners' scoring with a third period TD dash of 45 yards.

Bridgman, which finished with just five first downs and 143 yards in total offense, got on the scoreboard in the last period on a 50-yard pass play from Tom Meredith to Mike Schaller. Schaller also ended up as the leading Bee rusher after gaining 52 yards.

The loss as the fifth straight for Bridgman and dropped the Bees to 1-6 in the Red Arrow and 2-6 on the season. They have one game remaining.

Leading the Hartford defense were Toney at tackle, Mireles and Flowers at linebacker and Larry Walter at fullback.

Michigan Tech In 5-2 Win

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — Michigan Tech got a pair of goals from Mike Zuke as the Huskies defeated North Dakota 5-2 in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association season opener for both teams Friday.

The defending National Collegiate Athletic Association hockey champions led 2-1 at the end of the first period and 4-2 after the second.

thing was their time of possession...they just controlled the football the first half. They really looked good.

"But I'm really proud of our kids...they didn't quit. I'm proud of the season we had."

Quarterback Ken Marzka, only starting his second game at the signal-calling position, played a brilliant game as he scored on runs of 25 and one yard and also tossed a 30-yard pass to Jon Hinkleman. Hinkleman also scored on a three-yard bull while Frank Gargano cracked for a one-yard score.

The Panthers carried a 16-0 halftime margin and then put the game away with 20 points in the third period.

Don McAfee, the Beavers' premier runner, was held to 143 yards in 30 carries. He scored the lone Eau Claire touchdown on a four-yard scamper in the final period.

McAfee closed out his sensational prep career Friday night. He ended as the Red Arrow scoring champ with 116 points, just four points shy of the record. Currently he is leading the area in rushing (1,585) and in overall scoring (136).

Watervliet now has ripped off five straight wins and outscored its foes 138-18 in that streak. The Panthers, who host Coloma in the season finale next Friday, are 6-2 overall.

Eau Claire ends at 3-4 in the Red Arrow standings and concludes the season with an overall 4-4 record.

Bears Beat Holland, Earn Third Consecutive Crown

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDER
Sports Editor

HOLLAND — St. Joseph gridders brought home a sack of treats from their Halloween trip to Holland Friday night.

Among the goodies in the crucial 14-3 Big Seven victory over the Holland Dutch at Riverview Park were:

— A third straight conference championship.

— The 50th victory at St. Joe for headcoach Ike Muhlenkamp and assistant Jim Harmon.

— Another stout defensive effort which held Holland all-state candidate Rick Elzinga to under 100 yards for the first time this season.

— Touchdown runs by quarterback Dave Ziebart and fullback Scott Wolff, plus a pair of PAT kicks by Frank Bock.

— A surprise showing by second string tailback Dave Tibbitts, who led St. Joe rushers while gaining 73 yards.

— And a fourth straight St. Joe victory, which secures the seventh winning season in the Big Seven.

eight years Muhlenkamp and Harmon have guided the Bears.

"That was a nice 50 I'll tell you that," commented Muhlenkamp on the coaching milestone after getting the traditional shower from his players.

St. Joe spotted Holland a 3-0 lead on a 26-yard first quarter field goal by Todd DeYoung. But the Bears then took control and won the game on Ziebart's two-yard touchdown run in the second period and Wolff's 20-yard TD scamper in the third stanza.

"It was fitting that St. Joe batted from behind for victory, for that's exactly what it did to earn a share of the championship. The Bears had been counted out of the title picture after losing their first two league games.

"The big thing was that the kids never quit," added Muhlenkamp. "They united into a real fine 41-member ball club.

When they were down they never quit."

St. Joe actually ended up in a four-way tie for the Big Seven crown at 4-2 with Portage Northern, Battle Creek Lakeview and Kalamazoo Loy Norrix.

Northern led by one game going into Friday night's final round of conference action, but lost to Norrix 12-6. Lakeview came in for a piece of the title by knocking off Portage Central 47-7.

St. Joe, now 5-3 overall with one game remaining, got itself into an early hole Friday night, as an exchange of punts left Holland with the ball at the Bear 38. And that series produced the Dutch field goal.

After another exchange of punts, St. Joe marched to the Holland three and had a fourth and two situation. The Bears passed up a field goal try, but missed on the attempt for the touchdown. "I thought we could make it," noted Muhlenkamp, who admitted to second-guessing himself when the TD try failed.

St. Joe did get the ball right back on its own 39 after a S Holland punt and quickly marched 61 yards in six plays for Ziebart's TD. Big plays in the march were a 30-yard run on a quarterback sneak by Ziebart (he saw a Holland blitz coming and changed the play at the line of scrimmage) and a 13-yard scamper on a pitch around right end by Tibbitts.

The Bears then added their other TD on the final play of the third quarter. Wolff's 20-yard

TD dash around right end after taking a pitch from Ziebart capped a 66-yard drive of nine plays. The other big gainer in the march was Wolff's 12-yard run on the first play.

Muhlenkamp thought the key to the game was the way his Bears held Holland to a field goal "when they were just picking us to death."

Holland never got inside the St. Joe 40 after that. "That was the first time this year we didn't have to use our goal line defense," declared the Bear coach in praising the Bear defensive showing. St. Joe has now yielded two TDs or less in six straight games.

Holland's Elzinga, who went over 1,000 yards for the season in the game, finished Friday night with 80 yards in 10 carries. Besides Tibbitts' 73 yards, St. Joe also got 59 rushing from Wolff.

Muhlenkamp also praised St. Joe's offensive line for doing a "hell of a job the second half." Tibbitts got 63 yards in the second half, much of it on what Muhlenkamp calls his "stutter" play, with the key blocks coming from tackle Doug Mikkelsen, guard Dick Goodman and center Glenn Averill.

The well-drilled Bears finished with no turnovers and just 30 yards in penalties, while Holland, which slipped to 3-3 in the league and 4-4 overall, had two passes intercepted. Picking off the airtails were St. Joe's Goodman and Kurl Felgner.

LMAC Rushing Record Set

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

If Traverse City is not the best team in the state of Michigan, then the sun doesn't set in the West.

At least that's the opinion of Benton Harbor football coach Eugene Jones, whose Tigers got a first-hand look at Traverse City Friday night.

All the Trojans did was roll up a Lake Michigan Athletic Conference record 487 yards rushing in bombing Benton Harbor 53-6 before a sitting-room-only crowd of little more than 300 at Filstrup Field.

The 47-point spread is also thought to be a LMAC record.

"To sum it all up, they've got a hell of a football team," Jones signed. "Their coach (Jim Ooley) said that he had been grooming that team for a couple of years. The payoff is coming now. I personally feel that they will go all the way to win the state championship."

In the winning locker room, only the champagne was missing. After a quiet prayer of thanksgiving, bedlam overtook the Trojans when it was learned that Flint Southwestern had upset Saginaw Arthur Hill 12-7. Traverse City and Arthur Hill had been tied for first place in their region for a berth in the Class A grid playoff.

The win also clinched the LMAC championship for the unbeaten Trojans. Traverse City finished 5-0 in the league and is 8-0 overall, heading into its season finale against Grand Ledge.

"Our goal was to win and do it convincingly," Ooley said. "We were glad that everyone got a chance to play. The kids have been able to rise to every challenge this year. This game was a challenge. By playing an 0-7 team with a good passer, we could've had a letdown."

Traverse City's defense never let the Tigers get started until the game was hopelessly out of reach. In the first three quarters, the Trojans held Benton Harbor (which finished 0-5 in the LMAC) to just three first downs and 101 yards in total offense.

The Trojans shut off the Benton Harbor passing game until it was too late. Schultz passed for just 32 yards in the first three quarters before finally warming up in the final period. The 6-4, 222-pound senior finished with 18 of 29 for 115 yards, pushing his career yardage total to 2,024. Schultz needs 106 yards passing in the final Tiger game against Lakeshore to tie his season record.

In that last game against Lakeshore next Saturday, Benton Harbor will be out to avoid only its second winless season in history.

Dave Beagle was the biggest thorn in Schultz' side. Beagle intercepted three passes, including a key one in the first down on a five-yard dash. Schmalfeldt closed out the scoring with a 12-yard run in the fourth quarter.

"It wasn't real artistic but it got us the league championship," mused Coady afterwards.

Jeff Queen and Matt Miles anchored the defense of the Tigers that gave up just 64 yards on the ground and 44 yards in the air. Both standouts notched 13 tackles in the game.

Lawrence ends his season next Friday night with a home game against Galien.

Gables ends season play at 2-4 in the SAC and 3-8 overall.

Outright SAC Title Goes To Lawrence

LAWRENCE — Gobles played no tricks on Lawrence as the Tigers "treated" their fans to an outright Southwestern Athletic Conference football championship Friday night.

Jerry Aranda and Dave Congdon each scored two touchdowns as the Tigers blanked Gobles 34-0 here to gain their first SAC title over with a 6-0 record. "We felt like we had the momentum going with every game," said Tigers' head coach Jim Coady. "This team made up for any shortcomings with a great attitude."

Lawrence, now 6-1 overall, showed it could run and pass with equal efficiency as it gained 213 yards rushing and 114 more through the air. Aranda was the leading ground gainer with 85 yards on 11 carries while Ron Schmalfeldt rushed for 67 yards on 12 carries.

A Congdon pass to Schmalfeldt covering 45 yards set up a three-yard touchdown run by Aranda in the first quarter. Another 45-yard pass in the second quarter to Mark Mills set up a four-yard run by Congdon for paydirt.

In the third quarter, Congdon scored on a three-yard run and Aranda got his second touch-

SMC Wins Regional Run Roadrunners' Gunn Coach Of Year

BY PAUL MORGAN
Staff Sports Writer

DOWAGIAC — What do you do when you lose John Roscoe, one of the top distance runners in the nation?

If you're Ron Gunn, cross country coach and athletic director of Southwestern Michigan College, it's just a matter of changing a few tactics and recruiting a few more good runners to keep on winning.

And that's about what the Roadrunners did Friday here at Hampshire Country Club as they won their fifth-straight NJCAA Region 12 cross country title by beating 18 other schools.

Just to put some icing on the cake, Gunn was named the region's "Coach Of The Year" by his peers for the fourth time in the last five years.

"Like I told the team in the pre-race huddle, this season has been nothing but pleasant surprises," said Gunn.

The win automatically qualifies SMC for the nationals to be held in Rochester, Minn., on Saturday, Nov. 8. The Roadrunners are the defending national champs.

SMC's point total of 27 blitzed the number two team, Jackson Community College, which had 90 points; and number three Maconb which had 88 points.

Lake Michigan College finished in 15th spot with a 422 point total.

The top three schools and the top 15 runners including the qualifying schools' runners are eligible to go to the national meet.

Joe Ofsansky of SMC finished second in 24:50 to Pete Hall of Maconb (24:43). Other Roadrunner placewinners included Steve Serna fourth, John Reedy fifth, Steve Bunn of Hartford seventh, Arnie Jackson ninth and Dennis Cordell 12th. One of the mainstays of this season's team, Tom Ellspermann of St. Joseph, was forced out of the race when he was spiked at about the two-mile mark.

Ofsansky felt he ran a good race considering the strong wind out of the south that hampered some of the runners. "I feel I ran a steady race," said Ofsansky. "I started out slow like I always do but I ran real relaxed."

Ofsansky used his other competitors wisely during the first part of the race. "I was surprised I was out in front at the beginning so I dropped back a little to let someone else block the wind."

"As a team, I think we ran pretty well," he added. "It was a better pace race than we have had recently."

"We started running out front right at the beginning and that could have hurt us," said Gunn. "Sometimes you tend to get over-fired-up for a big meet like this and you pay the price for a fast start at about the three or four-mile mark."

Ofsansky, Serna, Reedy, Bunn and Jackson all placed in the top ten in the meet and were given trophies for achieving all-region status.

Gunn sees SMC's biggest competition next week coming from Hutchinson, Kansas; Lane, Oregon; Golden Valley, Minn., who was the runner-up last year, and Central Arizona.

Niles Drops Heart-Breaker

NILES — Powerful Kalamazoo Central, rated fifth in this week's Class A poll, had to go into three overtimes to defeat pesky Niles 6-0 in non-conference action here Friday night.

A 10-yard pass from quarterback Albert Little to Tim Clydale finally ended the marathon and kept the Maroon Giants, a leader in their region for a playoff berth, unbeaten at 8-0.

It was a heart-breaking loss for Niles, which has now lost six straight in a 2-6 campaign. The Vikings are now scoreless in their last four games.

In the first overtime Friday night, Kalamazoo had the first chance and ended up inside the Niles one in four chances. The Vikings fumbled the ball away on their possession.

The second overtime saw Niles' Ron Lewis intercept a

Kalamazoo pass and return it for an apparent game-winning touchdown, but the Viking celebration was short lived, as the officials ruled Lewis stepped out of bounds at his own 35.

Niles then fumbled the ball away again on its possession.

Kalamazoo's winning TD followed, and on Niles' last try, Little intercepted a Viking pass to secure the victory.

There were several scoring threats during regulation time. In the first half, Central fumbled the ball away at the Viking 10 and fumbled the snap on a 33-yard field goal try. Niles had a second half field goal try of 25 yards go wide left.

Niles' Kevin Thomas ended up as the game's leading rusher with 133 yards in 23 attempts. Kalamazoo's Steve Smith came through with 110 in 30 tries.

Chiefs Nip Comets, Tie For Bud Title

Mitchell Sparks 19-13 Win

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

DOWAGIAC — Doug Mitchell is a master craftsman who thrives at work.

And Friday night the Dowagiac tailback worked overtime to help the Chiefs produce a share of the Blossomland conference football championship with an exciting 19-13 win over scrappy but outmuscled Coloma.

Mitchell's number came up 43 times Friday and he more than answered the call as he roared for all three Dowagiac touchdowns on bursts of three, one and 13 yards and ended with 270 yards, 61 more than the entire Comet team.

To make Halloween a special treat, Mitchell, who hardly looks like a workhorse at 5-8½, 165-pounds, captured the league scoring crown with 82 points and passed the 1,000-yard rushing barrier. (He now has 1,143 yards.)

The hunk of the Blossomland title is quite a feather in the Chiefs' war bonnet as this is Dowagiac's first year of competition in the conference. The Chiefs and Brandywine both ended at 6-1 for the first title deadlock ever in the 14-year history of the Blossomland.

Coloma, the defending league champ, settles for third place at 5-2.

Coloma coach Bob Irvin thought the overall Dowagiac muscle and not especially the running of Mitchell proved the difference.

"Mitchell is a good, strong back but I thought their offensive line blew us out too much in that second half...they just wore us down. We were sapped then.

"Dowagiac has a good hitting football team but I thought our kids played a good football game. We have nothing to be ashamed of. We just didn't quite have the overall muscle they had."

Dowagiac coach Lou Famiano agreed:

"Yea, Mitchell lugged the ball for us but it was guys like Smallbone (Marty), Cleveland (Jim), Tomczak (Steve) and fullback Grady (Ron) who did a great job of opening up the holes for Mitchell.

"Yep, we're really happy about the title...the kids worked hard and deserve it. I'm not ashamed of our loss to Brandywine...they are a heck of an outfit too."

Dowagiac, which played an awful first quarter when it lost three fumbles and ran off only six plays to Coloma's 26, fell behind 7-0 at 2:55 of the opener on a six-yard pass play from quarterback Ron Cooper to end Rich Scherer. Jerry Gagliardo kicked the PAT. The 55-yard march was set up by a fumble recovery by John Mattson.

But then Mitchell and Co. went to work to carve the next three touchdowns while the Chief defense held the Comets at bay.

Mitchell, who shed tacklers with his uncanny twisting trickiness all night, racked up his first touchdown at 4:25 of the second period on a three-yard scoot around right end but his run for the PAT was short. Tim Pugh's interception of a Cooper pass paved the way for the 38-yard drive.

The Chiefs took the lead for good as they pounded the football 90 yards for the score with the second-half kickoff. Mitchell, who went in from a yard out, chewed up 54 yards on nine totes on the 10-play drive while Grady went 36 yards on the other carry.

Mitchell again shouldered the burden as he scored what proved the winning touchdown with his 13-yard scamper with 4:13 left in the game. The senior lugged the ball all six times in the 54-yard march.

Coloma refused to fold and came right back behind three straight catches by Gregg Woodward, who turned in a sparkling night with six nabs for 66 yards. Cooper capped the 72-yard drive with a one-yard sneak with 59 seconds to go. But the Comets' attempt to get the ball back on an on-side kick didn't work and the Chiefs ran out the clock.

John Bertuca, the Comets' all-league tailback, was contained by the Chiefs and finished with only 55 yards in 20 carries. Mattson had 53 yards in nine while the Chiefs' Grady added 53 in five.

Dowagiac, now 6-2 overall, winds up its season next week against Niles while Coloma, 5-3 overall, finishes against Watervliet.

Bobcats Get Title Share

Walls' Running Generates Sixth Straight Win

BUCHANAN — Brandywine claimed a share of the Blossomland conference football crown behind a sensational ground attack headed by tailback Daryl Walls.

The Bobcats picked up 531 yards rushing with Walls collecting 332 as the visitors blasted Buchanan 45-13 here Friday night.

Brandywine, which has now won six in a row, shares the Blossomland title with Dowagiac with both ending with 6-1 loop marks. Brandywine's last league crown came in 1971.

The Bobcats spotted the Bucks a 7-0 lead as Brian Virgil hit Bob Luke with an 18-yard scoring aerial. A fumble recovery by Luke at the Bobcat 21 set up the scoring.

But then Brandywine hit the next six touchdowns with its offensive machine in peak form. Walls scored on runs of 14 and 76 yards. Jim Reed on jaunts of six and one. Scott Adams on an 11-yarder and Mike Holy on a two-yarder.

Virgil, who tossed for 157 yards, connected with Greg Frazier for a final-period score from 14 yards out.

"Walls' performance was just exceptional tonight," commented Bobcat coach Pete McCauley. "Plus I'm happy for a share of the title...especially for our senior kids."

Walls, who got the 332 yards on 30 totes, now has rushed for 1,384 yards this fall.

Reed aided Walls with 87 yards on the ground in 11 carries. Willie Brown had 43 in 14 for the Bucks. Moe Kyles and Frazier both caught five passes for Buchanan with

Campbell-Jager Duo Edges Eddies

Lancer Aerial Act Big Hit

The Campbell-Jager aerial act is proving a hit attraction for Lakeshore this season.

The pair, quarterback Kevin Campbell and end Tom Jager, put on another spotlight performance Friday night at the Lancer Stadium to pace the Lancers to an 18-14 win over Edwardsburg.

Campbell hit Jager with scoring strikes of 62, 34 and 15, all in the first half, as the Lancers built up an 18-0 lead and then held off the stubborn Eddies.

Campbell completed four passes all night with all four going to Jager for a total of 139 yards. For the season, Campbell has completed 30 passes with 23 of them caught by Jager for seven touchdowns. Jager has caught 526 yards in passing yardage out of Campbell's total of 574.

"That's sure a good combination," noted Lakeshore coach Dave Topping. "Jager has the speed, height and good hands and Campbell can get the ball to him."

The first touchdown to Jager in a straight down, across the middle play. "That's the same one we used against Coloma," noted Topping.

The other two scoring tosses to Jager were on down and out patterns.

The Eddies, who have won one game all year, came back on a 27-yard run by Tim Shaw and a 20-yard pass from Steve Barella to Mock with 16 seconds left in the Blossomland game.

"We were flat in the second half plus they played well and stayed right in there," added Topping. "We drove the length of the field in the third quarter but then just stalled. Penalties also hurt us."

The Lancers, who outgained the Eddies by a wide margin (411-149), had Mark Krager with 102 yards rushing in 12 carries, Brad Gardner 71 in 18 and Bob Harvey 80 in 16.

Linebacker Craig Shafer turned in another outstanding game as he had 22 tackles, recovered two fumbles and had an interception. Mike Miston had the other interception. Pat Newell played steady on both the offensive and defensive line.

The Lancers finished in a tie for fourth place, both 4-3, with Cassopolis in the final Blossomland standings. The Eddies ended in a three-way deadlock with Buchanan and River Valley all 1-6, for last place.

The Lancers continued their home magic with the win Friday. Lakeshore is 4-0 at home this year but 0-4 on the road. The Lancers close out their season next Saturday afternoon by hosting Benton Harbor in a nonleague game.

Edwardsburg ends its season at 1-7.

Cassopolis Nips Mustangs In Bud

THREE OAKS — The name of the game in the Blossomland conference football wars has been defense this season and both Cassopolis and River Valley echoed that theme Friday night.

The Rangers managed a touchdown in the first and second quarters and held the Mustangs to an initial stanza score to notch a 12-6 league win here.

Turnovers usually play an important part in a defensive game and that was no exception in this contest. River Valley's Bob Watkins recovered a fumble by Dennis Lawson on Cassopolis' 31-yard line to set up the Mustangs' only score.

KALAMAZOO — Powerful Kalamazoo Hackett built a 27-0 lead and then held off Paw Paw for a 27-16 nonleague football win here Friday night.

The win ups Hackett's mark to 7-1 while Paw Paw is winless in eight games. Hackett is No. 9 in the latest AP grid poll in Class C and is ranked first in its region in the playoff ratings.

Frank Kent led the Kalamazoo charge with scoring runs of seven and 60 yards as he ended with 134 yards rushing. Andy Koestner also hit Bart Koestner with a 17-yard TD pass

Named Coach Of NFL's Tampa Franchise

McKay Leaves USC For New Challenge

By ERIC PREWITT
AP Sports Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — John McKay, who sent O.J. Simpson into pro football, would love to have him back next season.

He knows it won't happen.

"The players other NFL teams give us will be from the bottom of the barrel," the University of Southern California coach said Friday after announcing he'll leave the college game to take over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, who'll join the National Football League as an expansion team next season.

Simpson, the Buffalo Bills' record-breaking running back, is among the dozens of NFL players tutored by McKay during the past 15 seasons at Southern Cal. McKay himself turned down several pro coaching offers before accepting the Tampa job.

"I've been in college football 27 years. If ever there was a time to leave, this is it," the 52-year-old coach said here, where his unbeaten and fourth-ranked Trojans met California today in a regionally televised Pacific-8 Conference game.

McKay will take on the challenge of coaching an expansion team — "We'll take our lumps for a while," he says — under a five-year contract believed to be one of the best ever offered a football coach. No contract terms were disclosed by McKay or Buccaneers owner Hugh Culverhouse, but there have been reports McKay will draw $250,000 a year in salary alone.

"I won't make any comment on the money other than to say it's nowhere near what's been printed in the newspapers," he said.

McKay had hoped to wait until after the 1975 season, which very well could end Jan. 1 for Southern Cal with a ninth Rose Bowl appearance under McKay, to announce his decision to leave college football. But he felt the many speculative reports concerning his plans were hurting his team's play and the school's football recruiting efforts.

He gave his players the news before the team left the Los Angeles campus Friday morning.

"It was a fairly emotional thing, at least on my part," said the coach whose 126-38-8 record at Southern Cal includes three unbeaten seasons and a chance this year for a fourth.

But Junior Lee, a senior split end, said, "He didn't make any big thing of it. He just said he was sorry he had to tell us he was leaving but that we had a good football program and that it would keep going without him."

"He's been a great coach."

Most of McKay's college teams have stressed the running game on offense, with a steady stream of outstanding runners including Simpson, Clarence Davis, Anthony Davis and this season's Ricky Bell.

HEADING FOR PROS: Southern California football coach John McKay takes a cigar out of his pocket as he leaves the Los Angeles, Calif., campus Friday after it was announced that he would become coach of the Tampa Bay, Fla., Buccaneers when that team joins the National Football League in 1976. McKay, 52, joked during a news conference saying, "The big reason I took the job was to get the cigars." (AP Wirephoto)

Vikings, Bengals Have Different Goals

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

For the Minnesota Vikings, another victory means little more than a better shot at perfection. But for the Cincinnati Bengals, it could mean not only perfection but survival itself.

The Vikings and Bengals take perfect 6-0 records into their National Football League games Sunday, the Vikings visiting the Green Bay Packers and the Bengals hosting the defending champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

But while the Vikings are cruising comfortably along, apparently en route to another title in the National Conference's

Central Division, the Bengals are literally fighting for their lives, playoff-wise.

They're only a game ahead of the Steelers and the rejuvenated Houston Oilers in the American Conference's Central Division. So a loss by Cincinnati could leave first place split three ways.

night it's Los Angeles at Philadelphia.

San Diego was at the New York Giants today.

"It's a lot bigger game for them than it is for us," Cincinnati wide receiver Isaac Curtis says of Pittsburgh. "They can't afford to fall very far behind us." The Steelers are unbeaten in their last eight road games — but they haven't won in Cincinnati since 1971. In fact, that 21-13 victory was the only one in the clubs' 10-game series which the home team has lost.

Pittsburgh linebacker Andy Russell acknowledges the importance of the game, too. "We don't want to get into the position where we're hoping that somebody helps us," he says. "We could have a better record than last year (10-3-1) and still not make the playoffs."

The Bengals, who slipped past Atlanta 21-14 last weekend, will be relying heavily on Ken Anderson's passing mastery — but they'll have to have more. No team in the NFL is better at stopping the pass than Pittsburgh.

The Steelers will have their work cut out for them, too. Cincinnati ranks second only to league-leading Oakland in AFC total defense. They're expected to have quarterback Terry Bradshaw and fullback Franco Harris back at full strength. Bradshaw suffered a strained tendon in his knee last week in a 16-13 squeaker over Green Bay while Harris is nursing a sore toe.

The Packers lost their first four games before upending Dallas and coming close to doing the same to the Steelers. "We'll correct those mistakes we made against Pittsburgh — and then Minnesota had better look out," said Green Bay pass-catcher Steve Odom. "We're getting better and better."

Vikings Coach Bud Grant couldn't deny that. "The Packers looked tough against Pittsburgh," he said. "Both the Chicago Bears (Minnesota's victims last Monday night) and the Packers are under new leadership and will keep improving as the season continues."

Coach Bart Starr is encouraged by the Pack's improvement the past two games. "From a psychological standpoint, I think it's helped," he said. "I think our people now recognize the level we have to perform at to win. But the Vikings are playing better now than I've ever seen them play."

The Oilers and Chiefs carry three-game winning streaks into their game at Arrowhead Stadium, where Houston hasn't won since 1967, seven games ago. Kansas City, 3-3, is also nurturing some playoff hopes. The Chiefs and Denver are only a game back of first-place Oakland in the AFC West.

The situation is similarly tangled in the NFC East, with Dallas leading Washington and St. Louis by one game. "This is a championship game," Washington Coach George Allen said of his Redskins' battle with the Cowboys.

"We've got a great rivalry going. The games the last four years have all been critical... That stuff about Dallas rebuilding this year — I never bought it in the first place," Allen added. As far as he's concerned, Dallas is the team to beat whether they're in first place, second place or whatever.

Lions, 49ers Will Match Woes In Candlestick Tiff

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A San Francisco 49ers team that has been unable to win two games in a row and a Detroit Lions club which has lost 11 players to injuries are matched in a National Football League game at Candlestick Park Sunday, with the 49ers slight favorites.

The up-and-down 49ers, 2-4, had only 31 yards rushing gain in last Sunday's 24-16 loss to New England. Plagued by fumbles — 13 of them recovered by opponents — the 49ers have been able to average only 94 yards a game rushing, the worst record in their conference.

The Lions will confront San Francisco with the best rushing defense in the National Conference, which makes it likely that the 49ers' chances rest with 15-year veteran Norm Snead's passing.

The Lions lost quarterbacks Bill Munson and Greg Landry in Houston a week ago when they were beaten 24-8 by the Oilers. Sunday Detroit will start Joe Reed, the same Joe Reed the 49ers gave up on last season as a possible successor to John Brodie.

Reed has thrown only eight passes and completed just one for the Lions so far this season — not much chance to sharpen up. And Friday he missed practice with intestinal flu. Then, to make things even tougher, wide receiver Jon Stagers was sidelined for the season with an Achilles tendon injury in the Houston game.

Stagers was the third receiver the Lions lost. Earlier this week they signed free agent George Farmer, a wide receiver dropped by the Chicago Bears. Farmer will be a backup to Marlin Briscoe and Ray Jarvis. Tight end Charlie Sanders leads Detroit receivers with 21 catches for 268 yards, and Jarvis is next with 15 for 248 yards.

The 49ers expect to have rookie center Bill Reid off the injured list but will be without strong safety Mel Phillips, who has a broken thumb. Tight end Tom Mitchell missed practice all week with a chest bruise but probably will be ready to go against the Lions.

Atlanta 'Legs' Way To Shutout Over California

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Jack Evans conceded that his California Golden Seals "were outskated for the first time in 11 games" in a 2-0 loss to the Atlanta Flames in Friday's only National Hockey League game.

And Coach Fred Creighton agreed in different words: "We seemed to have more legs than they did in the second and third periods."

Goalie Phil Myre turned back 17 California shots for his shutout to keep the Seals, 3-6-2, winless for their fourth straight game.

In the night's two World Hockey Association games, the Cleveland Crusaders whipped the Quebec Nordiques 6-2 and the New England Whalers and Edmonton Oilers battled to a 2-2 tie.

Atlanta's Curt Bennett deflected a 15-foot shot off Seals defenseman Mike Christie at 9:28 of the first period, and Tim Ecclestone got the second goal for the Flames on a breakaway at 8:43 of the third period.

"As soon as Atlanta gets a lead — and all they need is just one goal — they play tough and you can't get anywhere," said California goalie Gilles Meloche.

In the last two periods, the Seals had only seven shots, including a third-period try by Dave Hrechkosy that resulted in what Hrechkosy called Myre's "biggest save of the game."

"I had the shot going for the lower left corner, and he checked it with his skate," said Hrechkosy. "They checked us a lot closer tonight than they did in Atlanta."

California beat the Flames in Atlanta 4-3 in the season opener for both teams. Atlanta lost its next three before picking up to a 4-5-1 record to tie the New York Rangers for third in their division.

"We had a lot more chances opening night than we did tonight," said Creighton, "but tonight we checked a lot better, especially in the second and third periods."

Rich Leduc scored three goals and assist and Al McDonough added a pair of goals to lead Cleveland Crusaders past Quebec. Leduc scored twice in the second period and completed his hat trick in the final period.

Bruce MacGregor's goal at 4:07 of the third period gave Edmonton its tie with New England. That tally came just 25 seconds after Ron Climie had put the Oilers ahead with a power play goal.

Wings Buy Vet Goalie Ed Giacomini

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings acquired veteran goaltender Ed Giacomini on waivers from the New York Rangers late Friday. It is not known if Giacomini, 36, will join the Wings or choose to retire, ending an 11-season National Hockey League career. If he decides to play for the Wings, who risk their one-game winning streak tonight against the Chicago Black Hawks at home, Giacomini will be used as the back-up goalie for Jim Rutherford.

It was the third deal in four days for the Rangers, who sent Giacomini, their No. 1 goaltender for the past decade, to the Wings for the customary $30,000 waiver price.

On Tuesday, the Rangers sent backup goalie Gilles Villeneuve to Chicago for defenseman Doug Jarrett. Thursday they dealt center Derek Sanderson to St. Louis for a No. 1 pick in the 1977 amateur draft.

Giacomini, a fixture on the Rangers and one of their most popular players, took the news hard.

"I'm sitting here completely numb, hardly functioning," he told the New York Post. "I'm walking around feeling like I'm embalmed, or dead."

"Tell me, why?" the 36-year-old Giacomini asked. "Tell me why they did it this way. Tell me why they had to do it to me in a way that hurt, a way that makes a man feel like he's dirt, some kind of piece of garbage. They threw me out. They told me I wasn't on waivers, then they tell me I was claimed on waivers."

"Why did they lie?"

Giacomini has a career goals-against average of 2.72. This season he got off to a slow start, as did the Rangers. In four games he had three losses and a tie, and a 4.75 goals-against mark.

Giacomini, the Rangers' career leader with 49 regular season shutouts, shared the Vezina Trophy as the NHL's top goaltender with Villeneuve in 1970-71. He was twice selected to the NHL's All-Star first team and twice named to the second team.

"This move is a good one for Eddie in terms of longevity," said Rangers Coach Ron Stewart. "He has another year to go on his contract, and they (Detroit) need goaltending help. This move will extend his career."

"He's a heck of a goaltender and should be a great help to our club," said Detroit general manager Alex Delvecchio. "Hopefully, he's not looking at retirement. But he has to get over the shock of leaving New York. He was with the Rangers for a long time."

Young John Davidson, obtained in the off-season from St. Louis, inherits the Rangers' No.

The Rangers also announced the recall of left wing Dale Lewis from the Providence Reds of the AHL.

Fight Sparks 131-127 Win Pushy Pistons Top Rockets

DETROIT (AP) — Muscular Bob Lanier pushed the Detroit Pistons to a 131-127 victory Friday over the Houston Rockets in a National Basketball Association game spiked with a fist fight.

In the final period with the Pistons leading 107-105, Houston's Cliff Meely elbowed Pistons forward Al Eberhard under Detroit's basket.

When Eberhard staggered back, Lanier grabbed Meely and wrestled him down as both teams' benches ran onto the floor.

After calm was restored, Eberhard hit a pair of free throws and then Lanier got a driving hook and a jumper within seconds as the Pistons opened up a 113-107 lead.

With two minutes left, the Pistons got a 121-111 lead and the Rockets were left with their third straight setback.

In other games, undefeated Boston overcame the winless Portland Trail Blazers 112-94 for their third victory of the season Friday night. New Orleans beat Milwaukee 100-85, Buffalo beat Philadelphia 92-87, and Los Angeles ripped Seattle 120-104.

"The bench was the difference," Detroit's coach Ray Scott said. "That's why the bullpen is so important. They have to be ready to play every night. Some of the guys who thought they didn't contribute much the other night really did it tonight."

George Trapp contributed with 20 points, behind Lanier and Rowe with 24 each.

All night, Lanier counterbalanced the Rockets' Calvin Murphy, who racked up 40 points for Houston.

The Rockets' Rudy Tomjanovich was right behind Murphy with 21. It was the end of a three-day layoff for the Rockets.

The Rockets shot 70 per cent from the field in that period, with Murphy getting 11 of his 40 points. Ed Ratleff's score gave Houston its first lead since early in the game, 26-25. With 2:41 left in the first, Ratleff hit the free throw and Houston led the rest of the quarter.

Detroit lost Eberhard with his third foul late in the opening period, and the Pistons felt his absence. The Rockets held a 35-33 lead after the first quarter and boosted that margin in the second.

Replacement George Trapp scored 10 points in the second to keep the Pistons within range of the Rockets but the home club fell deeper into foul trouble.

Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn claimed afterward the victory "It was like pulling teeth."

Jo Jo White garnered Boston scoring honors with 22 points in the National Basketball Association game, but Portland's towering Bill Walton took game honors with 26 points and Sidney Wicks had 23.

While Heinsohn said Boston's defense "worked very well," he added remorsefully, "We could never crack it open."

Portland fell behind 25-22 late in the first period on two baskets by Charlie Scott. The Celtics led 51-43 at the half, during which they blocked six shots, stole the ball a half-dozen times and forced 13 turnovers. It was 79-67 at the end of three quarters.

Meanwhile, Len Wilkins, in his first year as strictly a bench coach after serving as Portland's playing-coach, sounded hopeful in defeat.

"This was our best effort tonight," he insisted. "If we gave the same effort in the other games it would have been a different story."

Jazz 100, Bucks 85

Pete Maravich and Aaron James scored 16 points apiece as New Orleans gained the advantage in the first quarter and never looked back, at times leading the winless Bucks by as much as 23 points. It was the fourth victory against one loss for the Jazz while the Bucks, led by rookie Dave Meyers' 28 points, fell to 0-3.

Braves 92, 76ers 87

"There was a little luck towards the end on a couple of shots that we could have missed," confessed Bob McAdoo, who scored 25 points, including a crucial basket in the final minute, to keep Buffalo even with Boston for first place in the Atlantic Division. McAdoo assured, however that the Braves now are "moving with poise."

Buffalo Coach Jack Ramsay felt the game was up grabs. "Either team could have won," he said.

Judge Learning Toward Jobless Grid Players

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A federal judge has tentatively decided the rights of jobless football players take precedence over a National Football League edict against signing ex-World Football League players.

"I'm trying to find out how the owners are going to be damaged," said U.S. District Judge Edward Devitt Friday. "What you (NFL attorneys) are saying is that the damage to owners would be greater than to these fellows out of a job."

After a 2½-hour hearing, Devitt issued a temporary restraining order sought by nine former players for the WFL Hawaiians club. The order forbids Commissioner Pete Rozelle and his staff and club owners "from taking any action prohibiting, discouraging or otherwise preventing plaintiffs from negotiating and contracting" with NFL clubs.

The WFL, shunned by fans, folded Oct. 22 during its second year, and some players sought to join NFL clubs. However, Rozelle two days later spelled out the owners' decision not to hire WFL players during the rest of the season, which is half-over Sunday. The NFL deadline for trades was Tuesday.

Devitt set another hearing for Wednesday on the class-action suit brought by the nine seeking a temporary injunction.

Hearing Chairman Sees Permanent Local Blackout

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ban on blacking out local telecasts of sold-out sports events may be made permanent before the current law expires Dec. 31.

Chairman Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass., of the House Communications Committee said Friday he didn't want to make any predictions because of major legislation facing Congress, but he thinks the prohibition against blackouts will become permanent based on the testimony elicited during four days of hearings.

Macdonald said the committee had not been supplied with any data to show that the TV blackout ban has harmed any sports clubs. His remarks were directed specifically toward the National Football League and its commissioner, Pete Rozelle, who opposed the legislation.

"The legislation is not hurting them one iota," he said. "They can't show it. We were given a snow job, not a statement. It was pure baloney."

Macdonald expressed his ire after reading in detail the Thursday statement by Rozelle in which he said NFL clubs lost more than $9 million in two years, mostly from a drop in season ticket sales, because of the lifting of the blackout.

"It's meaningless and adds nothing to the debate over the alleged impact of this legislation," said Macdonald of Rozelle's statement. "Unless the NFL clubs are prepared to submit individual and itemized financial statements, then I have to totally disregard this latest piece of accounting magic."

Macdonald said Rozelle's statement did not say anything about the number of people who decide to buy tickets on a game-by-game basis instead of on the season.

"Many—perhaps most—of the season ticket shortfall will be made up by fans who decide to go to the stadium on a game-by-game basis," he said.

"Therefore, the NFL's arithmetic appears to be purposely misleading when Mr. Rozelle merely totals up all the season tickets that remained unsold and multiplies it by the number of games and the average price per ticket."

"This simplistic formula ignores the fact that non-season ticket holders now have an opportunity to see individual games without being committed losses in ticket season sales, using the blackout ban as the reason.

Macdonald said Rozelle failed to mention that Kansas City "had a disastrous season last year or that it imposed the blackout on every home game—so the club was totally unaffected by the law last season."

He said Miami lost three of its star players and televised only three games locally while Atlanta "had the worst record in professional football."

two minutes which swung the momentum the Trojans' way.

The opening Benton Harbor kickoff bounced off a Traverse City player's foot and was recovered by Desmond Parker at the Tiger 49. Two plays later, Schulz went for all the marbles and Beagle intercepted at the Trojan 17. He returned the pickoff to the Traverse City 40.

Seven plays later John Rossetti went up the middle on a 13-yard TD run and Traverse City was off and running at 6-0. Rick Waters took over from there. The 6-0, 175-pounder scored his 14th and 15th touchdowns of the year on scoring runs of 80 and 6 yards. Waters finished with 193 yards in just 13 carries.

"Waters is the best kid I've ever had play for me," Ooley said. "His quick acceleration and his ability to read defenses are his biggest assets."

From there it was only a matter of what the final score would be. The Trojans were able to run the ball almost at will with Bruce McLachlan rushing for 71 yards, Kim Tezak for 59 and John Rossetti 42. The threesome averaged more than six yards per carry and played little more than half the game.

few tackles from his linebacker spot.

Bush indicated that he was pleased with the blocking performances of Stover, Archer and guard Rick Sanders.

Although the Lakers picked up 238 yards rushing, they fell to third place in area team rushing with 2,040. Brandywine is first with 2,235 and Hartford is second at 2,123.

Catholic's total offense mark of 2,762 keeps it atop the area in that category and with a good season-ending game against Parchment next Saturday night, the Lakers could go over the 3,000-yard mark.

Named Coach Of NFL's Tampa Franchise

McKay Leaves USC For New Challenge

By ERIC PREWITT
AP Sports Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — John McKay, who sent O.J. Simpson into pro football, would love to have him back next season. He knows it won't happen.

The players other NFL teams give us will be from the bottom of the barrel," the University of Southern California coach said Friday after announcing he'll leave the college game to take over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, who'll join the National Football League as an expansion team next season.

Simpson, the Buffalo Bills' record-breaking running back, is among the dozens of NFL players tutored by McKay during the past 15 seasons at Southern Cal. McKay himself turned down several pro coaching offers before accepting the Tampa job.

"I've been in college football 27 years. If ever there was a time to leave, this is it," the 52-year-old coach said here, where his unbeaten and fourth-ranked Trojans met California today in a regionally televised Pacific-8 Conference game.

McKay will take on the challenge of coaching an expansion team — "We'll take our lumps for a while," he says — under a five-year contract believed to be one of the best ever offered a football coach. No contract terms were disclosed by McKay or Buccaneers owner Hugh Culverhouse, but there have been reports McKay will draw $250,000 a year in salary alone.

"I won't make any comment on the money other than to say it's nowhere near what's been printed in the newspapers," he said.

McKay had hoped to wait until after the 1975 season, which very well could end Jan. 1 for Southern Cal with a ninth Rose Bowl appearance under McKay, to announce his decision to leave college football. But he felt the many speculative reports concerning his plans were hurting his team's play and the school's football recruiting efforts.

He gave his players the news before the team left the Los Angeles campus Friday morning.

"It was a fairly emotional thing, at least on my part," said the coach whose 126-36-8 record at Southern Cal includes three unbeaten seasons and a chance this year for a fourth.

But Junior Lee, a senior split end, said, "He didn't make any big thing of it. He just said he was sorry he had to tell us he was leaving but that we had a good football program and that it would keep going without him."

"He's been a great coach."

Most of McKay's college teams have stressed the running game on offense, with a steady stream of outstanding runners including Simpson, Clarence Davis, Anthony Davis and this season's Ricky Bell.

HEADING FOR PROS: Southern California football coach John McKay takes a cigar out of his pocket after he leaves the Los Angeles, Calif., campus Friday after it was announced that he would become coach of the Tampa Bay, Fla., Buccaneers when that team joins the National Football League in 1976. McKay, 52, joked during a news conference saying, "The big reason I took the job was to get the cigars." (AP Wirephoto)

Vikings, Bengals Have Different Goals

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

For the Minnesota Vikings, another victory means little more than a better shot at perfection. But for the Cincinnati Bengals, it could mean not only perfection but survival itself.

The Vikings and Bengals take perfect 8-0 records into their National Football League games Sunday, the Vikings visiting the Green Bay Packers and the Bengals hosting the defending champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

But while the Vikings are cruising comfortably along, apparently en route to another title in the National Conference's

Central Division, the Bengals are literally fighting for their lives, playoff-wise.

They're only a game ahead of the Steelers and the rejuvenated Houston Oilers in the American Conference's Central Division. So a loss by Cincinnati could leave first place split three ways.

night it's Los Angeles at Philadelphia.

San Diego was at the New York Giants today.

"It's a lot bigger game for them than it is for us," Cincinnati wide receiver Isaac Curtis says of Pittsburgh. "They can't afford to fall very far behind us." The Steelers are unbeaten in their last eight road games — but they haven't won in Cincinnati since 1971. In fact, that 21-13 victory was the only one in the clubs' 16-game series which the home team has lost.

Pittsburgh linebacker Andy Russell acknowledges the importance of the game, too. "We don't want to get into the position where we're hoping that somebody helps us," he says. "We could have a better record than last year (10-3-1) and still not make the playoffs."

The Bengals, who slipped past Atlanta 21-14 last weekend, will be relying heavily on Ken Anderson's passing mastery — but they'll have to have more. No team in the NFL is better at stopping the pass than Pittsburgh.

The Steelers will have their work cut out for them, too. Cincinnati ranks second only to league-leading Oakland in AFC total defense. They're expected to have quarterback Terry Bradshaw and fullback Franco Harris back at full strength. Bradshaw suffered a strained tendon in his knee last week in a 16-13 squeaker over Green Bay while Harris is nursing a sore toe.

The Packers lost their first four games before upending Dallas and coming close to doing the same to the Steelers. "We'll correct those mistakes we made against Pittsburgh — and then Minnesota had better look out," said Green Bay pass-catcher Steve Odom. "We're getting better and better."

Vikings Coach Bud Grant couldn't deny that. "The Packers looked tough against Pittsburgh," he said. "Both the Chicago Bears (Minnesota's victims last Monday night) and the Packers are under new leadership and will keep improving as the season continues."

rebuilding this year — I never bought it in the first place," Allen added. As far as I'm concerned, Dallas is the team to beat whether they're in first place, second place or whatever.

Lions, 49ers Will Match Woes In Candlestick Tiff

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A San Francisco 49ers team that has been unable to win two games in a row and a Detroit Lions club which has lost 11 players to injuries are matched in a National Football League game at Candlestick Park Sunday, with the 49ers slight favorites.

The up-and-down 49ers, 2-4, had only 31 yards rushing gain in last Sunday's 24-16 loss to New England. Plagued by fumbles — 13 of them recovered by opponents — the 49ers have been able to average only 94 yards a game rushing, the worst record in their conference.

The Lions will confront San Francisco with the best rushing defense in the National Conference, which makes it likely that the 49ers' chances rest with 15-year veteran Norm Snead's passing.

The Lions lost quarterbacks Bill Munson and Greg Landry in Houston a week ago when they were beaten 24-8 by the Oilers. Sunday Detroit will start Joe Reed, the same Joe Reed the 49ers gave up on last season as a possible successor to John Brodie.

Brodie has thrown only eight passes and completed just one for the Lions so far this season — not much chance to sharpen up. And Friday he missed practice with intestinal flu. Then, to make things even tougher, wide receiver Jon Stagers was sidelined for the season with an Achilles tendon injury in the Houston game. Stagers was the third receiver the Lions lost. Earlier this week they signed free agent George Farmer, a wide receiver dropped by the Chicago Bears. Farmer will be a backup to Martin Briseno and Ray Jarvis. Tight end Charlie Sanders leads Detroit receivers with 21 catches for 298 yards, and Jarvis is next with 15 for 248 yards.

The 49ers expect to have rookie center Bill Reid off the injured list but will be without strong safety Mel Phillips, who has a broken thumb. Tight end Tom Mitchell missed practice all week with a chest bruise but probably will be ready to go against the Lions.

Atlanta 'Legs' Way To Shutout Over California

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Jack Evans conceded that his California Golden Seals "were outskated for the first time in 11 games" in a 2-0 loss to the Atlanta Flames in Friday's only National Hockey League game.

And Coach Fred Crelighin agreed in different words: "We seemed to have more legs than they did in the second and third periods."

Goulie Phil Myre turned back 17 California shots for his shutout to keep the Seals, 3-8-2, winless for their fourth straight game.

In the night's two World Hockey Association games, the Cleveland Crusaders whipped the Quebec Nordiques 6-2 and the New England Whalers and Edmonton Oilers battled to a 2-2 tie.

Atlanta's Curt Bennett deflected a 15-foot shot off Seals defenseman Mike Christie at 9:28 of the first period; and Tim Ecclestone got the second goal for the Flames on a breakaway at 8:43 of the third period.

"As soon as Atlanta gets a lead — and all they need is just one goal — they play tough and you can't get anywhere," said California goalie Gilles Meloche.

In the last two periods, the Seals had only seven shots, including a third-period try by Dave Hrechkosy that resulted in what Hrechkosy called Myre's "biggest save of the game."

"I had the shot going for the lower left corner, and he checked it with his skate," said Hrechkosy. "They checked us a lot closer tonight than they did in Atlanta."

California beat the Flames in Atlanta 4-3 in the season opener for both teams. Atlanta lost its next three before picking up a 4-5-1 record to tie the New York Rangers for third in their division.

Wings Buy Vet Goalie Ed Giacomini

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings acquired veteran goaltender Ed Giacomini on waivers from the New York Rangers late Friday.

It is not known if Giacomini, 38, will join the Wings or choose to retire, ending an 11-season National Hockey League career.

If he decides to play for the Wings, who risk their one-game winning streak tonight against the Chicago Black Hawks at home, Giacomini will be used as the back-up goalie for Jim Rutherford.

It was the third deal in four days for the Rangers, who sent Giacomini, their No. 1 goaltender for the past decade, to the Wings for the customary $30,000 waiver price.

On Tuesday, the Rangers sent backup goalie Gilles Villemure to Chicago for defenseman Doug Jarrett. Thursday they dealt center Derek Sanderson to St. Louis for a No. 1 pick in the 1977 amateur draft.

Giacomini, a fixture on the Rangers and one of their most popular players, took the news hard.

"I'm sitting here completely numb, hardly functioning," he told the New York Post. "I'm walking around feeling like I'm embalmed, or dead."

"Tell me, why?" the 36-year-old Giacomini asked. "Tell me why they did it this way. Tell me why they had to do it to me in a way that hurt, a way that makes a man feel like he's dirt, some kind of piece of garbage. They threw me out. They told me I wasn't on waivers, then they tell me I was claimed on waivers."

"Why did they lie?"

Giacomini has a career goals-against average of 2.72.

This season he got off to a slow start, as did the Rangers. In four games he had three losses and a tie, and a 4.75 goals-against mark.

Giacomini, the Rangers' career leader with 49 regular season shutouts, shared the Vezina Trophy as the NHL's top goaltender with Villemure in 1970-71. He was twice selected to the NHL's All-Star first team and twice named to the second team.

"This move is a good one for Eddie in terms of longevity," said Rangers Coach Ron Stewart. "He has another year to go on his contract, and they (Detroit) need goaltending help. This move will extend his career."

"He's a heck of a goaltender and should be a great help to our club," said Detroit general manager Alex Delvecchio. "Hopefully, he's not looking at retirement. But he has to get over the shock of leaving New York. He was with the Rangers for a long time."

Young John Davidson, obtained in the off-season from St. Louis, inherits the Rangers' No.

1-goalie spot. As a backup man, the Rangers announced they were recalling goalie Dunc Wilson from the Baltimore Clippers of the American Hockey League.

The Rangers also announced the recall of left wing Dale Lewis from the Providence Reds of the AHL.

Judge Learning Toward Jobless Grid Players

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A federal judge has tentatively decided the rights of jobless football players take precedence over a National Football League edict against signing ex-World Football League players.

"I'm trying to find out how the owners are going to be damaged," said U.S. District Judge Edward Devitt Friday. "What you (NFL attorneys) are saying is that the damage to owners would be greater than to these fellows out of a job."

After a 2½-hour hearing, Devitt issued a temporary restraining order sought by nine former players for the WFL Hawaiian club. The order forbids Commissioner Pete Rozelle and his staff and club owners "from taking any action prohibiting, discouraging or otherwise preventing plaintiffs from negotiating and contracting" with NFL clubs.

The WFL, shunned by fans, folded Oct. 22 during its second year, and some players sought to join NFL clubs. However, Rozelle two days later spelled out the owners' decision not to hire WFL players during the rest of the season, which is half-over Sunday. The NFL deadline for trades was Tuesday.

Devitt set another hearing for Wednesday on the class-action suit brought by the nine seeking a temporary injunction.

Hearing Chairman Sees Permanent Local Blackout

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ban on blacking out local telecasts of sold-out sports events may be made permanent before the current law expires Dec. 31.

Chairman Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass., of the House Communications Committee said Friday he didn't want to make any predictions because of major legislation facing Congress, but he thinks the prohibition against blackouts will become permanent based on the testimony elicited during four days of hearings.

Macdonald said the committee had not been supplied with any data to show that the TV blackout ban has harmed any sports clubs. His remarks were directed specifically toward the National Football League and its commissioner, Pete Rozelle, who opposed the legislation.

"The legislation is not hurting them one iota," he said. "They can't show it. We were given a snow job, not a statement. It was pure baloney."

Macdonald expressed his ire after reading in detail the Thursday statement by Rozelle in which he said NFL clubs lost more than $9 million in two years, mostly from a drop in season ticket sales, because of the lifting of the blackout.

"It's meaningless and adds nothing to the debate over the alleged impact of this legislation," said Macdonald of Rozelle's statement. "Unless the NFL clubs are prepared to submit individual and itemized financial statements, then I have to totally disregard this latest piece of accounting magic."

Macdonald said Rozelle's statement did not say anything about the number of people who decide to buy tickets on a game-by-game basis instead of on the season.

"Many—perhaps most—of the season ticket shortfall will be made up by fans who decide to go to the stadium on a game-by-game basis," he said. "Therefore, the NFL's arithmetic appears to be purposely misleading when Mr. Rozelle merely totals up all the season tickets that remained unsold and multiplies it by the number of games and the average price per ticket."

"This simplistic formula ignores the fact that non-season ticket holders now have an opportunity to see individual games without being committed to buy tickets for the entire season—at dramatically increased prices," he said.

The Massachusetts Democrat also said Rozelle also cited Kansas City, Miami and Atlanta as three cities with the greatest losses in ticket season sales, using the blackout ban as the reason.

Macdonald said Rozelle failed to mention that Kansas City "had a disastrous season last year or that it imposed the blackout" on every home game—so the club was totally unaffected by the law last season.

He said Miami lost three of its star players and televised only three games locally while Atlanta "had the worst record in professional football."

Fight Sparks 131-127 Win Pushy Pistons Top Rockets

DETROIT (AP) — Muscular Bob Lanier pushed the Detroit Pistons to a 131-127 victory Friday over the Houston Rockets in a National Basketball Association game spiked with a fist fight.

In the final period with the Pistons leading 107-105, Houston's Cliff Meely elbowed Pistons forward Al Eberhard under Detroit's basket.

When Eberhard staggered back, Lanier grabbed Meely and wrestled him down as both teams' benches ran onto the floor.

After calm was restored, Eberhard hit a pair of free throws and then Lanier got a driving hook and a jumper within seconds as the Pistons opened up a 113-107 lead.

With two minutes left, the Pistons got a 121-111 lead and the Rockets were left with their third straight setback.

In other games, undefeated Boston overcame the winless Portland Trail Blazers 112-94 for their third victory of the season Friday night. New Orleans beat Milwaukee 100-85, Buffalo beat Philadelphia 92-87, and Los Angeles ripped Seattle 120-104.

"The bench was the difference," Detroit's coach Ray Scott said. "That's why the bullpen is so important. They have to be ready to play every night. Some of the guys who thought they didn't contribute much the other night really did it tonight."

George Trapp contributed with 20 points, behind Lanier and Rowe with 24 each.

All night, Lanier counterbalanced the Rockets' Calvin Murphy, who racked up 40 points for Houston.

The Rockets' Rudy Tomjanovich was right behind Murphy with 21. It was the end of a three-day layoff for the Rockets.

The Rockets shot 70 per cent from the field in that period, with Murphy getting 11 of his 40 points.

Ed Ratleff's score gave Houston its first lead since early in the game, 28-25. With 2:41 left in the first, Ratleff hit the free throw and Houston led the rest of the quarter.

Detroit lost Eberhard with his third foul late in the opening period, and the Pistons left his absence. The Rockets held a 33-33 lead after the first quarter and boosted that margin in the second.

Replacement George Trapp scored 10 points in the second to keep the Pistons within range of the Rockets but the home club fell deeper into foul trouble.

Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn claimed afterward the victory "it was like pulling teeth."

Jo Jo White garnered Boston scoring honors with 23 points in the National Basketball Association game, but Portland's towering Bill Walton took game honors with 26 points and Sidney Wicks had 23.

While Heinsohn said Boston's defense "worked very well," he added remorsefully, "We could never crack it open."

Portland fell behind 25-22 late in the first period on two baskets by Charlie Scott. The Celtics led 51-43 at the half, during which they blocked six shots, stole the ball a half-dozen times and forced 13 turnovers. It was 79-67 at the end of three quarters.

Meanwhile, Len Wilkins, in his first year as strictly a bench coach after serving as Portland's playing-coach, sounded hopeful in defeat.

"This was our best effort tonight," he insisted. "If we gave the same effort in the other games—it would have been a different story."

Jazz 100, Bucks 85

Pete Maravich and Aaron James scored 16 points apiece as New Orleans gained the advantage in the first quarter and never looked back, at times leading the winless Bucks by as much as 23 points. It was the fourth victory against one less for the Jazz while the Bucks, led by rookie Dave Meyers' 28 points, fell to 0-3.

Braves 32, 78ers 87

"There was a little luck towards the end on a couple of shots that we could have missed," confessed Bob McAdoo, who scored 25 points,

MANAGER: Wearing a team hat, Karl Kuehl smiles at a Montreal press conference Friday to announce his appointment as manager of the Montreal Expos of the National baseball league. including a crucial basket in the final minute, to keep Buffalo even with Boston for first place in the Atlantic Division. McAdoo assured, however that the Braves now are "moving with poise."

Buffalo Coach Jack Ramsay felt the game was up grabs. "Either team could have won, he said.

two minutes which swung the momentum the Trojans' way.

The opening Benton Harbor kickoff bounced off a Traverse City player's foot and was recovered by Desmond Parker at the Tiger 48. Two plays later, Schulz went for all the marbles and Beagle intercepted at the Trojan, 17. He returned the pickoff to the Traverse City 40.

Seven plays later John Rossetti went up the middle on a 13-yard TD run and Traverse City was off and running at 8-0.

Rick Waters took over from there. The 6-0, 175-pounder scored his 14th and 15th touchdowns of the year on scoring runs of 80 and 6 yards. Waters finished with 193 yards in just 13 carries.

"Waters is the best kid I've ever had play for me," Ooley said. "His quick acceleration and his ability to read defenses are his biggest assets."

From there it was only a matter of what the final score would be. The Trojans were able to run the ball almost at will with Bruce McLachlan rushing for 71 yards, Kim Tezak for 59 and John Rossetti 42. The threesome averaged more than six yards per carry and played little more than half the game.

few tackles from his linebacker spot.

Bush indicated that he was pleased with the blocking performances of Stover, Archer and guard Rick Sanders.

Although the Lakers picked up 238 yards rushing, they fell to third place in area team rushing with 2,040. Brandywine is first with 2,235 and Hartford is second at 2,123.

Catholic's total offense mark of 2,762 keeps it atop the area in that category and with a good season-ending game against Parchment next Saturday night, the Lakers could go over the 3,000-yard mark.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Profit Up For Ford Credit Co.

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Ford Motor Credit Co. reported Friday third-quarter earnings rose 400 per cent from a year ago to $21.8 million due to lower interest rates and a higher level of receivable accounts.

The firm, a wholly owned subsidiary of Ford Motor Co., said the latest earnings pushed profits for the first nine months of the year to a record $66.7 million, up 167 per cent from $25 million in 1974.

The company earned $4.3 million in last year's third quarter.

Receivables at Sept. 30 totaled $9.2 billion, compared with $8.1 billion a year ago and $9 billion at the end of the first half.

John C. Dean, Ford Credit chairman, said extended-firm financing accounted for an increasing share of the firm's business. He said 37 per cent of all new-vehicle credit contracts were for 36 months or more so far this year, compared with 12 per cent last year.

Ford Credit provides wholesale and retail financing for Ford products in the United States and Canada.

W.T. Grant To Close In Niles

NEW YORK (AP) — W.T. Grant announced Friday it will close its store in the Eastgate Shopping Center in Niles, Mich., by the end of the year, along with 279 other stores in other states.

Europeans Will Match U.S. Aid

ROME (AP) — Common Market countries have agreed in principle to match a $200 million American contribution to a fund to help grow food in the world's poorest countries, U.N. sources said today.

Delegates from 69 industrial, developing and oil-rich nations were winding up a week-long meeting to set up the $1.2 billion International Fund for Agricultural Development.

REX MORGAN, M.D.

I'D RATHER YOU DIDN'T TALK TO REX AT ALL! IT WAS MY FAULT FOR AGREEING TO DRIVE UP TO THE LAKE WITH HIM YESTERDAY!

I FELT THAT AS A FRIEND OF YOURS, HE WOULD UNDERSTAND WHAT I'VE BEEN THROUGH!

OF COURSE, WHEN HIS CAR WAS SUPPOSED TO HAVE BROKEN DOWN ON THE WAY HOME -- THAT WAS ALMOST LAUGHABLE!

IT DIDN'T SOUND FUNNY TO ME, VALERIE -- AND I INTEND TO TELL HIM SO!

Four Demand Examinations In Berrien District Court

Four persons demanded preliminary examinations and nine others were sentenced Friday in Berrien Fifth District Court.

Demanding examinations on felony charges were: Martin Ragsdale, 21, of Kerlikowski road, Colma, and Fred Weaver, 32, of Watervliet, charged with breaking and entering a Benton township home Oct. 28. Ragsdale was jailed and Weaver freed on $1,500 bonds.

Judith Ann Grosse, 24, of Union Pier, charged with writing an insufficient funds check for over $50 in Lake township Sept. 29. She was released on $500 bail.

Charles R. Crane, 26, of 2155 Welch avenue, Stevensville, charged with larceny of over $100 by conversion involving a car Oct. 3 at Ashley Ford, Benton township. Bail of $1,500 was posted and he was released.

Sentenced were: Seymour Flamm, president of Flamm Pickle & Packing Co., Sodus township, fines and costs of $100 for processing pickles under unsanitary conditions Aug. 6.

Harry E. Gribb, 45, of Rangeline road, Berrien Springs, $100 for cruelty to animals, allowing a maimed or disabled pony to suffer unnecessary pain, Oct. 2 on his property.

Donald F. French, 35, of Fairfield, Ill., $91 for possession of an unregistered pistol Oct. 23 in Lincoln township.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Disorderly person — Douglas N. Copeland, 21, of 4035 South Elm street, Three Oaks, 30 days in jail, $50 and six months probation for carrying a concealed knife; John V. Carlyle, 25, of Chicago, $125 or 15 days in jail for possession of a black-jack.

Driving while intoxicated — Marine Brauscomb, 36, of 596 Cass, Benton Harbor, $151; Thomas G. Cole, 35, of Evergreen lane, St. Joseph, three days in jail, $250 and one year probation for second offense.

Impaired driving, second offense — John M. Tomancik, 27, of Cleveland avenue, Baroda, $250; Evert D. Hathcoat, 33, of 1322 Niles avenue, Berrien Springs, $250 and one year probation.

Probation Violator Sentenced

A Benton Harbor man who violated his probation by failing to report to his probation officer and paying a fine was sentenced yesterday in Berrien Circuit court to 16 months to 2 years in prison.

Sentenced for the probation violations by Judge Julian E. Hughes was Larry Leroy Walls, 18, of 628 Baird street, Benton Harbor.

Hughes in April, 1974, placed Walls on two years probation for unlawful use of an auto in January, 1974. After Walls admitted he failed to report to the probation department in March and April this year and failed to pay $250 fine and costs which Hughes levied, his probation was revoked and Hughes sentenced him to prison.

BOOKED IN L.A.: Francis Raymond St. John, 33, was booked Friday in Los Angeles, Calif., in connection with two murders for which a man identifying himself as "Death" claimed responsibility. Police charged St. John picked up $100,000 ransom at a Los Angeles news terminal Friday night in exchange for life of a hostage identified only as Frank Robinson. Police had found no hostage. NEWS OF MARKETS

Profit Up For Ford Credit Co.

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Ford Motor Credit Co. reported Friday third-quarter earnings rose 400 per cent from a year ago to $21.8 million due to lower interest rates and a higher level of receivable accounts.

The firm, a wholly owned subsidiary of Ford Motor Co., said the latest earnings pushed profits for the first nine months of the year to a record $66.7 million, up 167 per cent from $25 million in 1974.

The company earned $4.3 million in last year's third quarter.

Receivables at Sept. 30 totaled $9.2 billion, compared with $8.1 billion a year ago and $9 billion at the end of the first half.

John C. Dean, Ford Credit chairman, said extended-firm financing accounted for an increasing share of the firm's business. He said 37 per cent of all new-vehicle credit contracts were for 36 months or more so far this year, compared with 12 per cent last year.

Ford Credit provides wholesale and retail financing for Ford products in the United States and Canada.

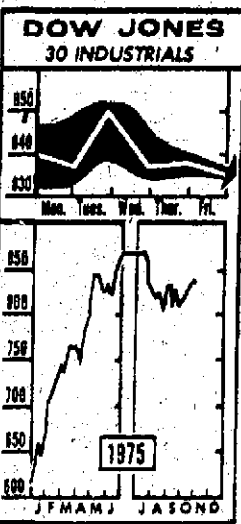

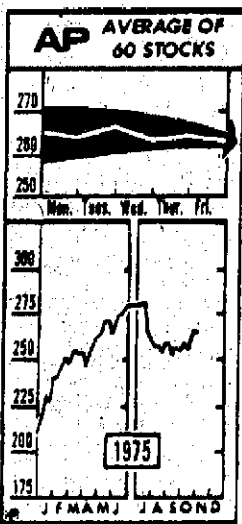

W.T. Grant To Close In Niles

NEW YORK (AP) — W.T. Grant announced Friday it will close its store in the Eastgate Shopping Center in Niles, Mich., by the end of the year, along with 278 other stores in other states.

Europeans Will Match U.S. Aid

ROME (AP) — Common Market countries have agreed in principle to match a $200 million American contribution to a fund to help grow food in the world's poorest countries, U.N. sources said today.

Delegates from 69 industrial, developing and oil-rich nations were winding up a week-long meeting to set up the $1.2 billion International Fund for Agricultural Development.

MARKET LOSES GROUND: Dow Jones industrial average closed at 836.04 Friday, down 4.48 from the week prior. Associated Press average closed at 264.1, down 1.6 over the same period. Stock market lost a little ground during the week, with New York City's problems again holding center stage in the minds of investors. (AP Wirephoto)

LEGAL NOTICES

SERVICES FOR PERSONS UNABLE TO PAY THEREFOR

Memorial Hospital, 2611 Morton Avenue, St. Joseph, Michigan 49085 has certified that for the current fiscal year it will make available for persons unable to pay therefor the sum of $40,000 of Uncompensated Services, which amount meets the presumptive compliance guidelines of the Federal regulations and is at least 10 percent of all Federal financial assistance received under the Act.

Copies of criteria used for identifying persons unable to pay for services may be obtained from Michigan Department of Public Health.

Records and documents on the basis of which the above level of uncompensated services was established are available for public inspection at 3423 North Logan Street, Lansing, Michigan between the hours of 8:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. on regular business days.

ORDINANCE NO. 72-1-175

SEWER

An Ordinance regulating the use of public and private sewers; the installation and connection of building sewers; establishing rates and charges for the use of the municipal sewage system; and providing for the mandatory hookup to said sewer system when the same becomes available and providing penalties for violations of sections thereof in the township of St. Joseph, County of Berrien, Michigan.

PURPOSE

The Township Board, in the interest of public health of the residents of St. Joseph Township, does hereby determine and find as follows:

- That the use of private septic tanks and sewage systems in said Township has caused widespread contamination of sewer, drains and subsurface waters in said Township.
- That because of the concentration of population in the Township and the existence of many shallow wells and soil conditions existing in the Township, such use of private sewage systems and septic tanks constitutes a hazard to the health of all the residents in the Township.
- That it is impracticable and in many cases impossible to ascertain definitely which particular private sewage system is in fact contaminating the surface waters and subsurface waters in the Township.
- That the only feasible and practicable means of alleviating this health hazard to the residents of the Township is the financing and construction of a sewage collection system for all residents of the Township and the requiring of all residents to utilize said sewage collection system when the same becomes available as herein defined in the Ordinance.

WHEREFORE, the St. Joseph Township Board, in consideration of the findings as above set forth and in the interest of the public health of the residents of the Township, does hereby order and find as follows:

SECTION 1. APPLICABILITY OF ORDINANCE. The following rules, regulations, charges and rates shall apply to all properties located within the boundaries of the Township of St. Joseph, together with any extensions, enlargements or additions hereto.

SECTION 2. DEFINITIONS. Unless the context specifically indicates otherwise, the meaning of terms used in this Ordinance shall be as follows:

- "Sewage collection facility" shall mean all facilities used by St. Joseph Township, including interceptor mains, collection system, and lift stations to collect and transmit sewage to the central treatment facility.
- "Township" shall mean the Township of St. Joseph or the Township Board or its authorized agent or representative.
- "Inspector" shall mean any person or persons duly authorized by the board to inspect and approve the installation of building sewers and their connection to the public sewer system or the termination of such connection.
- "Sewage" shall mean a combination of the water-carried wastes from residences, business buildings, institutions, industrial establishments and public buildings.
- "Sewer" shall mean a pipe or conduit for carrying sewage.
- "Public sewer" shall mean a sewer which is controlled by public authority.
- "Sanitary sewer" shall mean a sewer which carries sewage and to which storm, surface and ground waters are not intentionally admitted.
- "Industrial wastes" shall mean the liquid wastes from industrial processes as distinct from sanitary sewage.
- "Building drain" shall mean that part of the lowest horizontal piping of a sanitary sewer system which receives the discharge from waste pipes inside the walls of the building and conveys it to the building sewer, beginning five (5) feet outside the inner face of the building wall.
- "Building sewer" shall mean a pipe or conduit for carrying sewage beginning five (5) feet outside the inner face of a building wall and connecting to the public sewer.
- "Natural outlet" shall mean an outlet into a watercourse, pond, ditch, lake or other body of surface water.
- "Person" shall mean any individual, partnership, firm, company, association, society, corporation or group.
- "Shall" is mandatory; "may" is permissive.

SECTION 3. USE OF PUBLIC SEWERS REQUIRED:

- It shall be unlawful for any person to place, deposit or permit to be deposited in any manner upon public or private property within the Township of St. Joseph, County of Berrien, Michigan, or in any area under the jurisdiction of said Township of St. Joseph, any human or animal excrement, garbage, or other objectionable waste.
- It shall be unlawful to discharge to any natural outlet or drain within said Township of St. Joseph, or in any area under the jurisdiction of said Township of St. Joseph, any sanitary sewage, industrial waste or other polluted waters, except where suitable treatment has been provided in accordance with subsequent provisions of this Ordinance.
- Except as hereinafter provided, it shall be unlawful to construct or maintain any privy, privy vault, septic tank, cesspool or other facilities intended or used for the disposal of sewage.

SECTION 4. SEWERAGE AND OTHER PURPOSES SITUATED WITHIN THE

Township of St. Joseph and abutting any street, alley or right-of-way in which there is no located or may be located a public sewer of the Township of St. Joseph, is hereby required at his expense to install suitable toilet facilities therein, and to connect such facilities directly with the proper public sewer in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, within one (1) year after the occurrence of the last of the following events:

- Availability of the public sanitary sewerage collection facility.
- Improvement of the property so as to contain a building from which sanitary sewage may emanate.

Provided that said public sewer tap or sewer whichever is closest is within two hundred (200) feet of the property line or two hundred (200) feet from the building in the case of a single family residence.

SECTION 4. PUBLIC SEWERAGE DISPOSAL:

- Where a public sanitary sewer is not available under the provision of Section 3(a), the building sewer shall be connected to a private sewage disposal system complying with all requirements of St. Joseph Township and the Berrien County Health Department.
- The owner shall operate and maintain the private sewage disposal facilities in a sanitary manner at all times, at no expense to the Township of St. Joseph.
- At such time as a public sewer becomes available to a property served by a private sewage disposal system as provided in Section 3(a), a direct connection shall be made to the public sewer in compliance with this Ordinance, and any septic tanks, cesspools and similar private sewage disposal facilities shall be abandoned, pumped out, and cleaned and filled with sand.

SECTION 5. BUILDING SEWERS, CONNECTIONS AND CONNECTIONS:

- No unauthorized person shall uncover, make any connections with, or opening into, use, alter or disturb any public sewer or appurtenances thereof without first obtaining a written permit from the Township of St. Joseph.
- Before a permit may be issued for excavating in any public street, alley, or public right-of-way, a special permit is required from the St. Joseph Township and the Berrien County Road Commission.
- Before construction is started on any building sewer, the owner shall apply to the township for a hookup permit. An inspection fee of $30.00 will be charged for inspection and to process the application. This permit may be posted by the owner and be clearly visible from the road.

SECTION 6. IF ANY SYSTEM IS TO BE CONNECTED, TO COMPLY WITH STATE LAW contract only with a state licensed plumber who is also a state licensed residential building or licensed residential contractor and alterer.

He must also be bonded with the township in the amount of $10,000.00, conditioned that he will perform faithfully all work with due care and skill, and in accordance with the law, rules and regulations applicable thereto or any ordinance of the Township of St. Joseph pertaining to plumbing. This bond shall state that the person will indemnify and save harmless the Township of St. Joseph and the owner of the premises against all damages, costs, expenses, outlays and claims of every nature and kind arising out of unskillfulness or negligence on his part in connection with plumbing or excavating for plumbing as prescribed in this Ordinance.

Such bond shall remain in force and must be renewed for a period of two (2) years except that on such expiration it shall remain in force to all penalties, claims and demands that may have accrued thereunder prior to such expiration.

(B) All users other than single family, shall submit proposed sewer plans for approval by the Township Board of Health and Planning.

(C) All costs and expenses incidental to the installation and connection of the building sewer shall be borne by the owner. The Township will not be involved in the financial arrangements between the owner and the contractor. The owner or the person installing the building sewer for said owner shall indemnify said Township for any loss or damages that may directly or indirectly be occasioned by said installation.

(D) Separate and independent building sewer shall be provided for every building, except where one building stands at the rear of another on an interior lot and no private sewer is available or can be constructed to the rear and through an adjoining alley, court, yard or driveway, the building sewer from the front and rear buildings may be connected by a lateral and the whole considered as one building sewer. Other exceptions will be allowed only by special permission granted by the Township or its designated agent.

(E) Infiltration rate of building drain and building sewer shall not exceed eight (8) gallons per day per one hundred (100) feet.

(F) The building sewer shall be constructed of either vitrified clay sewer pipe or fittings meeting the current A.S.T.M. specifications for standard or extra strength sewer pipe or extra heavy cast iron soil pipe meeting the current A.S.T.M. specifications or the Department of Commerce Commercial standards for extra heavy cast iron pipe and fittings, cast iron or ductile iron with rubber type gaskets. No pipe of other material or size than 18" diameter shall be permitted and only an approved hookup adapter to the system can be used. If installed in filled or unstable ground, the building sewer shall be cast iron pipe, except that vitrified clay pipe may be accepted if laid on a suitable improved bed or grade as approved by said Township or its designated agent.

(G) All joints and connections shall be made gas tight and water tight. Vitrified clay sewer pipes shall be fitted with factory made available compression joints meeting the current A.S.T.M. specifications for "vitrified clay pipe joints having resilient properties" (designation 425). The joints and connections shall conform to the manufacturer's recommendations.

(H) The size and slope of the building sewer shall be subject to the approval of the said Township or its designated agent. No sewer shall be less than four (4) inches for single family residences and not less than six (6) inches for all other connections. The slope of such six (6) inch pipe shall not be less than one-eighth (1/8) inch per foot. The slope of larger pipes shall be as approved by the Township or its designated agent.

(I) Whenever possible, the building sewer shall be brought to the building at an elevation below the basement floor. No building sewer or drain shall be laid parallel to or within three (3) feet of any basement wall, which might thereby be weakened. Sanitary building sewer shall be no closer than five feet horizontal to a water service line or a property line and five feet horizontal distance from any other utility line. All excavations required for the installation of a building sewer shall be open trench work unless otherwise approved by the Township or its designated agent. Pipe laying and backfill shall be performed in accordance with current A.S.T.M. specifications except that all trenches shall remain open until all pipe exposed until approved by the Township representative.

(J) To all buildings in which any building sewer is too low to permit gravity flow to the public sewer, sanitary sewage carried by such sewer shall be lifted by approved artificial means and discharged to the building sewer at the expense of the owner.

(K) The connection of the building sewer into the public sewer shall be made at the "Y" branch in the main sewer and shall be made only as directed by the said Township or its designated agent.

(L) The applicant for the building sewer shall notify the said Township when the building sewer is ready for inspection and connection to the public sewer. The connection shall be made under the supervision of the said Township representative.

(M) The applicant for the building sewer shall be responsible for the cost of the building sewer and for the cost of the connection to the public sewer. The building sewer shall be laid in such a manner that identification symbols shall be clearly visible from the top of the trench.

(N) All excavations for building sewer installations shall be adequately guarded with barriers and lights so as to protect the public from hazards. Streets, sidewalks, parkways and other public property disturbed in the course of the work shall be restored in manner satisfactory to the said Township.

Four Demand Examinations In Berrien District Court

Four persons demanded preliminary examinations and nine others were sentenced Friday in Berrien District Court.

Demanding examinations on felony charges were: Martin Ragsdale, 21, of Kerlikowski road, Coloma, and Fred Weaver, 32, of Watervliet, charged with breaking and entering a Benton township home Oct. 28. Ragsdale was jailed and Weaver freed on $1,500 bonds.

Judith Ann Grosse, 24, of Union Pier, charged with writing an insufficient funds check for over $50 in Lake township Sept. 29. She was released on $500 bail.

Charles R. Crane, 26, of 2155 Welch avenue, Stevensville, charged with larceny of over $100 by conversion involving a car Oct. 3 at Ashley Ford, Benton township. Bail of $1,500 was posted and he was released.

Sentenced were: Seymour Flamm, president of Flamm Pickle & Packing Co., Sodus township, fines and costs of $100 for processing pickles under unsanitary conditions Aug. 6.

Harry E. Gribb, 45, of Rangeline road, Berrien Springs, $100 for cruelty to animals, allowing a maimed or disabled pony to suffer unnecessary pain, Oct. 2 on his property.

Donald F. French, 35, of Fairfield, Ill., $91 for possession of an unregistered pistol Oct. 23 in Lincoln township.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Disorderly person — Douglas N. Copeland, 21, of 4035 South Elm street, Three Oaks, 30 days in jail, $50 and six months probation for carrying a concealed knife; John V. Carlyle, 25, of Chicago, 12 1/2 or 15 days in jail for possession of a black-jack.

Driving while intoxicated — Marine Brausch, 36, of 596 Cass, Benton Harbor; $151; Thomas G. Cole, 35, of Evergreen lane, St. Joseph, three days in jail, $250 and one year probation for second offense.

Impaired driving, second offense — John M. Tomancik, 27, of Cleveland avenue, Baroda, $250; Evert D. Hathcoat, 33, of 1322 Niles avenue, Berrien Springs, $250 and one year probation.

Probation Violator Sentenced

A Benton Harbor man who violated his probation by failing to report to his probation officer and paying a fine was sentenced yesterday in Berrien District Court to 18 months to 2 years in prison.

Sentenced for the probation violations by Judge Julian E. Hughes was Larry Leroy Walls, 18, of 628 Baird street, Benton Harbor.

Hughes in April, 1974, placed Walls on two years probation for unlawful use of an auto, in January, 1974. After Walls admitted he failed to report to the probation department in March and April this year and failed to pay $250 fine and costs which Hughes levied, his probation was revoked and Hughes sentenced him to prison.

Paper's Readers Favor Some Electronic Surveillance

By a score of 31 to 5, Herald-Palladium readers responding to a Battle Creek state representative's survey say they favor limited electronic surveillance to control organized crime in Michigan. Paul A. Rosenbaum, a Battle Creek Democrat and chairman of the state's House Judiciary committee, had asked Michigan newspapers to run the survey. The committee is considering a bill dealing with heroin abuse and large-scale narcotics dealers. The Herald-Palladium published the survey question Oct. 23.

Three Gobles Men Ask Examinations

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Three Gobles men demanded preliminary examination on charges of possession of marijuana with intent to manufacture when arraigned yesterday in Van Buren Seventh district court.

Michael P. Aleksich, 17, Arthur L. Steinman Jr., 18, and Donald D. Smith, 20, all of 210 Glover, Gobles, were released on their own recognizance pending a Nov. 6 hearing.

The trio was arrested following a raid Wednesday night on the Glover street address, according to Gobles police. Quantities of suspected marijuana, as well as alleged equipment for processing it, were seized. Some plants were also found growing on the premises, police said.

In other cases, Jeff Walker, 17, Lawton, demanded preliminary examination on a charge of concealing stolen property, a television and stereo, Aug. 12 in Lawton.

Walker also pleaded guilty to a charge of escape from custody. He allegedly ran from a car driven by Van Buren Undersheriff Myron Southworth in Paw Paw Wednesday as he was being transported to the county jail. He was recaptured a short time later.

Walker was ordered held on $2,500 bond pending a Nov. 8 preliminary examination on the concealing stolen property charge.

Larry L. Harmon, 25, 212 Heywood, was sentenced to serve 45 days in the county jail by Judge William C. Buhl on a charge of fleeing and eluding police. Harmon was also fined $100 and placed on six to 12 months probation.

Harmon was accused of fleeing Hartford police Tuesday as they attempted to question him in connection with a report of a stolen car.

Benton Police Investigating Shot Fired Through Window

Benton township police said they are looking for a man who allegedly fired three shots into the air and a fourth through a window at an apartment at 1185 Blossom lane early this morning.

Police said no one was hit but a slug from a .28-caliber gun was retrieved from a wall. The shooting report was from apartment occupant Mrs. Stella Pinder, 41.

Mrs. Pinder at 12:10 a.m. told police a man entered and struck Mrs. Pinder's daughter, Roxanne Pinder, 18. The two knew each other, police were told. The man left but allegedly returned, broke a window and fired the shots about 12:45 a.m. Present besides Mrs. Pinder and her daughter were four other children of Mrs. Pinder, ages 4 to 13.

Sammie Rodgers, assistant principal at central junior high school, told Benton Harbor police he was nearly stabbed by a young woman he was trying to evict from the building about 2 p.m. Friday.

Rodgers told police the woman, about 17, and another young woman entered the school and created a disturbance. Rodgers said he took one of the women by the arm to escort her from the school, when she pulled a long knife. Rodgers was unhurt and the women left, police said. The reason for the disturbance was not reported.

Charles E. Jones, 26, of 1108 Bishop avenue, Benton Harbor, was booked on a charge of violating the controlled substance act after state police from the Benton Harbor post confiscated several bags of suspected

It's Fun Being A Gorilla

TOKYO (AP) — Zoo officials dressed a man in a gorilla suit Saturday and turned him loose in train keepers how to act during a real escape. Keepers chased the fake gorilla around the Ueno Zoo with a net for about an hour. He beat his chest, grabbed a teen-aged girl for a moment, and generally delighted a crowd of spectators. "It was fun while it lasted," the fake gorilla said. "But I hope something like this never happens."

Explosion Rips Russian Liner

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — An explosion damaged the stern of a Soviet liner that arrived from New York on Friday, but caused no casualties, police said. The ship was identified as the Maksim Gorky, but no other details were immediately available.

BOOKED IN L.A.: Francis Raymond St. John, 33, was booked Friday in Los Angeles, Calif., in connection with two murders for which a man identifying himself as "Death" claimed responsibility. Police charged St. John picked up $100,000 ransom at a Los Angeles bus terminal Friday night in exchange for life of a hostage identified only as Frank Robinson. Police had found no hostage. CLERK, TREASURER UNOPPOSED

Mayor, Council Races Enliven Niles Vote

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau
 NILES — A race for the mayor's post and contests in all four city council wards face Niles voters in the city's Nov. 4 election.

$1 Million Awarded In GM Suit

HOUSTON (AP) — Curtis Lee Simmons, 28, of Pasadena, Tex., who claimed faulty glass in his automobile caused blindness after a 1972 accident, was awarded $1 million Friday in a suit against General Motors.

The jury returned the verdict after deliberating six hours over two days, following a two-week trial before District Court Judge Jim Wallace.

The jury found that "the glass placed in the left door window of the automobile at the time of the auto's assembly was not manufactured, fabricated or treated so as to substantially prevent the glass shattering and flying when broken."

General Motors' attorneys contended that the actual collision broke the glass that caused the injuries and that the car manufacturing firm was not negligent in installing the glass.

Simmons' car was in collision with a truck Jan. 3, 1972. He had sought $2.6 million.

bent Republican Mayor Robert Woodbridge against challenger Paul Clark, a Democrat.

Other races involve Democrats Richard Asmus and John B. Frucci and Republican Charles Skopec, in the first ward; Republicans Louis Drolet and Melvin Bookout and Democrats Ralph Mooney and Ralph Dewees, in the second ward; Democrats Clayton Hemphill and Robert Knoll and Republican William DePoy, in the third ward and Republicans Charles Frey and Daniel Everett and Democrats William Surge and William Holmes Jr., in the fourth ward.

The top two vote-getters in each ward will be the winners.

There is also a race for the constable office in the second ward where Ossie Briggs (R) is being challenged by Lincoln Gessinger (D).

Unopposed are the constable candidates in the other three wards and incumbent city clerk Donna Fout, a Republican, and incumbent treasurer Marjory Bachman, a Democrat.

The unopposed constable candidate, are Tryee Moody, (R), first ward; Ralph Webb Jr. (D), third ward; and Allen Dulin (D), fourth ward.

Woodbridge, 62, was named mayor in March by the city council to fill the unexpired term of Ralph Wegner, who died March 18. Woodbridge was a second ward councilman at the time. In January, he had retired from being assistant vice president of the First National Bank of Southwestern Michigan, Niles. He and his wife, Mariam, live at 12 North 16th street and are the parents of a daughter.

Clark, 55, was an unsuccessful

Farm Price Index Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lower prices for livestock and grain contributed to a slight decline in the government's Farm Price Index last month, but some important commodities such as milk and cotton continued to climb.

On an over-all basis, the Agriculture Department said Friday, prices farmers get for the things they produce dropped one-half of 1 per cent from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. That was the first decline since the index dropped 2 per cent last March.

Today In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Today is Saturday, Nov. 1, the 305th day of 1975. There are 60 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1952, the United States exploded the first hydrogen bomb, at Eniwetok Atoll in the Marshall Islands.

On this date: In 1755, an earthquake killed 60,000 persons in Lisbon, Portugal.

In 1765, some American colonists defied British royal governors as London tried to enforce a Stamp Act in the colonies.

In 1788, the U.S. Continental Congress, which had first met in 1774, was adjourned.

In 1864, the U.S. Post Office began issuing postal money orders.

In 1940, British bombers hit Naples, Italy, for the first time in World War II.

In 1950, two Puerto Rican nationalists tried to force their way into Blair House in Washington to assassinate President Harry Truman, and one was killed by guards.

Ten years ago: A trolley plunged into the Nile River at Cairo, Egypt, drowning at least 74 persons.

Five years ago: A fire in a dance hall in Grenoble, France, took the lives of 145 young people.

One year ago: The U.S. unemployment rate reached 6 per cent, the highest level in three years.

Today's birthday: Opera singer Victoria de los Angeles is 51.

CHILD CARE BILL OK'd
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee, attempting to complete its work on a tax bill by the end of next week, has approved a provision to make child care benefits available to all working parents.

$1 Million Awarded In GM Suit

HOUSTON (AP) — Curtis Lee Simmons, 28, of Pasadena, Tex., who claimed faulty glass in his automobile caused blindness after a 1972 accident, was awarded $1 million Friday in a suit against General Motors.

The jury returned the verdict after deliberating six hours over two days, following a two-week trial before District Court Judge Jim Wallace.

The jury found that "the glass placed in the left door window of the automobile at the time of the auto's assembly was not manufactured, fabricated or treated so as to substantially prevent the glass shattering and flying when broken."

General Motors' attorneys contended that the actual collision broke the glass that caused the injuries and that the car manufacturing firm was not negligent in installing the glass.

Simmons' car was in collision with a truck Jan. 3, 1972. He had sought $2.6 million.

RESIGNS: David A. Packard, former deputy Defense secretary in charge of campaign fund-raising for President Ford, resigned Friday amid reports he was angry with the way Campaign Chief Howard Calloway is running things.

Today In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Saturday, Nov. 1, the 366th day of 1975. There are 60 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1952, the United States exploded the first hydrogen bomb, at Eniwetok Atoll in the Marshall Islands.

On this date: In 1795, an earthquake killed 60,000 persons in Lisbon, Portugal.

In 1765, some American colonists defied British royal governors as London tried to enforce a Stamp Act in the colonies.

In 1788, the U.S. Continental Congress, which had first met in 1774, was adjourned.

In 1894, the U.S. Post Office began issuing postal money orders.

In 1940, British bombers hit Naples, Italy, for the first time in World War II.

In 1950, two Puerto Rican nationalists tried to force their way into Blair House in Washington, to assassinate President Harry Truman, and one was killed by guards.

Ten years ago: A trolley plunged into the Nile River at Cairo, Egypt, drowning at least 74 persons.

Five years ago: A fire in a dance hall in Grenoble, France, took the lives of 145 young people.

One year ago: The U.S. unemployment rate reached 8 per cent, the highest level in three years.

Today's birthday: Opera singer Victoria de los Angeles is 51.

bent Republican Mayor Robert Woodbridge against challenger Paul Clark, a Democrat.

Other races involve Democrats Richard Asmus and John B. Frucci and Republican Charles Skopee, in the first ward; Republicans Louis Drolet and Melvin Bookout and Democrats Ralph Mooney and Ralph Dewees, in the second ward; Democrats Clayton Hemphill and Robert Knoll and Republican William DePoy, in the third ward and Republicans Charles Frey and Daniel Everett and Democrats William Surge and William Holmes Jr., in the fourth ward.

The top two vote-getters in each ward will be the winners.

There is also a race for the constable office in the second ward where Ossie Briggs (R) is being challenged by Lincoln Gessinger (D).

Unopposed are the constable candidates in the other three wards and incumbent city clerk Donna Fout, a Republican, and incumbent treasurer Marjory Bachman, a Democrat.

The unopposed constable candidates are Treee Moody (R), first ward; Ralph Webb Jr. (D), third ward; and Allen Dulin (D), fourth ward.

Woodbridge, 62, was named mayor in March by the city council to fill the unexpired term of Ralph Wegner, who died March 18. Woodbridge was a second ward councilman at the time. In January, he had retired from being assistant vice president of the First National Bank of Southwestern Michigan, Niles. He and his wife, Marian, live at 12 North 16th street and are the parents of a daughter.

Clark, 55, was an unsuccessful

Farm Price Index Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lower prices for livestock and grain contributed to a slight decline in the government's Farm Price Index last month, but some important commodities such as milk and cotton continued to climb.

On an over-all basis, the Agriculture Department said Friday, prices farmers get for the things they produce dropped one-half of 1 per cent from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. That was the first decline since the index dropped 2 per cent last March.

Child Care Bill OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee, attempting to complete its work on a tax bill by the end of next week, has approved a provision to make child care benefits available to all working parents.

Thought for today: You don't set a fox to watching the chickens just because he has a lot of experience in the hen house. — President Harry Truman, 1894-1972.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia resolved to ban the export of produce and livestock except horses from the United Colonies unless the proceeds were specifically used to purchase military stores.

I understand you used to be a minister. Has your attitude toward money changed now that you are a success?—W.F., Nyack, N.Y.

● I've always had kind of an indifferent attitude about money. As a minister you are somehow taken care of. I was given a house, a car and a salary. There were no doctor bills, no dentist bills. During the early days of acting, I'd do anything to pay the rent and feed the kids. But I still wasn't interested in money beyond making ends meet. I just wanted to act. Today I still don't live extravagantly. For instance, I'd be embarrassed to drive around in a big expensive car. My old Comet suits me just fine.

FOR SENATOR GEORGE McGOVERN

You're best known for opposing our involvement in Vietnam. Is there another issue you feel as strongly about today?—F.B. Richerson, Decatur, Ala.

● I hope to lead a new American battle against poverty, and I feel very strongly about the waste and inefficiencies in our defense spending. I hope we can soon reach the point where we direct our attention to the problems in our own country. As America approaches its 200th birthday, there's still much for us to do to fulfill the promises of our founding fathers.

FOR SAL BANDO, Oakland Athletics Third Baseman

What do you think of the way baseball picks players for the All-Star Game?—Bob Davis, Havelock, N.C.

● Today's system is only for the benefit of the fans. Don't get me wrong. I feel the fans should have a say. But many players are overlooked because they're not well known. I think the players should also have a vote. If they disagree with the fans, then the league presidents should decide.

FOR PETER BENCHLEY, author of "Jaws"

The "Jaws" movie differed from the book. Did you suggest the changes, and do you think they helped the film?—Mark Sexton, San Bruno, Calif.

● The changes were made by lots of people—producer, director, writers. In the end, it's the director who decides what goes in and what stays out. All in all, I think the changes worked quite well for the film.

FOR MARY BROOKS, Director of the Mint

Does working with money the way you do make you more or less extravagant?—S.W., Asbury Park, N.J.

● It has made me appreciate money all the more. Since I've had this job, I can never pass by a penny lying on the ground without stopping to pick it up.

FOR ANNE MEARA, star of "Kate McShane"

Do your children resent your work because it takes you away from them?—A.S., Little Rock, Ark.

● I guess all children resent a working Mom, but our two have accepted it. It's a way of life, and they also know that many of their "extras" are a result of my job. When I left to do "Kate McShane," Benjy asked, "Is the money good?" and, "Will Dad go too?" I said, "The money's good," and, "Dad's staying home." When they know we're going on a talk show, they give us strict instructions: "Don't say anything to embarrass us, and don't do anything silly."

FOR JIMMIE WALKER, star of "Good Times"

Would you rather be rich or famous?—L.P., Santa Monica, Calif.

● I'd rather have talent because, with that, the other two come naturally. People think we become entertainers just for the recognition. That's not true. No one goes into show business for that. I don't like being recognized. I don't go in for signing autographs. I'd rather have people enjoy my work than ask for my signature. On stage the two most important things are having creativity and having people appreciate it.

FOR BOB McALLISTER, host of "Wonderama"

Don't you find it boring to work with kids week after week?—R.J., Boise, Idaho

● My problem is with parents. After Junior comes out of a taping, Mom and Dad ask, "What did you win?" I'll never forget the day we gave away more presents than usual, and a little girl told me, "I'm very lucky." I asked why, and she said, "They're all having such a hard time carrying away everything. I've got nothing to carry." A great big lump came into my throat, and I rushed to get her the biggest doll I could find.

FOR SUMMER BARTHOLOMEW, Miss USA

Were you bothered by any of the publicity you got for becoming Miss USA?—B.Q., Orchard Park, N.Y.

● Members of the press kept asking me about subjects I did not pretend to be an expert on—amnesty, foreign policy and such. I could not understand why they felt a person chosen as Miss USA should suddenly be an expert overnight or even why my opinions on these matters should be inflicted on the public.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

Can you tell me something about Telly Savalas that I don't already know—after reading FAMILY WEEKLY's Oct. 12 story?—M.O.S., Albany, N.Y.

● Hugh O'Brian, Telly's co-star in "Diamond Mercenaries," says he's "one of the friendliest men I know. I've never met anyone who enjoys life and stardom as much as he does. He gets bothered if no one bothers him." Telly was recently the center of attention at Grand Central Station's Oyster Bar, because he wore a bright, yellow safari suit, and a 7-carat diamond dangling around his neck. He got it in South Africa while making the movie with Hugh. Telly went back to Columbia University after an Army stint in World War II. He majored in psychology; earned a B.S. degree; and worked for the State Department's Information Service. Then a theatrical agent, looking for an actor with a unique European accent, heard Telly audition (for a joke), and he got the part!

Announcing THE FIRST SCULPTURE COLLECTION EVER ISSUED BY THE HAMILTON MINT

The Bird Sculptures of Corsini

Six original Limited Edition masterpieces by one of America's foremost sculptors—hand cast in solid fine pewter.

Statues are 2 to 4 inches high,
and weigh 7 to 12 ounces.

With this announcement, The Hamilton Mint presents an exciting new fine art form... its first limited edition sculpture collection. This brilliant series, "The Bird Sculptures of Corsini" consists of six original art treasures that were especially created for this first Inaugural Edition by the finest young sculptor in America.

ORIGINAL ART MASTERPIECES

If you appreciate fine art objects, then you will be absolutely delighted with these remarkably life-like portrayals of American birds in solid fine pewter. The world famous sculptor Douglas Corsini has captured the essence of the stately Bald Eagle, our national symbol; the mysterious Great Horned Owl; the raucous Blue Jay; a graceful Blue Heron; a Mallard in flight; and the Carolina Parakeet, now extinct. Each sculpture is truly a work of unsurpassed beauty.

SCULPTURED IN FINE PEWTER

The statues themselves set a new standard of authenticity and excellence. Each bird is depicted with striking realism as it appears in nature. Every minute detail of the original sculpture will be captured through hand casting and finishing, and each piece will be hand antiqued until perfect. The base of each figure will bear the sculptor's personal mark deeply cast in the metal.

A LIMITED FIRST EDITION

"The Bird Sculptures of Corsini" will be issued by The Hamilton Mint as a first edition, limited to just 9,500 sets. Once the edition is fully subscribed the master casts will be destroyed to guarantee the integrity of the edition. Each subscriber will receive a Certificate of Authenticity from The Hamilton Mint, bearing the artist's signature, attesting to the limited edition status of the issue and to the outstanding quality of the sculpture.

THE HAMILTON MINT IS THE WORLD'S SECOND LARGEST PRIVATE MINT.

A CONVENIENT ACQUISITION PLAN

The statues will be issued at the rate of one every other month over a one year period. When you purchase the entire set, each bird will cost just $39.50 payable every other month. If you prefer, you may purchase and receive the entire collection now and save $12.00 in postage and handling charges—all six sculptures, paid in full now, are just $237.00 complete. You may also order individual figures at $42.50 each.

A VALUABLE NEW ART FORM FOR COLLECTORS

In purchasing "The Bird Sculptures of Corsini" collection, you will be acquiring original sculpture in a unique valuable art form. We anticipate that this impressive first edition of art masterpieces will be one of the most important and highly coveted editions we have ever issued. These museum-quality sculptures by an already acknowledged master will be prized by collector and connoisseur alike and will become treasured family heirlooms, to be passed from generation to generation.

To insure that you will become one of the very select few collectors to own this prestigious series of fine art treasures, please act now to complete and return the collector's application. Any orders received after the edition limits have been reached must be regretfully returned.

About the Sculptor

Although only 29 years old, Douglas Corsini has already made a great impact in Europe and America.

In one short decade of activity, he has taught, sold and exhibited in Italy and North America. The works of this Rhode Island native grace museums, galleries and collections all over the world. He is regularly commissioned to execute private works for prominent American families and corporations, and some of his originals command prices as high as $30,000.

Harriet Van Horne

By Harriet Van Horne

else, it avoids the roguish idiocy of the Fifties' phrase, "having a thing."

Because it's a term cribbed from the sociology books, "having a relationship" sounds less committed, less involved. It's a hang-loose word, and hanging loose is, to me, the official stance of today's youth culture, where intimacies develop without prelude, and partings are casual, with none of Juliet's "sweet sorrow."

Moralists, if they want to wring their hands and cry "Woe!" can find reason enough in this state of affairs. Divorce is on the rise, young love has become "a relationship," and romance—a vagrant—is on the town.

This discarding of romance is very sad to me. There are, of course, strong social forces shaping this new attitude. One the sexual revolution is not entirely pretty. A proper gentleman of advanced years once confided to me that young girls no longer looked attractive to him because of what he read about their lifestyles. Granted, this is the extreme view of one who remembers when obscene words were never spoken in mixed company and when every bride went to the altar wearing white. How quaint all this must seem to some in our age of eroticism! But it is precisely this eroticism — permeating every aspect of American life—that sets young people on a course that frequently shuns love but finds safe harbor in relationships.

Eroticism has been defined as pleasure without responsibility. The novelist J. B. Priestley called it "concentrating upon a certain kind of excitement and pleasure, to the exclusion of everything else." The films, the fiction, the music favored by the young—all are heavily tinged with this sort of thing. As you might suppose, this viewpoint fears love, sentiment, tender involvement. Love demands a commitment, a mutual concern. It honors the mystery which lies at the heart of loving response. A relationship keeps it cool, skirting the deep pools of feeling where love lies.

With all due respect for the accomplishments of Women's Lib in business and the professions, I have to say that I believe the new female militancy has done little to improve the intimate relations of men and women. In this realm, women may have lost status. And men, some psychiatrists say, have sometimes lost their manhood.

A few years ago, my eye was assaulted by a headline which said, "Link Women's Lib and Impotence." Translated, that meant doctors were reporting an increase in impotency among young men under 35. And the booted, braless girls on the barricades were being blamed.

The new sexual mores, with boys and girls sharing the same college dorms, with teenage girls taking The Pill and reading about "recreational sex" in magazines, have made the word "innocence" seem out of reach to some. I wonder if some of the resulting "relationships" haven't finally debased what used to be called femininity. (It's a word women's libbers abhor.) Women, in consequence, have become alienated from their true selves. They demand their rights, they fear commitment. They revel in the four-letter words, the sexual aggressions that used to be men's prerogatives. And there are psychiatrists who say it's all a terrible mistake.

Where casual relationships ultimately lead is to a race of displaced women who are sexually exploited and deeply resentful. In abrogating the old sexual code, in deforming the basic institutions built upon that code—chiefly home and family—we are rending the whole fabric of society.

Where will it all end? A psychologist at the University of California at Berkeley sees liaisons—"relationships," in the new down-home sense of the word—as the wave of the future. Old-fashioned romanticists can only ask, "How can a relationship be 'open'—meaning infidelity is permitted—and also 'stable'?" Such radical equations overlook fixed, immutable premises—namely, human hunger for roots, human jealousy and the normal, healthy wish to raise young children in a reasonably tranquil, life-enhancing environment.

The ways of the young will always puzzle and dismay the generation that begot them. Social convention is in constant flux. But basic human needs remain fairly constant. This is why the young who focus on "relationships" — shunning love, romance, commitment and all the rest—may be damaging themselves beyond repair.

"Being in Love" Versus "Having a Relationship"

When Betty Ford said recently that she "wouldn't be surprised" if her daughter Susan was "having an affair," the White House was immediately inundated with letters and telegrams denouncing or supporting the First Lady. Obviously, the morals of today's young are a sensitive issue to many Americans. In this essay, noted newspaper columnist Harriet Van Horne addresses herself to this topic of deep, and often divisive, concern.

Betty Ford

thinks of The Pill, permissive parents, Women's Lib, coed-dormitories, the pornography cult and the communes with their drug rituals and casual approach to group living.

This is not to say that all young people who embark upon a relationship are impelled only by the permissive climate. Some have been made wary by the amorous disasters of their elders. Some may recognize that they are too immature for the responsibilities of marriage.

Having a relationship, some of the young will tell you, makes sense. Either party can walk out when boredom sets in. Jealousy and possessiveness are less apparent (which is not to say that they don't exist). Besides, the young people claim, there is more sharing and giving in an easy, equal relationship because the girl does not expect to be treated as an uncrowned queen.

All the foregoing may be true. But in the eyes of folks over 40, the social fallout from them, all day long. We relate, with varying degrees of warmth, to every man, woman, child, every dog, cat and horse we know by name. We are in constant relationship with all those who share our house, our work, our lives. Not to relate to somebody is to be socially dead.

"Relationship," it seems, is an easier word for young people than "love." It's more hip than "romance." And, if nothing

In reply to a question from her mother, a spirited 20-year-old recently explained, "No, I'm not in love with Mike. But I like him. We're having a relationship."

Having a relationship. It's a fad phrase that sounds, somehow, discreet and meaningful.

But just what, one wonders from the far side of the generation gap, is so special about having a relationship? We all have else, it avoids the roguish idiocy of the Fifties' phrase, "having a thing."

Because it's a term cribbed from the sociology books, "having a relationship" sounds less committed, less involved. It's a hang-loose word, and hanging loose is, to me, the official stance of today's youth culture, where intimacies develop without prelude, and partings are casual, with none of Juliet's "sweet sorrow."

Moralists, if they want to wring their hands and cry "Woel!" can find reason enough in this state of affairs. Divorce is on the rise, young love has become "a relationship," and romance—a vagrant—is on the town.

This discarding of romance is very sad to me. There are, of course, strong social forces shaping this new attitude. One the sexual revolution is not entirely pretty. A proper gentleman of advanced years once confided to me that young girls no longer looked attractive to him because of what he read about their lifestyles. Granted, this is the extreme view of one who remembers when obscene words were never spoken in mixed company and when every bride went to the altar wearing white. How quaint all this must seem to some in our age of eroticism! But it is precisely this eroticism — permeating every aspect of American life—that sets young people on a course that frequently shuns love but finds safe harbor in relationships.

Eroticism has been defined as pleasure without responsibility. The novelist J. B. Priestley called it "concentrating upon a certain kind of excitement and pleasure, to the exclusion of everything else." The films, the fiction, the music favored by the young—all are heavily tinged with this sort of thing. As you might suppose, this viewpoint fears love, sentiment, tender involvement. Love demands a commitment, a mutual concern. It honors the mystery which lies at the heart of loving response. A relationship keeps it cool, skirting the deep pools of feeling where love lies.

With all due respect for the accomplishments of Women's Lib in business and the professions, I have to say that I believe the new female militancy has done little to improve the intimate relations of men and women. In this realm, women may have lost status. And men, some psychiatrists say, have sometimes lost their manhood.

A few years ago, my eye was assaulted by a headline which said, "Link Women's Lib and Impotence." Translated, that meant doctors were reporting an increase in impotency among young men under 35. And the booted, braless girls on the barricades were being blamed.

The new sexual mores, with boys and girls sharing the same college dorms, with teenage girls taking The Pill and reading about "recreational sex" in magazines, have made the word "innocence" seem out of reach to some. I wonder if some of the resulting "relationships" haven't finally debased what used to be called femininity. (It's a word women's libbers abhor.) Women, in consequence, have become alienated from their true selves. They demand their rights, they fear commitment. They revel in the four-letter words, the sexual aggressions that used to be men's prerogatives. And there are psychiatrists who say it's all a terrible mistake.

Where casual relationships ultimately lead is to a race of displaced women who are sexually exploited and deeply resentful. In abrogating the old sexual code, in deforming the basic institutions built upon that code—chiefly home and family—we are rending the whole fabric of society.

Where will it all end? A psychologist at the University of California at Berkeley sees liaisons—"relationships," in the new down-home sense of the word—as the wave of the future. Old-fashioned romanticists can only ask, "How can a relationship be 'open'—meaning infidelity is permitted—and also 'stable'?" Such radical equations overlook fixed, immutable premises—namely, human hunger for roots, human jealousy and the normal, healthy wish to raise young children in a reasonably tranquil, life-enhancing environment.

The ways of the young will always puzzle and dismay the generation that begot them. Social convention is in constant flux. But basic human needs remain fairly constant. This is why the young who focus on "relationships"—shunning love, romance, commitment and all the rest—may be damaging themselves beyond repair.

Harriet Van Horne

Ewing Galloway

"Being in Love" Versus "Having a Relationship"

When Betty Ford said recently that she "wouldn't be surprised" if her daughter Susan was "having an affair," the White House was immediately inundated with letters and telegrams denouncing or supporting the First Lady. Obviously, the morals of today's young are a sensitive issue to many Americans. In this essay, noted newspaper columnist Harriet Van Horne addresses herself to this topic of deep, and often divisive, concern.

Betty Ford

In reply to a question from her mother, a spirited 20-year-old recently explained, "No, I'm not in love with Mike. But I like him. We're having a relationship."

Having a relationship. It's a fad phrase that sounds, somehow, discreet and meaningful.

But just what, one wonders from the far side of the generation gap, is so special about having a relationship? We all have them, all day long. We relate, with varying degrees of warmth, to every man, woman, child, every dog, cat and horse we know by name. We are in constant relationship with all those who share our house, our work, our lives. Not to relate to somebody is to be socially dead.

"Relationship," it seems, is an easier word for young people than "love." It's more hip than "romance." And, if nothing thinks of The Pill, permissive parents, Women's Lib, coed-dormitories, the pornography cult and the communes with their drug rituals and casual approach to group living.

This is not to say that all young people who embark upon a relationship are impelled only by the permissive climate. Some have been made wary by the amorous disasters of their elders. Some may recognize that they are too immature for the responsibilities of marriage.

Having a relationship, some of the young will tell you, makes sense. Either party can walk out when boredom sets in. Jealousy and possessiveness are less apparent (which is not to say that they don't exist). Besides, the young people claim, there is more sharing and giving in an easy, equal relationship because the girl does not expect to be treated as an uncrowned queen.

All the foregoing may be true. But in the eyes of folks over 40, the social fallout from

... just like having your own private secretary!

People Quiz

By John E. Gibson

Friendships: What Makes Them? (And What Keeps Them Going?)

True or False? Whether a person is hard or easy to make friends with depends on whether the person is fat or thin.
(See number 2.)

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. Most friendships grow from a small seed—an act or comment on the part of one person that sparks a strong and positive reaction in the other.
2. Whether a person is hard or easy to make friends with depends on whether the person is fat or thin.
3. The level of friendship we achieve with another depends on the extent to which we "let down our hair" and reveal ourselves to the other person.
4. People who are unfriendly are doing you a favor.
5. If you were smarter, you'd have more friends.
6. When a person asks you to define true friendship, it tells you a lot about him.

ANSWERS

1. True—as evidenced by the findings of a University of North Dakota study of the dynamics of friendship. The study showed that "one person becomes a candidate for friendship with another when he reveals, directly or indirectly, something about himself that the other person regards as nonstereotyped or genuine, and to which he reacts favorably." In other words, friendships grow out of actions which are not merely role-playing, conforming or phony.
2. True—specifically in the case with women. According to university studies, stocky, heavyset women sometimes have difficulty "in accepting their self-image and in accepting other people." In other words, they may not make friends as readily.

3. True. Psychological studies at a leading university have shown that "the general level of friendship increases as a function of self-disclosure. . . . There are greater increases in friendship levels after intimate disclosure than after non-intimate disclosure." This was found particularly true with friendships among women. Among men, however, it was found that in the initial stages of acquaintance, self-disclosure was sometimes threatening.
4. True. Psychological studies show that people whose attitude toward others is unfriendly have a similar attitude toward themselves. They don't like themselves—usually with good reason. This means that even if you could make friends with them, you would probably regret it because they are incapable of maintaining real friendship.
5. False. Investigators from two universities cite studies showing that "the most competent or superior people are seldom the most popular," and that the bungling, incompetent person finds it easier to form interpersonal relationships because he presents no threat to another person's ego. Tests show that the extremely competent person can increase his attractiveness to others by making self-deprecating remarks, or by telling jokes on himself. This will make him seem "more human."
6. True. In summing up the findings of a study of human relationships, one leading sociologist cites this observation regarding true friendship: "If you need an explanation of this, you have no real friends—and can't be a real friend to anyone."

The proud smoke

Product of proud land.

Tobacco. It's as proud a tradition as Niagara Falls. And it's a tradition we've made tobacco smoke worth that tradition. The proud, distinctive, smooth L&M. Smoke it proudly.

The Lazy Way to Lose Weight Fast

'Most Men and Women Are Too Busy Dieting To Ever Get Slim'

I used to starve myself and exercise to lose weight. Every day — even on weekends.

But I didn't start to lose a lot of weight until I ate more — and stopped exercising.

Quite by accident I stumbled on the real secret of fast and permanent weight loss.

And, I'm going to ask you to send me 10 dollars for the secret, even though its only a few minutes worth of reading material. I hope to make it so appealing that you'd be crazy not to do it.

What difference does it make if it takes you only a few minutes to learn the secret — if it works?

And suppose, I'm so sure my Lazy Way to Lose Weight Fast will work for you too — that I'll make you an ironclad, no-risk guarantee? Here it is.

I won't even cash your check for 14 days — until you've lost the weight you want to lose.

If my secret weight loss plan doesn't take off your pounds and inches faster than anything you've ever tried, send the plan back. Your uncashed check will be returned that very day.

Sorry but I can't send the plan and bill you later, or send it C.O.D. That takes too much bookkeeping and it's a bother. And anyway, I'm about to give you what you've wanted all your life — a foolproof method of fast weight loss that's guaranteed to work.

Frankly I'm not sure of the technical reasons that my weight loss plan makes ugly fat disappear into thin air. It just does. It's a simple new way of eating and thinking.

I'm the living, breathing, happy, 100-pounds-lighter proof that my plan really works. It works for women too. A friend of mine who tried my plan lost 17 pounds and 3 dress sizes. She looks terrific . . . and eats more than ever and never exercises either.

Now, that may sound like a boast, but I want to assure you that sending me 10 dollars for my secret . . . which I'll hold until you are slim . . . is the wisest thing you've ever done.

Because, if you are anything like me you've spent half your life starving, the other half feeling guilty about eating. Never again, I promise!

For years I struggled and sweated to lose weight. I tried everything — fad diets — jogging — aerobics — went to diet doctors — took pills — read dozens of so-called miracle-diet books. Nothing worked for me.

Then I discovered the real secret of losing weight and keeping it off — The Lazy Way. I did better in the first two weeks than I had the whole two years before.

It's a pleasure to wake up in the morning and look in the mirror. I've got a whole new wardrobe — my sex life is better than ever — I feel younger than I did at 20.

And I'll show you just how I did it — The Lazy Way — a secret I've shared with my wife and just a few close friends until now.

When you follow my simple, A-B-C weight loss plan, I'll guarantee that . . .

If you're a man you'll never again lack zest and energy to do things and go places . . . never again put extra strain on heart, arteries and lungs . . . never again feel embarrassed when you go swimming because of your spare tire. If you're a woman you'll never again have to avoid looking in the mirror . . . never again look ten years older than you really are . . . never again have to spend extra money for large size clothing never again see that look in your husband's eyes because you are overweight.

And, perhaps most important of all . . . whether you are young or old . . . man or woman . . . 10 pounds overweight or 100 pounds overweight like I was . . . The Lazy Way to Lose Weight Fast MUST work for you or it won't cost you a single penny.

It doesn't take willpower. You never feel hungry because you can eat a great deal of food.

Before it seemed everything I ate turned to fat — now everything I eat turns to energy. The weight comes off so fast you don't have a chance to quit.

It doesn't take exercise. You don't have to move a muscle — your changed metabolism does the work for you.

What does it take to lose all the weight you want to lose? Trust. Just enough trust to read my plan twice and put it into practice. When you do that, nothing more or less, the results will amaze you. I'll guarantee that.

A very smart doctor once told me: "Most men and women are too busy dieting to ever get slim."

Don't waste the best years of your life as a fat person to find out that he was right.

Prove it to yourself when you complete and mail the coupon now. Don't take my word for it, try it. If I'm wrong, you've lost just a few minutes and a 10 cent stamp but what if I'm right?

Friendships: What Makes Them? (And What Keeps Them Going?)

True or False? Whether a person is hard or easy to make friends with depends on whether the person is fat or thin.
(See number 2.)

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. Most friendships grow from a small seed—an act or comment on the part of one person that sparks a strong and positive reaction in the other.
2. Whether a person is hard or easy to make friends with depends on whether the person is fat or thin.
3. The level of friendship we achieve with another depends on the extent to which we “let down our hair” and reveal ourselves to the other person.
4. People who are unfriendly are doing you a favor.
5. If you were smarter, you’d have more friends.
6. When a person asks you to define true friendship, it tells you a lot about him.

ANSWERS

- 1. True—as evidenced by the findings of a University of North Dakota study of the dynamics of friendship. The study showed that "one person becomes a candidate for friendship with another when he reveals, directly or indirectly, something about himself that the other person regards as nonstereotyped or genuine, and to which he reacts favorably." In other words, friendships grow out of actions which are not merely role-playing, conforming or phony.
- 2. True—specifically in the case with women. According to university studies, stocky, heavyset women sometimes have difficulty "in accepting their self-image and in accepting other people." In other words, they may not make friends as readily.

3. True. Psychological studies at a leading university have shown that "the general level of friendship increases as a function of self-disclosure. . . . There are greater increases in friendship levels after intimate disclosure than after non-intimate disclosure." This was found particularly true with friendships among women. Among men, however, it was found that in the initial stages of acquaintance, self-disclosure was sometimes threatening.

- 4. True. Psychological studies show that people whose attitude toward others is unfriendly have a similar attitude toward themselves. They don't like themselves—usually with good reason. This means that even if you could make friends with them, you would probably regret it because they are incapable of maintaining real friendship.
- 5. False. Investigators from two universities cite studies showing that "the most competent or superior people are seldom the most popular," and that the bungling, incompetent person finds it easier to form interpersonal relationships because he presents no threat to another person's ego. Tests show that the extremely competent person can increase his attractiveness to others by making self-deprecating remarks, or by telling jokes on himself. This will make him seem "more human."
- 6. True. In summing up the findings of a study of human relationships, one leading sociologist cites this observation regarding true friendship: "If you need an explanation of this, you have no real friends—and can't be a real friend to anyone."

Smart Cooking Day Before Payday

Sizzling Country-Style Spareribs With an Apricot Glaze

Savory spareribs with an apricot glaze, garnished and served on a platter of steaming hot rice. Perfect for guests!

COUNTRY RIBS INDONESIAN

- 6 lbs. country-style pork spareribs, cut in individual ribs
- 4 onions, peeled and quartered
- 2 cloves garlic
- 6 tablespoons soy sauce
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1 tablespoon ground coriander
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 teaspoons ground cumin
- 1 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1 teaspoon black pepper, freshly ground
- 1 cup apricot jam
- Hot cooked white rice
- Orange slices

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Place pork ribs in a single layer in a shallow roasting pan. Cover with foil and bake for 1 hour.
2. In electric blender container, combine onions, garlic, soy sauce, lemon juice, brown sugar, coriander, salt, cumin, cayenne pepper and black pepper. Blend covered.
3. Add apricot jam. Blend again until marinade is fairly smooth.
4. Pour marinade into large bowl. Add pork ribs, coating on all sides with marinade. Cover, refrigerate for several hours or overnight.

5. When ready to cook, drain ribs and reserve marinade.
6. Place ribs on rack in broiler pan 5 inches from heating element and broil about 20 minutes, turning every 5 minutes to brown on all sides.
7. Heat reserved marinade until bubbly and spoon over ribs. Serve with rice and garnish platter with orange slices.

Makes 6 to 8 servings

Editor's note: For an adventurous alternate, why not use cream-style peanut butter instead of the apricot jam?

PINEAPPLE BREAD PUDDING

- 12 slices white enriched bread
- 1 can (20 ozs.) crushed pineapple, drained
- 5 eggs, separated
- ½ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 2 cups milk
- 4 tablespoons granulated sugar

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Grease a 9-inch x 13-inch pan.
2. Place 6 slices of bread in bottom of baking pan. Spoon ½ of crushed pineapple over bread. Top with remaining bread slices and pineapple.
3. In medium bowl, beat egg yolks, brown sugar, salt, cinnamon and milk together. Pour over bread and pineapple.
4. In clean bowl with clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until shiny and stiff. Spread meringue mixture over top of the pudding.
5. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until the tip of a knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Makes 8 servings

WHAT'S SMART: Take the blade end of a loin of pork—the last five ribs—cut in slices and then split in half, making "country-style" ribs. Meatier and juicier than regular spareribs, they're usually cheaper, too.

We have been affected, perhaps more than we realize, by certain 20th-century authors. Through their writings—perhaps through only one book they produced—we have gained information and understanding that have somehow shaped our daily lives. Often these are not the people we call our greatest authors. Nor is the list all-inclusive. Sigmund Freud could have been included, for example, but much of his work is rooted in the 19th century—and not many people have really read his books.

The list we end up with is based partly on popularity (all of these books have been or continue to be “best sellers”) and partly on the fact that these books have added different dimensions to many people’s lives. Here is a list of authors who have most markedly affected Americans in the last 50 years:

DALE CARNEGIE

In his “How to Win Friends and Influence People,” published in 1937, Dale Carnegie wrote: “Dealing with people is probably the biggest problem you face.” A simple axiom that thousands of readers seem to accept. Carnegie gave practical pointers in simple, straightforward language, based on reading the biographies of great men and interviewing scores of successful people, from Franklin D. Roosevelt to Mary Pickford. “There is just one way to get anybody to do anything,” he wrote, “and that is by making the other person want to do it.”

Drawing upon a lifetime of experience and a large stock of common sense, he listed the six ways to make people like you, one of which was simply to smile. As for making your home life happier, he had seven rules, including “Don’t nag” and “Give honest appreciation.” Millions of readers have acted upon his advice.

Carnegie would probably strike some readers as being a little “simplistic” now since he wrote for a public less knowledgeable in psychoanalysis, medical jargon, and Eastern philosophies of happiness. But “How to Win Friends” is the granddaddy of self-help books

Authors Who Have Shaped Our Lives

By Richard Armour

Dr. Benjamin Spock

Amy Vanderbilt

Dr. David Reuben

George Orwell

Richard Armour, whose light verse appears regularly in FAMILY WEEKLY’s “Quips & Quotes” department, has a very serious side. A Ph.D. from Harvard, he is dean and professor emeritus of Scripps College in California and has taught English at the University of Texas, Northwestern University, the University of Hawaii, and other schools. He has published more than 50 books on numerous subjects, including literature, history and medicine.

aimed at curing people’s unrest. People who read it in its day may not be so different from the thousands who are reading “I’m OK, You’re OK” today.

DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Though practical, direct and personal, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale’s “The Power of Positive Thinking,” first published in 1952, has more evident roots in the Christian religion than Carnegie’s book. To the down-to-earth, Dr. Peale adds an up-to-heaven quality. Finding the world sometimes too noisy and tense, he suggests daily periods of silence as well as going for a walk in the woods and relaxing and calming oneself. “Stop fuming and fretting,” he says.

Dr. Peale sees in God the basic source of human energy. “I believe that prayer is a sending out of vibrations to one another and to God,” he says. His book is full of examples of people who have turned from negative to positive thinking by following such advice as “Believe in Yourself” and suggestions on “How to Break the Worry Habit,” both chapters in his book. Dr. Peale says he found his “simple philosophy of life” in the teachings of Jesus Christ.

EMILY POST AND AMY VANDERBILT

These two writers had much the same mission. Amy Vanderbilt puts it well in her “Complete Book of Etiquette,” first published in 1952: “We must all learn the socially acceptable ways of living with others in no matter what society we move. Even in primitive societies there are such rules, some of them as complex and inexplicable as many of our own.”

Both writers tell us what is expected of us, what we should do (whether at a wedding or a funeral) and what we should know about table manners, entertaining guests, writing and addressing letters and all the rest. Emily Post, in “Etiquette,” first published in 1922, has more to say about the proprieties of conversation, but both women urge us to make the effort to have good manners for the sake of others.

The importance of the Post-Vanderbilt books is not merely

Smart Cooking Day Before Payday

Sizzling Country-Style Spareribs With an Apricot Glaze

Savory spareribs with an apricot glaze, garnished and served on a platter of steaming hot rice. Perfect for guests!

COUNTRY RIBS INDONESIAN

- 6 lbs. country-style pork spareribs, cut in individual ribs
- 4 onions, peeled and quartered
- 2 cloves garlic
- 6 tablespoons soy sauce
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1 tablespoon ground coriander
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 teaspoons ground cumin
- 1 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1 teaspoon black pepper, freshly ground
- 1 cup apricot jam
- Hot cooked white rice
- Orange slices

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Place pork ribs in a single layer in a shallow roasting pan. Cover with foil and bake for 1 hour.
2. In electric blender container, combine onions, garlic, soy sauce, lemon juice, brown sugar, coriander, salt, cumin, cayenne pepper and black pepper. Blend covered.
3. Add apricot jam. Blend again until marinade is fairly smooth.
4. Pour marinade into large bowl. Add pork ribs, coating on all sides with marinade. Cover, refrigerate for several hours or overnight.

5. When ready to cook, drain ribs and reserve marinade.

6. Place ribs on rack in broiler pan 5 inches from heating element and broil about 20 minutes, turning every 5 minutes to brown on all sides.

7. Heat reserved marinade until bubbly and spoon over ribs. Serve with rice and garnish platter with orange slices.

Makes 6 to 8 servings

Editor's note: For an adventurous alternate, why not use cream-style peanut butter instead of the apricot jam?

PINEAPPLE BREAD PUDDING

- 12 slices white enriched bread
- 1 can (20 oz.) crushed pineapple, drained
- 5 eggs, separated
- ½ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 2 cups milk
- 4 tablespoons granulated sugar

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Grease a 9-inch x 13-inch pan.
2. Place 6 slices of bread in bottom of baking pan. Spoon ½ of crushed pineapple over bread. Top with remaining bread slices and pineapple.
3. In medium bowl, beat egg yolks, brown sugar, salt, cinnamon and milk together. Pour over bread and pineapple.
4. In clean bowl with clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until shiny and stiff. Spread meringue mixture over top of the pudding.
5. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until the tip of a knife, inserted in center comes out clean.

Makes 8 servings

WHAT'S SMART: Take the blade end of a loin of pork—the last five ribs—cut in slices and then split in half, making "country-style" ribs. Meatier and juicier than regular spareribs, they're usually cheaper, too.

How The Beautiful People Get Rid Of Both Cellulite And Ordinary Fat—Without Dieting!

Yes, the Beautiful People cannot afford to be fat! Those stunning, sleekly-slim couples must remain youthful and slim right up to 50...60...70! And yet they eat lavishly, feasting on exotic cuisines as they travel the globe, but always retaining their fantastic figures. And, if you were to ask them what they do to maintain their Beautiful People Bodies, the answer would always be the same: "I don't do ANYTHING!"

That's right! They enjoy the finest food in the world and yet the needle on the scale barely moves! How do they do it?

For the first time, Luciana Avedon (former Princess Pignatelli) reveals the "BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE MIRACLE FORMULA" responsible for all those lusciously svelte figures on the society pages. How they NEVER go on fad diets. NEVER take dangerous amphetamines, diuretics or diet pills, and NEVER give up their favorite foods either! How they simply go right on eating the foods they like—but in a special way that keeps them always fashionably slim.

(In fact, these Beautiful People secrets of delicious figure-maintenance are so powerful that, when one young, overweight model was introduced to just one of them, she lost 22 pounds in one month and stayed at that weight from then on! And another young girl, when shown how, lost 20 "impossible" pounds in two short months, even though not a single meal demanded a special preparation!)

Order THE BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE'S DIET BOOK #80108 @ $5.98. Send check or m.o. to Improvement Books, Dept. 10763, 13490 N.W. 45th Ave., Opa Locka, Fla. 33059. (N.Y. & Fla. residents add sales tax.)

that they are found in so many home libraries. The importance is that they were the first guides to "manners" in a country that no longer looked to Europe for leadership, a country where "upward mobility" seemed within everybody's grasp, and where a public that had previously prided itself on its "uncouthness" suddenly became self-conscious about the "better things in life"—and how to use them.

DR. BENJAMIN SPOCK

Through his "Common Sense Book of Baby and Child Care," published in 1946, Dr. Spock has advised countless mothers on how to enjoy their baby, how to have confidence in their own judgment and how a baby can be spoiled and unspoiled. He has given suggestions, too, to fathers and grandparents. There is nothing he overlooks, from a baby's crying (does it mean hunger? sickness? being wet? tired? stuck with a safety pin?) to problems of feeding and what to do about the too-thin and the too-fat child.

Dr. Spock gives professional counseling to working mothers and to parents of handicapped children. He tells how to get the best from the relationship of brothers and sisters, and what one needs to know about adopting a child. As for illnesses, he separates the trivial from the serious, indicating those you can handle yourself and those that require a doctor. No wonder so many parents, and especially mothers, have turned to "Baby and Child Care" for guidance.

DR. DAVID REUBEN

Published in 1969, Dr. Reuben's "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex but Were Afraid to Ask" is probably the most influential book of the so-called sexual revolution. A psychiatrist who draws upon the sexual experience of thousands of patients, Reuben mentions the previously unmentionable and writes in a clear, lively style that anyone can understand.

Dr. Reuben is startlingly frank about such matters as the male and female sex organs, varieties of intercourse, masturbation, impotence, birth control, prostitution, homosexuality and the sex life of the aged. In some ways the reports of Alfred C. Kinsey and the team of William H. Masters and Virginia Johnson were more "revolutionary." But it was Dr. Reuben who did the most to replace the average person's ignorance with knowledge and fear with confidence on a subject previously suppressed or distorted.

GEORGE ORWELL

George Orwell's "1984," published in 1949, is about what may be ahead: a world dominated by Big Brother, with a special language called Newspeak. In his book, a forced-labor camp is called a joycamp, dissenters vaporize when denounced by Thought Police and minds become jumbled by Doublethink (accepting contradictory beliefs simultaneously).

Frightening and depressing as "1984" is, Orwell meant it not as something we must expect but what we must avoid. Orwell was warning us that unless the course of history changes, men all over the world will lose their most human qualities and become soulless automatons.

Probably no book has had more effect on the world in recent years than "1984." The term 1984 has become synonymous with all the dreadful things that could occur in the near future. Meanings of some of the book's catch-phrases, such as "Big Brother is watching you," are understood by millions of people who have never read the book. Along with the years 1976 and 2000, the year 1984, when it approaches, will probably be one of the most talked about years of the next quarter century—and all because of Orwell's book.

But I have saved for last the book that has shaped more lives than all of the above-mentioned put together. Many would say it has affected our morality more than Doctor Reuben, our children more than Doctor Spock, our politics more than George Orwell, our happiness more than Dale Carnegie or Norman Vincent Peale. I am referring, of course, to the Bible—which is still and always our Number-1 Best Seller.

Why Models Stay Young Till Sixty!

What they really do to:

—add not a single pound to their figures, even though they add five, ten, twenty or thirty candles to their birthday cakes!
—rinse so much shine into their hair that it has to be powdered down so it doesn't glare into the TV cameras!
—“pearlize” their skin, so you would never dream that they too suffered from blackheads, enlarged pores or acne!

What we are offering you, in fact, is the world's first "inside" manual on how ordinary women (with perhaps a slightly better face and a slightly better figure than yours) are transformed overnight into stunning beauties! With pounds carved painlessly off their figures! Years smoothed effortlessly off their faces!

And then—when the absolute exquisite face-figure has been created out of the raw girl who first came into the studio—this dazzling physical beauty is then “frozen” against time and weight-gain-of-even-an-ounce for ten...twenty...even forty years!

Order THE MODEL'S WAY TO BEAUTY, SLENDERNESS AND GLOWING HEALTH #80067 @ $7.98 ea. Send check or m.o. to Improvement Books, Dept. 10764, 13490 N.W. 45th Ave., Opa Locka, Fla. 33059. (N.Y. & Fla. residents add sales tax.)

No wonder so many parents, and especially mothers, have turned to "Baby and Child Care" for guidance.

DR. DAVID REUBEN

Published in 1969, Dr. Reuben's "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex but Were Afraid to Ask" is probably the most influential book of the so-called sexual revolution. A psychiatrist who draws upon the sexual experience of thousands of patients, Reuben mentions the previously unmentionable and writes in a clear, lively style that anyone can understand.

Dr. Reuben is startlingly frank about such matters as the male and female sex organs, varieties of intercourse, masturbation, impotence, birth control, prostitution, homosexuality and the sex life of the aged. In some ways the reports of Alfred C. Kinsey and the team of William H. Masters and Virginia Johnson were more "revolutionary." But it was Dr. Reuben who did the most to replace the average person's ignorance with knowledge and fear with confidence on a subject previously suppressed or distorted.

GEORGE ORWELL

George Orwell's "1984," published in 1949, is about what may be ahead: a world dominated by Big Brother, with a special language called Newspeak. In his book, a forced-labor camp is called a joycamp, dissenters vaporize when denounced by Thought Police and minds become jumbled by Doublethink (accepting contradictory beliefs simultaneously). Frightening and depressing as "1984" is, Orwell meant it not as something we must expect but what we must avoid. Orwell was warning us that unless the course of history changes, men all over the world will lose their most human qualities and become soulless automatons.

Probably no book has had more effect on the world in recent years than "1984." The term 1984 has become synonymous with all the dreadful things that could occur in the near future. Meanings of some of the book's catch-phrases, such as "Big Brother is watching you," are understood by millions of people who have never read the book. Along with the years 1976 and 2000, the year 1984, when it approaches, will probably be one of the most talked about years of the next quarter century—and all because of Orwell's book.

But I have saved for last the book that has shaped more lives than all of the above-mentioned put together. Many would say it has affected our morality more than Doctor Reuben, our children more than Doctor Spock, our politics more than George Orwell, our happiness more than Dale Carnegie or Norman Vincent Peale. I am referring, of course, to the Bible—which is still and always our Number-1 Best Seller.

Why Models Stay Young Till Sixty!

Revealed at last! By the world's most beautiful women—who make their living by being, and staying, young!

What they really do to:

—add not a single pound to their figures, even though they add five, ten, twenty or thirty candles to their birthday cakes!
—rinse so much shine into their hair that it has to be powdered down so it doesn't glare into the TV cameras!
—"pearlize" their skin, so you would never dream that they too suffered from blackheads, enlarged pores or acne!

What we are offering you, in fact, is the world's first "inside" manual on how ordinary women (with perhaps a slightly better face and a slightly better figure than yours) are transformed overnight into stunning beauties! With pounds carved painlessly off their figures! Years smoothed off perfectly off their faces!

And then—when the absolute exquisite face-figure has been created out of the raw girl who first came into the studio—this dazzling physical beauty is then "frozen" against time and weight-gain-of-even-an-ounce for ten... twenty... even forty years!

Order THE MODEL'S WAY TO BEAUTY, SLENDERNESS AND GLOWING HEALTH #8067 @ $7.98 ea. Send check or m.o. to Improvement Books, Dept. 10764, 13490 N.W. 45th Ave., Opa Locka, Fla. 33059. (N.Y. & Fla. residents add sales tax.)

Tippi And Her Melanie—

Hollywood Has A New Mother-Daughter Act

Ellen Graham

"One day I'd had it, and I sat her down and said, 'What's going on, Melanie? Nothing has changed. I am the same person I was, we are the same family, this is your home, and you know we love you dearly. So what is this?' And that was the end of it."

By Peer Oppenheimer

Mention the name Tippi Hedren and most people will recall the petite blonde who played in Alfred Hitchcock's "The Birds," "Marnie," and in Charlie Chaplin's "The Countess of Hong Kong." But to members of the Elsa Wild Animal Appeal, Tippi and her husband, producer Noel Marshall, are people who believe in the cause of animals enough to maintain an animal farm at their own expense. This involves passing out 600 pounds of meat a day to 75 wild animals.

For the last two years, ever since her 18-year-old daughter launched out on a very promising movie career of her own ("Night Moves," "The Drowning Pool," "Smile"), Tippi has been enjoying new fame as Melanie Griffith's mother. I talked with Tippi in her unpretentious, split-level home overlooking the San Fernando Valley, full of furniture that showed the teeth marks of—lions! FAMILY WEEKLY: Are you keeping wild animals here?

TIPPI: Oh, yes. Lions and tigers. It's very important to have the animals with you the first few months so that they learn to love and respect human beings. I feed them from the bottle and cuddle them, and they love it. Lions are especially demonstrative. When we go out to the farm, they come up and hug Noel and tell him all their troubles. It's really something to watch because a male lion can weigh about 500 pounds.

FW: They're defanged and declawed, I hope!

TIPPI: Oh, no. They've never attempted to use their claws on us. I did get bitten Tiny Tablet with 4 Fat-Fighting Ingredients Lets You ENJOY LOSING UP TO 12 POUNDS OF UGLY FAT IN 14 DAYS.

AMAZING TABLET does it's work, while you eat, sleep and have fun!

Ingredient 1 — Keeps You from being "Hungry as a wolf" before meals.

Ingredient 3 — Gives that contented, comfortable feeling between meals, to discourage "nibbling".

Ingredient 2 — Calms down your taste-buds during meals . . . so you enjoy meals . . . without rushing or stuffing yourself.

Energy Ingredients 4 — Helps keep your energy up so you enjoy life more as pounds and inches go!

What a wonderful world we live in! Folks who are tense are able to take tablets for a more enjoyable night's sleep. The "pill" is available for more enjoyable family life. Now overweight men and women can actually enjoy losing pounds and inches of ugly fat. Thanks to a tiny tablet containing 4 proven medically-recognized ingredients, reducing is no longer a drag. Eat what you feel like eating. Eat when you feel like eating. What could be simpler? Taken as directed, this tiny tablet does the work while you enjoy seeing up to 12 pounds of ugly fat slip away in as little as 14 days.

EAT 3 DELICIOUS MEALS, YET LOSE ALMOST A POUND A DAY

Tell someone you are "dieting" and they automatically feel sorry because they equate "dieting" with "stop eating". That is not so. Food is meant to be eaten. It should be enjoyed, relished! When you sit down to eat, look forward to lip-smacking foods you enjoy! Not just once in a while, but 3 TIMES A DAY! The "water-cress sandwich" concept of dieting is out! What the laboratories of science have done for more enjoyable sleep has now been applied to reducing. People enjoy eating. Continue to enjoy eating . . . with one small difference . . . while you enjoy your meals, let this tiny fat-fighting tablet with its four proven ingredients help take off the pounds and inches you want to lose.

SO NEW, NOT YET AVAILABLE AT DRUG STORES

Every drugstore has dozens of old-fashioned reducers . . . chances are you have already tried one or more . . . and you are still overweight. This new combination of fat-fighting proven ingredients has hit the jackpot! Because it is so new, you won't find it in drug stores for months to come (by which time you'll be slim while others are still waiting). If you do nothing more than take these amazing tablets as directed you will lose weight! Yes, your present weight will go down, down, down. Inches of fat will disappear from your waist-line, arms, legs, thighs. Your face will lose that bloated look. Your clothes will fit better. If you want to lose weight even faster, a little simple planning can help to accelerate the weight loss even more.

COSTS YOU NOTHING TO TRY! LOSE WEIGHT OR MONEY BACK

Don't take my word for it. See for yourself. All the advances of modern medicine are of no avail until put to use. The finest formulas in the world are of no value on a shelf. They were created to benefit mankind. If you are overweight and don't want to be overweight . . . mail the coupon. Enjoy life while you reduce, and most certainly, after you reduce. Unless you are completely satisfied in every way, you have the right to return the unused tablets for purchase price refund.

on the back of my head once, and Noel's hand was bitten very badly recently. But the animals were only playing. They had no intention of hurting us. They're just so big.

FW: How did you get so involved with raising lions and tigers?

TIPPI: Noel and I decided to make a lion movie when we were in Africa, but using other people's lions got so complicated we decided to raise our own—and tigers! Our cheetah, Pharaoh, just died. She was gorgeous! We even have an elephant—a two-and-a-half-year-old African bull. He's still a kid.

FW: Does Melanie share your enthusiasm for animals?

TIPPI: Oh, yes. She raises little lions for us.

FW: Do you think she will want to settle down and get married?

TIPPI: I hope not. Not for a long time, at least. She and Donny [actor Don Johnson] have been "steadies" for always, but I hope they won't marry now, not while they have their careers ahead of them. They need time to explore, to travel, to go to school. When couples marry too young, they can't cope. Along comes a baby, and then when it doesn't work out, where are they?

FW: Were you young when you married the first time?

TIPPI: Yes, I was about 20. And it didn't work out.

FW: Did your divorce have any effect on Melanie?

TIPPI: Yes, it affected her, but not traumatically because she was only two and really didn't know the difference. But she did miss her father sometimes. I married Noel when Melanie was six, so she's had a father-figure most of her life.

FW: Is Melanie your only child?

TIPPI: Yes, but Noel had three boys—Joey, Johnny and Jerry. They always adored Mel-

"She has always been mature for her age. She also has a very special quality, a sensitivity that I think is unusual and amazing in one so young."

nie. Now they're all grown. Johnny and Jerry are working on the animal farm.

FW: You have accepted the fact that your daughter could handle a steady romance at a very young age.

TIPPI: I knew from the beginning that Melanie and Don loved each other. I think they have the kind of love people look for all their lives and few are lucky enough to find. I think her steady romance with Don has made her teenage life easier. There's been no promiscuity, no dating a rash of boys. She fell in love with Don when she was 14.

FW: Has Melanie always been so independent?

TIPPI: She's had a mind of her own from the time she was born, and has always been mature for her age. She also has a very special quality, a sensitivity that I think is unusual and amazing in one so young.

FW: Did you encourage her to be independent?

TIPPI: Certainly. I felt if she didn't hurt herself, let her be independent. It allowed her to mature faster. I wanted all of the children to have a sense of independence, to know how to take care of themselves. One year we let all the help go and the children had to take over. One day a week, each one had to do the washing, ironing, cooking and shopping. Life can be really tough if you don't know how to take care of yourself.

FW: Were you independent as a child?

TIPPI: Far from it! If my mother left me, I was in tears! I was always small (Tippi is 5-foot-4 and Melanie is 5-foot-8), so maybe that had something to do with it. But then one day, I was suddenly okay. I remember I was asked to represent my high school as a model in a department store on Saturdays. I was about 13, I guess. I wanted to do it, so I just went off and did it, and loved it. Then when I was about 20,

NO RIGID DIETING....NO COMPLICATED EXERCISES
This ingenious '5' Minute Body Shaper Plan, designed for busy people like you, has you starting to lose inches and pounds immediately...in the privacy of your own home. It's Safe...Medically Approved...and Guaranteed! Here are 6 reasons why this plan works fast to start you looking years slimmer...in 14 days!

1. It concentrates its slimming action on your fatty areas, waist, hips, upper thighs, that give you an aging look. Because it works most of your muscles gracefully at one time — not body part by body part — the Plan stimulates faster slimming action, to help you start fashioning a more youthful-looking figure in 14 days.
2. Simple to use. No disrobing. Attach it to any door knob, stretch out comfortably on the floor. Do one '5' Minute continuous, rhythmic, enjoyable exercise twice daily, whenever you have the time, even while watching TV.
3. Designed to slim fatty problem areas. Choose from 4 different '5' Minute exercises, each created to help slim down the problem fatty deposit areas of your figure in 14 days.
4. No Rigid Dieting. We suggest you temporarily eat 20% less until you reach your normal weight, without giving up any of the foods you love — eat Ice Cream, Pasta, whatever! (It's all in the guide.)
5. Safer and saves time. No more running to gyms for complicated, exhausting workouts that can strain you. This simple '5' Minute Plan, that you do at home, leaves you refreshed.
6. Weighs only 10 ounces. Fits any wallet-size case. Stores anywhere. Travels with you so you never have to miss a slimming session. Remember, it's the daily sessions that firm, shape, and fashion you a more youthful-looking figure.

IT'S FUN WITH FAST RESULTS... "5" MINUTES & OUT.

THE SECRET WHY IT BEATS FASTING ALONE, MAKING YOUR FIGURE LOOK YEARS YOUNGER.

Fasting programs, when causing weight loss, unlike our plan usually burn off more active tissue (muscles) which can cause your skin to wrinkle, muscles to sag, and create dragging fatigue. Our Plan increases active tissue growth — through the use of the '5' Minute exerciser — while concentrating greater fat loss (by exercise and temporary 20% food reduction), making you look years younger as you slim. Within the first '5' minutes you use the exerciser, you start burning up fat, speeding up your metabolism to help burn up stored calories, releasing excess water. Helps curb your appetite without suppressants. Increases energy and well-being. It's so simple and enjoyable a plan to follow, we guarantee you can stay with it, remaining slim without regaining those inches and pounds. It can put an end to your 'weight-loss-and-gain-cycles'.

"YOU WILL LOSE INCHES AND POUNDS, IMPROVE YOUR VITALITY, ENERGY, FITNESS, POSTURE, WORK OFF BODY TENSIONS, FEEL AND LOOK BETTER AND YOUNGER — ALL TO YOUR SATISFACTION WITHIN 14 DAYS, IF YOU FOLLOW OUR INSTRUCTIONS—OR YOUR $9.98 WILL BE REFUNDED."

EXPERTS AND CUSTOMERS AGREE:
It's the no-nonsense way to shape up fast!

Scientific reports and many of our 600,000 customers inform us that sauna wraps, inflated belts, weighted belts, and other 'effortless exercisers' are of little or no value in firming, shaping, and beautifying your figure. "YOU MUST WORK OFF THE INCHES," experts say. We believe, and results prove, ours is the simplest, safest, most enjoyable plan to do it. We guarantee it. Here's a sampling of what our slimming customers tell us has happened to them while using the Plan.

They were measured by experts before and after 14 days. The results verified, some notarized. The results may vary, depending on how overweight you are and how much time you devote to the exerciser. The customers quoted spent 5 to 10 minutes twice daily and reduced their food intake—temporarily—by about 20%, but none gave up the foods they love.

DO IT NOW! It's America's most successful figure shaper. 600,000 customers have purchased our '5' Minute Plan to slim down fast. Results are proven and some notarized. Our guarantee to you is in writing. Experts agree our plan works — and works fast. Now, can you think of any reason for not ordering your '5' Minute Body Shaper Plan and start slimming down today?

on the back of my head once, and Noel's hand was bitten very badly recently. But the animals were only playing. They had no intention of hurting us. They're just so big.

FW: How did you get so involved with raising lions and tigers?

TIPPI: Noel and I decided to make a lion movie when we were in Africa, but using other people's lions got so complicated we decided to raise our own—and tigers! Our cheetah, Pharaoh, just died. She was gorgeous! We even have an elephant—a two-and-a-half-year-old African bull. He's still a kid.

FW: Does Melanie share your enthusiasm for animals?

TIPPI: Oh, yes. She raises little lions for us.

FW: Do you think she will want to settle down and get married?

TIPPI: I hope not. Not for a long time, at least. She and Donny [actor Don Johnson] have been "steadies" for always, but I hope they won't marry now, not while they have their careers ahead of them. They need time to explore, to travel, to go to school. When couples marry too young, they can't cope. Along comes a baby, and then when it doesn't work out, where are they?

FW: Were you young when you married the first time?

TIPPI: Yes, I was about 20. And it didn't work out.

FW: Did your divorce have any effect on Melanie?

TIPPI: Yes, it affected her, but not traumatically because she was only two and really didn't know the difference. But she did miss her father sometimes. I married Noel when Melanie was six, so she's had a father-figure most of her life.

FW: Is Melanie your only child?

TIPPI: Yes, but Noel had three boys—Joey, Johnny and Jerry. They always adored Mel-

"She has always been mature for her age. She also has a very special quality, a sensitivity that I think is unusual and amazing in one so young."

nie. Now they're all grown. Johnny and Jerry are working on the animal farm.

FW: You have accepted the fact that your daughter could handle a steady romance at a very young age.

TIPPI: I knew from the beginning that Melanie and Don loved each other. I think they have the kind of love people look for all their lives and few are lucky enough to find. I think her steady romance with Don has made her teenage life easier. There's been no promiscuity, no dating, a rash of boys. She fell in love with Don when she was 14.

FW: Has Melanie always been so independent?

TIPPI: She's had a mind of her own from the time she was born, and has always been mature for her age. She also has a very special quality, a sensitivity that I think is unusual and amazing in one so young.

FW: Did you encourage her to be independent?

TIPPI: Certainly. I felt if she didn't hurt herself, let her be independent. It allowed her to mature faster. I wanted all of the children to have a sense of independence, to know how to take care of themselves. One year we let all the help go and the children had to take over. One day a week, each one had to do the washing, ironing, cooking and shopping. Life can be really tough if you don't know how to take care of yourself.

FW: Were you independent as a child?

TIPPI: Far from it! If my mother left me, I was in tears! I was always small (Tippi is 5-feet-4 and Melanie is 5-feet-8), so maybe that had something to do with it. But then one day, I was suddenly okay. I remember I was asked to represent my high school as a model in a department store on Saturdays. I was about 13, I guess. I wanted to do it, so I just went off and did it, and loved it. Then when I was about 20,

For lazy people only!

HOW TO SAY GOODBYE TO YOUR MIDDLE-AGED BODY!

And to your middle-aged face! In as little as two "lazy" exercise periods a week!

Guaranteed To Give You:

- A rock-hard abdomen in just a few weeks!
- If you're a man: arms, hands and shoulders that make you look like Atlas!
- If you're a woman, a more alluring bustline in just 18 seconds a day!
- A 20 per cent increase in metabolism (your ability to turn food into fuel, and not fat), in just one afternoon!
- Weight loss of 31 pounds in a year, without going on any diet at all!
- Or an additional weight loss of 72 more pounds per year (if you want to lose that much), by going on a new kind of diet that lets you eat every single food you're eating today!

And This Is Just The Beginning Of "The Lazy Man's (And Lazy Woman's) Guide To Physical Fitness!"

Once again, the key word here is LAZY! Lazy! Lazy! Lazy! For this is a "total fitness program" about which its doctor-designer says, "I don't want you to exercise every day!" And he goes on to say: "My program allows you to forget about exercising on those days you don't feel like it!" And then he adds: "It outlines the minimum effort you must make to get in shape... easily performed... that benefits you most with least effort!" And finally: "Above all, don't think of exercise as a 'forever' routine or ritual!" "As long as you don't extend your non-exercise periods beyond three days, you remain within the 'circle of conditioning'!"

And Who Promises This To You? No One Less Than The Former Chairman Of The American Medical Association Committee On Exercise And Physical Fitness!

A practicing physician for over thirty years! Now serving as director of the Physical Fitness Laboratory at the University of Nebraska! A member of the board of the American College of Sports Medicine!

And this, again, in his own words, is what he promises you: "A rock-hard abdomen in the course of a few weeks!" "Several years ago, in an experiment, some university students doubled their daily food intake from 3,000 to 6,000 calories a day, and did not gain weight!" "But just think of it... you could lose 31 pounds a year!" (Without cutting out a single calorie — see page 46.) "Americans as a rule... become progressively less flexible as they age, until their range of motion at all joints is severely restricted. They pay for this in backaches, stiff necks, inability to stoop... and

He currently practices as an emergency physician at Bryan Memorial Hospital in Lincoln, Nebraska and is a member of the board of the American College of Sports Medicine.

JACK DIES MARTIN, co-author, is a seasoned journalist and science writer. He is a former staff member of the Journal of the American Medical Association and is currently midwest editor for Medical Economics magazine.

IF YOU DO NOTHING ELSE, READ THIS:

These are the ugly facts that inspired this "Lazy" way to physical fitness, and to "Weak-Willed" fat loss of up to 100 or more pounds a year:

- 1) Research indicates that the average American has a middle-aged body by 26! (Yes, 26 years of age!) By then, he or she has lost 40 per cent of the circulation he had at 17! And by the time they reach 35, up to 60 per cent has been lost!
 - 2) During the last 30 years, the rate of death from coronary heart disease in men has skyrocketed by 2,000 per cent!
 - 3) In fact, things are now becoming so bad that one scientist found that the sons of his old patients are developing evidence of coronary heart disease 13 years earlier than their fathers did!
- Why not get rid of that middle-aged, sickness-prone body — THE LAZY WAY — today? Read the full facts on this page!

even to tie their shoes without groaning. One simple exercise, although not a panacea... will keep you flexible!"

(For men) "This exercise will develop your arms, hands and shoulders so that within a few months, you will look like Atlas!" "...even improves our ability to think!"

(About the special 'weak-willed' diet described on page 112) "A person doesn't have to give up any special food... (but) in the long haul, over a four-week month, you should knock off 21,000 calories, or six pounds!"

(And it's vital to note that this six-pound diet weight-loss per month is in addition to the 31-pound-per-year weight loss — without any diet whatsoever — mentioned on page 46! Put them together, if you wish, and get the body of your dreams!)

Plus All This — Still The "Lazy" Way:

The "extremely valuable conditioner", that takes just 120 seconds! Two ingenious little exercises that: discourage facial wrinkles... are "a marvelous conditioner" for sagging cheeks... pour vital blood into drying-out tissues... and "help compensate for the forehead wrinkling tendency we all have! (And yet they're so simple and so effortless that your hands never even touch your face!)"

Why keeping yourself in top condition is so easy now that you can do it while watching your favorite TV program! With "no interruption of enjoyment at all!"

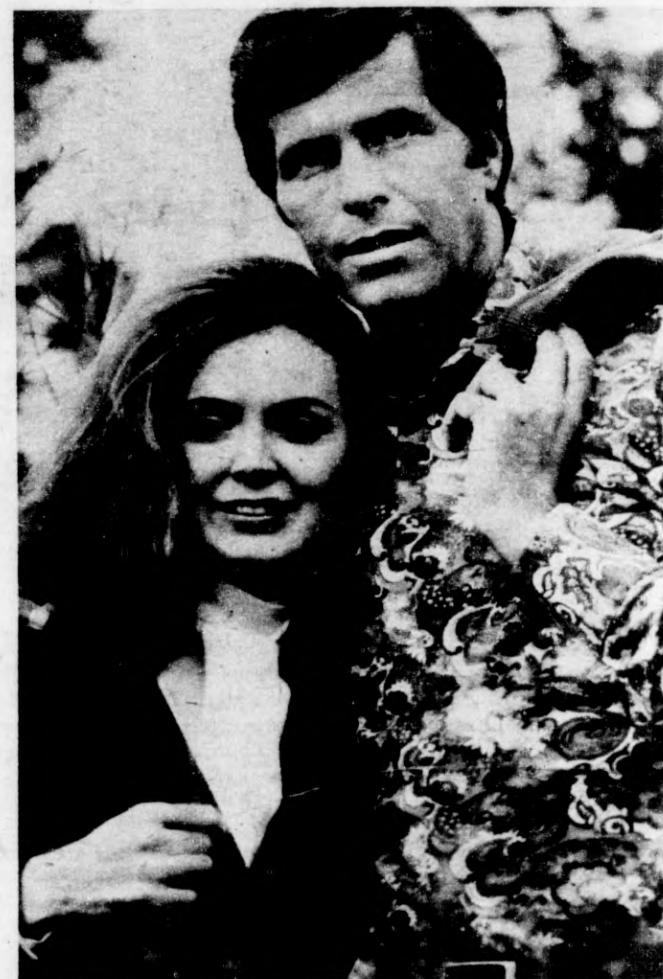

For ladies with too small breasts: Before you get in bed each night, give just 6 seconds... then 6 seconds more... and then perhaps just 6 seconds more! And wait till you see what happens!

Again — fat-burning made easy! Proven by the American Heart Association: a 20 per cent increase in the ability to burn everything you eat — that lasts as long as twenty four hours, every time you turn it on!

But Above All, At The Very Heart: A Delightful Way To Stay In Shape (And You Can Get There Far Faster Than You've Ever Dreamed) By Exercising Only Twice A Week!

"My exercise plan is aimed", says Dr. Rose, "at the average man and woman who have no access to expensive facilities, nor much time and opportunity for exercise!"

"People simply hate strenuous exercise and dieting... Who wants to get up every morning, or drag in after a hard day's work, or go through boring and tiring calisthenics? 'I have other things to do', you protest!"

"I know you do. But I also know you want to be in better physical shape. And putting these two things together, I and my collaborator put together this book, to try to make physical fitness as painless as possible!"

Prove Every Word Without Risking A Penny!

Who in the world wants to continue to hide from life behind a pot belly, a big behind, or a sunken chest?

Is it worth a few "lazy" hours of your time to prove — once and for all — that this doesn't have to happen to you, ever again!

This book can do it for you — again, once and for all! Read it from cover to cover, entirely at our risk!

NO RIGID DIETING...NO COMPLICATED EXERCISES
This ingenious '5' Minute Body Shaper Plan, designed for busy people like you, has you starting to lose inches and pounds immediately...in the privacy of your own home. It's Safe...Medically Approved...and Guaranteed! Here are 6 reasons why this plan works fast to start you looking years slimmer...in 14 days!

1. It concentrates its slimming action on your fatty areas, waist, hips, upper thighs, that give you an aging look. Because it works most of your muscles gracefully all at one time -- not body part by body part -- the Plan stimulates faster slimming action, to help you start fashioning a more youthful-looking figure in 14 days.
2. Simple to use. No disrobing. Attach it to any door knob, stretch out comfortably on the floor. Do one '5' Minute continuous, rhythmic, enjoyable exercise twice daily, whenever you have the time, even while watching TV.
3. Designed to slim fatty problem areas. Choose from 4 different '5' Minute exercises, each created to help slim down the problem fatty deposit areas of your figure in 14 days.
4. No Rigid Dieting. We suggest you temporarily eat 20% less until you reach your normal weight, without giving up any of the foods you love -- eat Ice Cream, Pasta, whatever! (It's all in the guide.)
5. Safer and saves time. No more running to gyms for complicated, exhausting workouts that can strain you. This simple '5' Minute Plan, that you do at home, leaves you refreshed.
6. Weighs only 10 ounces. Fits any wallet-size case. Stores anywhere. Travels with you so you never have to miss a slimming session. Remember, it's the daily sessions that firm, shape, and fashion you a more youthful-looking figure.

IT'S FUN WITH FAST RESULTS...5 MINUTES & OUT.

THE SECRET WHY IT BEATS FASTING ALONE, MAKING YOUR FIGURE LOOK YEARS YOUNGER.

Fasting programs, when causing weight loss, unlike our plan usually burn off more active tissue (muscles) which can cause your skin to wrinkle, muscles to sag, and create dragging fatigue. Our Plan increases active tissue growth -- through the use of the '5' Minute exerciser -- while concentrating greater fat loss. (by exercise and temporary 20% food reduction), making you look years younger as you slim. Within the first '5' minutes you use the exerciser, you start burning off fat, speeding up your metabolism to help burn up stored calories, releasing excess water. Helps curb your appetite without suppressants. Increases energy and well-being. It's so simple and enjoyable a plan to follow, we guarantee you can stay with it, remaining slim without regaining those inches and pounds. It can put an end to your weight-loss-and-gain-cycles.

"YOU WILL LOSE INCHES AND POUNDS, IMPROVE YOUR VITALITY, ENERGY, FITNESS, POSTURE, WORK OFF BODY TENSIONS, FEEL AND LOOK BETTER AND YOUNGER -- ALL TO YOUR SATISFACTION WITHIN 14 DAYS, IF YOU FOLLOW OUR INSTRUCTIONS--OR YOUR $9.99 WILL BE REFUNDED."

EXPERTS AND CUSTOMERS AGREE:

It's the no-nonsense way to shape up fast!

Scientific reports and many of our 600,000 customers inform us that spina wraps, inflated belts, weighted belts, and other "effortless exercisers" are of little or no value in firming, shaping, and beautifying your figure. "YOU MUST WORK OFF THE INCHES," experts say. We believe, and results prove, ours is the simplest, safest, most enjoyable plan to do it. We guarantee it. Here's a sampling of what our slimming customers tell us has happened to them while using the Plan.

Name	Pounds Lost	Inches Lost (off waistline)	Time
G. C.	25 lbs.	8 1/2 in.	(14 days)
M. F.	22 lbs.	6 1/2 in.	(24 days)
W. E.	18 lbs.	3 in.	(14 days)
M. B.	22 lbs.	4 in.	(21 days)
C. J.	10 lbs.	6 1/2 in.	(14 days)
P. O.	10 lbs.	5 1/2 in.	(14 days)
J. C.	10 lbs.	5 in.	(14 days)

They were measured by experts before and after 14 days. The results verified, some notarized. The results may vary, depending on how overweight you are and how much time you devote to the exerciser. The customers quoted spent 5 to 10 minutes twice daily and reduced their food intake--temporarily--by about 20%, but none gave up the foods they love.

BOOM NOW! It's America's most successful figure shaper. 600,000 customers have purchased our '5' Minute Plan to slim down fast. Results are proven and some notarized. Our guarantee to you is in writing. Experts agree our plan works -- and works fast. Now, can you think of any reason for not ordering your '5' Minute Body Shaper Plan and start slimming down today?

Tippi And Melanie

Continued

I went off alone to New York to become a model, with just enough money for one month at the Barbizon Hotel for Women. I got a job modeling right away at $15 an hour.

FW: How did Melanie get started?

TIPPI: Melanie's girl friend got her a movie audition at Warners. Then when she came home that day and told me that they wanted her to come in the next week to read for Arthur Penn, I said "Oh?!" I knew that Penn didn't have someone read for him unless he felt that person had that "something extra" and unless he was really interested. Then the following Thursday I got a call: "Mrs. Marshall, we want your daughter to start work on Monday."

FW: Is there any jealousy between the two of you?

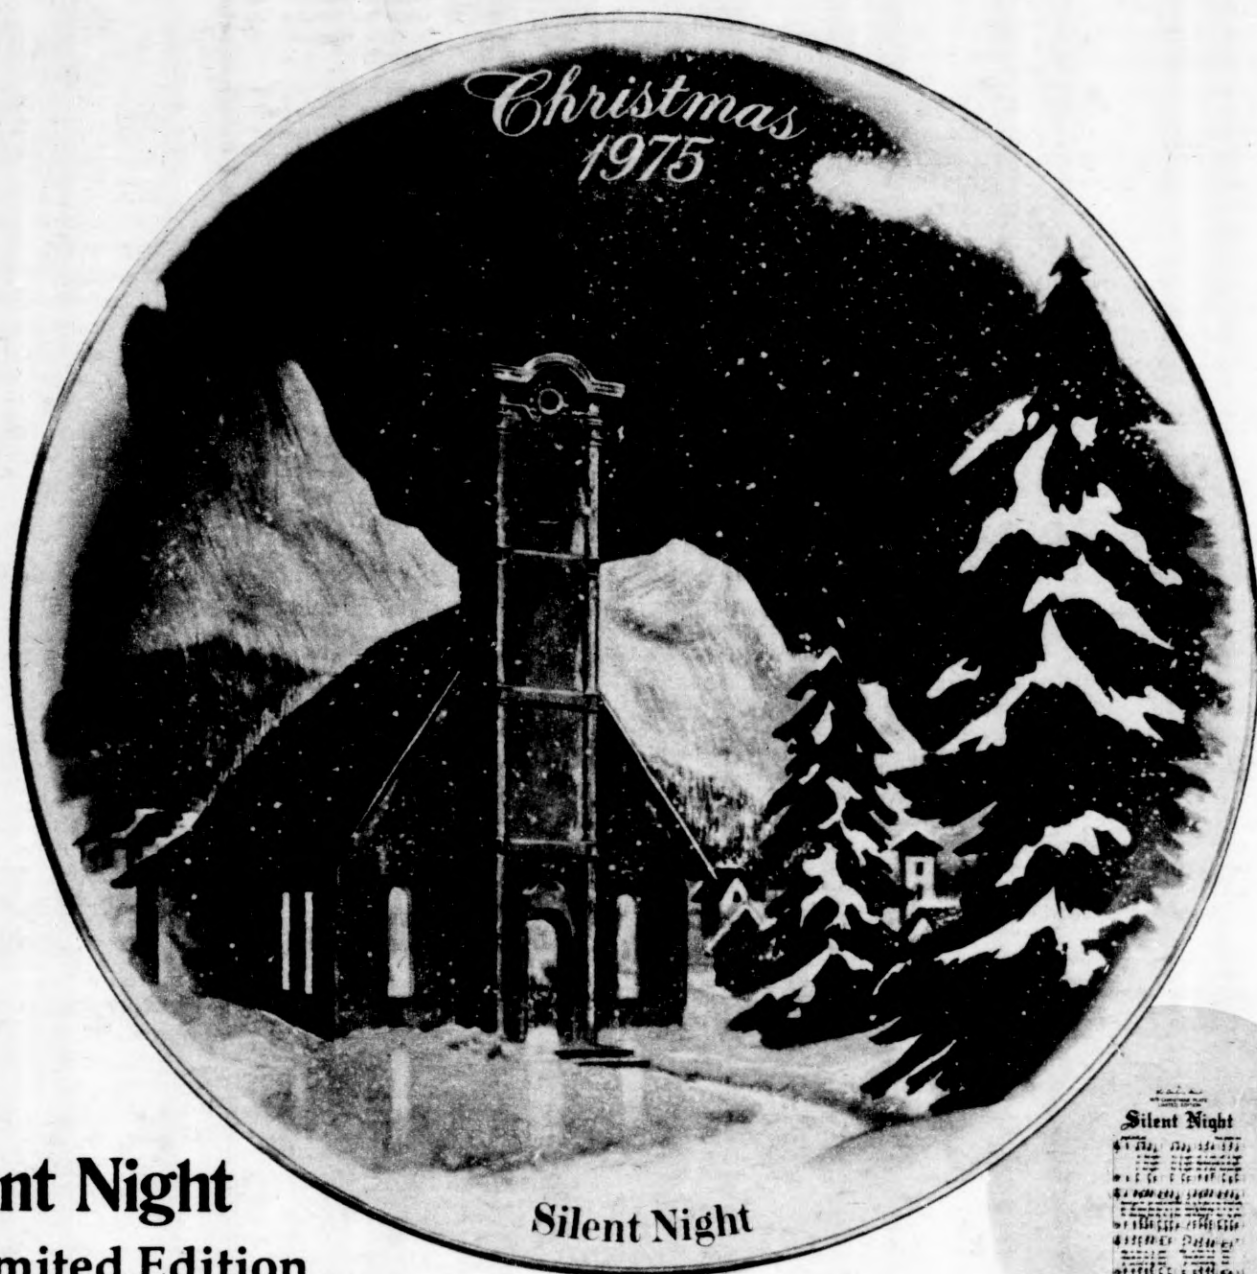

TIPPI: We have a super relationship. We are great friends as well as mother and daughter. The only difficult time was when she was about 13, and I think that was because she saw her friends acting in strange ways. Many of them were having problems at home. But one day I'd had it, and I sat her down and said, "What's going on, Melanie? Nothing has changed. I am the same person I was, we are the same family, this is your home, and you know we love you dearly. So what is this?" And that was the end of it.

FW: Have you given her any advice about her career?

TIPPI: Yes. "Listen to your director—not your mother." If she brought her script home and we talked it over, I might not agree with her director, and he's the one with the say-so. I also showed her how to take care of herself when she was very young: how to eat, exercise, take care of her skin. She's into health food and her skin has never had a blemish. I'm not worried about Melanie. She's always been an absolute joy. And she has her

Does Your Antacid Upset Your Low-Salt Diet?

The leading antacid roll tablet may be giving you more than half your daily sodium allowance. Here's what to do!

If you're worried about salt in your diet—a case of heartburn or acid indigestion can present a real problem.

You should know that just five tablets of the leading roll antacid taken during the day would exceed more than half the allowance of sodium many doctors recommend for strict low-salt diets.

That's playing it pretty close. And that's why you ought to know about a tablet that absorbs more excess acid than the leading roll brand—yet contains far less sodium. Its name is Bisodol® Tablets. (Bisodol Powder does contain sodium bicarbonate for people not concerned with low-salt diets.)

Bisodol Tablets quickly relieve that miserable heartburn and acid indigestion, and it's good to know you can take them whenever you need them—without worrying about sodium.

Remember, Bisodol Tablets... are low in sodium—high in antacid power.

"stop scratching your head - it looks horrible dear." IT'S TIME SHE SWITCHED TO ONE OF TODAY'S MOST EFFECTIVE SCALP MEDICATION INGREDIENTS FOR TOUGH DANDRUFF PROBLEMS.

If your husband can't stand watching you scratching your scalp because the itching is "all but killing" you, you may need a tough dandruff shampoo called Psorex.

Psorex is a medicated shampoo that combats the scales of simple dandruff with one of the most effective scalp medication ingredients you can get for the problem. And Psorex also helps relieve the itching that can be caused by psoriasis, eczema and mild seborrhea. Start using tough, medicated Psorex Shampoo today, and keep on using it regularly, at least once or twice a week. You'll see how Psorex helps control even the most persistent scales of simple dandruff... and helps eliminate the itching. For a free trial sample of Psorex send 25¢ to cover postage and handling to Dept. D, Box 553, Union, New Jersey 07083.

FW: How did Melanie get started?

FW: Is there any jealousy between the two of you?

FW: Have you given her any advice about her career?

TIPPI: Yes. "Listen to your director—not your mother." If she brought her script home and we talked it over, I might not agree with her director, and he's the one with the say-so. I also showed her how to take care of herself when she was very young: how to eat, exercise, take care of her skin. She's into health food and her skin has never had a blemish. I'm not worried about Melanic. She's always been an absolute joy. And she has her head on right!

Talking 'Patty Prayer' Doll

now I lay me down to sleep...

Kneels and says her bedtime prayer!

Nothing to wind up—no string to pull.
Whenever you want her to she says:

*"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep.
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take.
God bless Mommy . . . and Daddy, and make me a good girl, Amen."*

What a beautiful gift!

Just press her tummy and Patty recites the entire children's bedtime prayer in her precious childlike voice. Almost 20 inches tall, she's soft and lovable and dressed in a silken nylon nightie. Under the nightie her body and arms are cloth covered foam. Hands and head are soft washable vinyl—her beautiful lifelike hair can be combed and styled. Patty's delightful voice comes from a miniature record player in her tummy. Open the zipper on her back to turn the record over and she sings "Brother John"! Operates on a single penlight battery (included). Money back refund if you (and your favorite little girl) are not perfectly delighted.

What in the World!

Pictorial Parade

TRANSPLANT SURVIVOR Mom was the donor

Four years ago, Christopher Davidson was considered a terminal patient. Born with two unformed kidneys, Christopher's doctors believed he would not live out the year. Chris's age (then three) was against him because the doctors were wary of performing such serious surgery on one so young. Said Christopher's mother, "At first I, too, believed that Christopher wasn't going to make it. He was so weak and became ill every time he ate or drank. But somehow he kept going. He fought like crazy against all odds to survive. Finally, as a last resort, the doctors agreed to let me donate one of my kidneys, and the operation was performed. Chris's recovery was miraculous. After two years of being close to death, Chris sprang right back, and within a week of the operation he was running and playing just like any other normal child."

"BATMAN AND ROBIN" Putting the "fix" on crime

Can the U.S. beat the drug problem? Dave Greenberg is the senior half of a dynamic duo nicknamed "Batman and Robin," who are two of New York City's most celebrated Supercops. Greenberg ("Batman") and partner Bob ("Robin") Hantz told FAMILY WEEKLY their plan for getting hard drugs off the city streets: "Don't beef up the police force with more cops. If a junkie needs a fix, he's going to get it no matter how many cops are on the street. If the government simply outbid the syndicate for every ounce of heroin grown throughout the world, it would cost us only one-third of what is now thrown away trying to enforce the drug laws. Ultimately this would drive the price of heroin out of reach. If there were no profit in drugs, organized crime would quickly lose interest." The early exploits of "Batman and Robin" inspired a successful book, "The Super Cops," and a movie of the same name. Now Greenberg has written a book called "Play It to a Bust" (Hawthorn, $7.95), which describes how he and partner Hantz have worked outside the law to bring law and order to New York City.

MARVIN HAMLISCH "Me and fame"

At age 32, composer Marvin Hamlisch has won three Oscars and is a sure bet for a Tony award next spring (he wrote the music for the new Broadway hit, "A Chorus Line"). His latest compositions are the theme for CBS-TV's "Beacon Hill" and an upcoming NBC-TV special, "The Entertainer," starring Jack Lemmon. What has all this fame and success brought him? "It's funny about me and fame," Hamlisch told FAMILY WEEKLY. "I never think I'm famous. I drop dead at Sardi's when a star walks in. I saw Ingrid Bergman there recently and I was speechless. If someone walks up to me and says, 'Hey, you're Marvin Hamlisch,' that's an extra benefit, the icing on the cake. The money doesn't excite me. What do I want with a Rolls-Royce or a yacht? I still drive a '69 Oldsmobile and I just threw away my 12-year-old Timex last week. But fame has brought me other rewards." Is there anything he wants that is out of reach at this point? "I still dream about putting together an album for Barbra Streisand—she gives me goose bumps—and I've always wanted to be a sex symbol. Now, that's another kind of fame."

ARMOUR'S ARMOURY By Richard Armour

SINGSONG

Who says I cannot sing? I've power
To reach high notes at any hour,
And low notes, too, for I've the grace
To be a tenor or a bass.
Of course it's only when I sing
While in the midst of showering.
Then, thanks to resonance and all
Within my narrow shower stall,
I somehow have the means to do so
And range from Crosby to Caruso.
I mentioned high notes, did I not?
That's when I switch to Cold from Hot.

Policeman to driver going the wrong way down a one-way street: "Hey, where do you think you're going?"

Driver: "I don't know, but I must be late—everybody is coming back."

—Lucille S. Harper

The wife had suffered mosquito stings and sunburn on fishing trips, shivered on hunting expeditions, had yawned and frozen through football games, and sweltered through baseball games.

"Why can't you be like other husbands," she pleaded with her spouse, "and refuse to take me anywhere?"

—Conrad Fiorello

Candidates are wondering why so few folks contribute to political campaigns. Somebody should tell them we gave at the supermarket.

—Lillian Koslover

A friend of ours says his wife does bird imitations. She watches him like a hawk.

My three-year-old granddaughter took her afternoon nap lying on top of a ribbed bedspread. Upon awakening, she glanced in a mirror and caught sight of the imprint left by the bedspread on the side of her face. Alarmed, she ran to her mother and said, "Oh Mommy, look at the nap on my face!"

What in the World!

Pictorial Parade

TRANSPLANT SURVIVOR Mom was the donor

Four years ago, Christopher Davidson was considered a terminal patient. Born with two unformed kidneys, Christopher's doctors believed he would not live out the year. Chris's age (then three) was against him because the doctors were wary of performing such serious surgery on one so young. Said Christopher's mother, "At first I, too, believed that Christopher wasn't going to make it. He was so weak and became ill every time he ate or drank. But somehow he kept going. He fought like crazy against all odds to survive. Finally, as a last resort, the doctors agreed to let me donate one of my kidneys, and the operation was performed. Chris's recovery was miraculous. After two years of being close to death, Chris sprang right back, and within a week of the operation he was running and playing just like any other normal child."

"BATMAN AND ROBIN" Putting the "fix" on crime

Can the U.S. beat the drug problem? Dave Greenberg is the senior half of a dynamic duo nicknamed "Batman and Robin," who are two of New York City's most celebrated Supercops. Greenberg ("Batman") and partner Bob ("Robin") Hantz told FAMILY WEEKLY their plan for getting hard drugs off the city streets: "Don't beef up the police force with more cops. If a junkie needs a fix, he's going to get it no matter how many cops are on the street. If the government simply outbid the syndicate for every ounce of heroin grown throughout the world, it would cost us only one-third of what is now thrown away trying to enforce the drug laws. Ultimately this would drive the price of heroin out of reach. If there were no profit in drugs, organized crime would quickly lose interest." The early exploits of "Batman and Robin" inspired a successful book, "The Super Cops," and a movie of the same name. Now Greenberg has written a book called "Play It to a Bust" (Haythorn, $7.95), which describes how he and partner Hantz have worked outside the law to bring law and order to New York City.

MARVIN HAMLISCH "Me and fame"

At age 32, composer Marvin Hamlisch has won three Oscars and is a sure bet for a Tony award next spring (he wrote the music for the new Broadway hit, "A Chorus Line"). His latest compositions are the theme for CBS-TV's "Beacon Hill" and an upcoming NBC-TV special, "The Entertainer," starring Jack Lemmon. What has all this fame and success brought him? "It's funny about me and fame," Hamlisch told FAMILY WEEKLY. "I never think I'm famous. I drop dead at Sardi's when a star walks in. I saw Ingrid Bergman there recently and I was speechless. If someone walks up to me and says, 'Hey, you're Marvin Hamlisch,' that's an extra benefit, the icing on the cake. The money doesn't excite me. What do I want with a Rolls-Royce or a yacht? I still drive a '69 Oldsmobile and I just threw away my 12-year-old Timex last week. But fame has brought me other rewards."
